Israel-Egypt Peace Negotiations Urged By U. S. And Britain

State Dept. Warns Against 'Utter Folly' Of Mideast Conflict

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—The United States and Britain were moving with one-two diplomacy today to coax Israel and Egypt away from hostilities and into negotiations to settle their long dispute.

The State Department, taking President Eisenhower's Middle East policy declaration yesterday as its text, laid down this rule:

"We would be strongly opposed to the side which starts a war and would be very favorably disposed to the side which convinces us that it desires to maintain peace."

The department warned that war would be "utter folly."

British Offer Mediation

The spokesman who issued this statement, Lincoln White, compared a British mediation offer made last night to peace proposals put forward Aug. 26 by Secretary of State Dulles. He said there was a "close parallel."

The French, who guaranteed Middle East peace along with Britain and the United States five and a half years ago, did not appear prominently in the current picture. Indeed, French sources confided they were pretty much in the dark about present British and American diplomacy in the Middle East.

These French officials said they had no advance word in Paris or Washington of the Eisenhower statement or British Prime Minister Anthony Eden's mediation proposal last night at London's Guildhall.

Eased Tension In Past

Eden's gesture indicated quickening British interest in the extremely edgy situation. He said, for example, that Britain had achieved some success in seeking to soothe Israeli-Egyptian tensions in the past, and, "The time has now come when the acute dangers of the situation command us to try again."

However, both British and American diplomats insisted this did not mean Washington was passing the ball to London.

The State Department, meanwhile still awaited Israel's list of arms desired from the United States. The Israelis said yesterday it would be submitted within the next few days.

4 Of 5 Airmen Rescued From Stormy Pacific

HONOLULU, Nov. 10 (AP)—Four of five airmen who parachuted into stormy seas 650 miles from land were picked up last night and early today in a dramatic rescue which the Air Force termed "a miracle."

Eighteen planes and 17 ships searched calming seas east of Hawaii for the fifth airman from a stricken C119 Flying Boxcar which went down late yesterday on a flight from the mainland to Hawaii.

The Navy tender Floyds Bay, dashing 75 miles through 12-foot waves whipped by 28-mile winds, picked up two in the darkness last night and two more in the half light of dawn.

"Now that it's daylight we ought to find him (the fifth man) soon," an Air Force spokesman said.

Rescued last night about five hours after they hit the water were Lt. Kenneth E. Whitney, navigator, Broderick, Calif., and Airman 1.C. Harry W. Brinegar, flight engineer, Carleton, Neb.

Both were reported in good condition.

Then early today, nearly 12 hours after disaster overtook the Flying Boxcar, the tender rescued Lt. Donald O. Nelson, pilot, Alexandria, Minn., and Lt. David N. Hibbard, copilot, Pasadena, Calif.

The search went on for Airman 2.C. Jerry C. Caywood, radio operator, Cincinnati, Ohio.

The ill-fated plane was one of two which took off from McClellan Air Force Base, Sacramento, Calif., for Hawaii. It was a ferrying flight to Japan for the 1708th Ferrying Wing, based at Kelly AFB, San Antonio, Tex.

Crop Production Record Equalled

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP) — American farms turned out another enormous crop this year, equaling the record set in 1948, the Agriculture Department said today.

In spite of various types of controls set by Congress to hold down production in certain types of food and fiber, the nation's granaries and storage bins are full once again.

One of the reasons for the record-equalling crop was the farmer's ability to step up production per acre. The department said the yield per acre over the nation was 9 per cent above the previous record set in 1948.

The department today estimated the 1955 corn crop at 3,182,870,000 bushels. This is an increase of 2 per cent over the estimate made a month ago and is 7 per cent above the 1954 crop of 2,964,639,000 bushels.

Six Bail Out Safely Before C45 Crashes

GALAX, Va., Nov. 10 (AP) — Six men—four Air Force officers and two civilian employes of the Air Force—bailed out of their plane in a snowstorm high over the rugged Blue Ridge mountains northwest of here today and all six landed safely without injury.

The plane, a C45, crashed near the top of a snow-covered peak after developing engine trouble and forcing the six men to bail out.

Other Air Force personnel aboard were Maj. Norman R. Snyder, 1st Lt. Dale W. Parrish and 1st Lt. Lauris T. Jones.

The civilian Air Force employes were Frank H. Lafferty and Clayton S. Spear.

GETS $147,000 — Nine-year-old Roy Van Ausdale, Connersville, Ind., who lost his right arm and left hand, has won an out-of-court agreement from the New York Central Railroad to put $147,000 in trust for him. The trial, which had started, revealed that on Aug. 3, 1953, while with his father in the railroad yards at Connersville, he was struck by a train. Wheels passed over him. (AP Photofax)

Adlai Expected To Toss His Hat In Ring Tuesday

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson indicated today he plans to put his name in the pot next Tuesday for the 1956 Democratic presidential election.

Stevenson, the 1952 party standard bearer, confirmed on a stopover here that he will disclose his intentions about the nomination in a statement in Chicago Tuesday. That would be just in advance of a meeting here of the Democratic National Committee and party state chairman.

His expected announcement that he again is available as a candidate would put him officially, a year in advance of the 1956 election, into a nomination race where he already is regarded as the man out front.

Kefauver Due To Run

One of those who may try to defeat him, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, was said by friends to be ready to announce in the next two or three weeks that he also is running.

Kefauver was described as being anxious to wind up a number of congressional committee hearings and get caught up with office work before he becomes a candidate.

Apparently in line with this desire, Kefauver scheduled the start of public hearings Saturday of a Senate Judiciary subcommittee's further investigation of the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract, now canceled.

Stevenson said on his arrival here, en route to Charlottesville, for a major foreign policy speech at the University of Virginia tomorrow night, that he had no plans to see Kefauver on this visit.

Adlai Lunches With Acheson

He said, however, he expects to confer with the Tennessee senator next week in Chicago before a $100-a-plate party dinner at which both will be speakers, along with former President Truman and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, another 1956 Democratic possibility.

In advance of tomorrow night's foreign policy talk, Stevenson lunched with former Secretary of State Dean Acheson whom he described as "an old friend." Acheson and his policies were a target for Republican campaign criticism in 1952. Stevenson supported the Acheson policies.

Egypt Buys 30 Jets

Russia Sets Off Another A-Blast

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Another Russian atomic test was reported today by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The formal announcement said only:

"Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, announced that the Soviet Union has in recent days conducted a further nuclear test in their 1955 series."

The British Defense Ministry in London made a similarly terse announcement. It said: "The Soviet Union has recently conducted a further test in its 1955 series of nuclear explosions."

The word in London was that the new Russian series began just after the Geneva summit conference of the Big Four leaders in July, which was aimed at easing world tension. The United States is also proceeding with its test program.

The U.S. commission reported last Sept. 24 that the Russians had set off another nuclear explosion "indicating a continuation of their tests of nuclear weapons."

Waddies To Dedicate Site Of Cowboy "Hall Of Fame"

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 10 (AP)—Waddies from 17 Western states are gathering in Oklahoma City to begin a big roundup of cowboy memories tomorrow.

Most of the waddies are of the drugstore variety, but the roundup is the real McCoy—it is the proposed National Cowboy Hall of Fame.

Site of the cowboy shrine will be dedicated tomorrow during an afternoon of parading and palavering. There'll even be a chuck wagon feed.

Almost 5,000 persons are to throng to the Persimmon Hill site northeast of here and more than 1,000 of them will come equipped with horses.

Will Rogers Jr., son of Oklahoma's most famous cowboy of all time, will be master of ceremonies, and a retired Kansas City businessman, C. A. Reynolds, will do part of the dedicating. Reynolds originated the idea of a cowboy shrine after visiting the Will Rogers Museum at Claremore, Okla.

Oklahoma's Gov. Raymond Gary also will speak.

There'll be some 14-carat cowhands on hand, too. Heading the list of oldtimers is Charles H. Tompkins, San Antonio, Tex., and formerly of El Reno, Okla., who was an early day cowboy and trail driver in the Southwest.

Tompkins is president of the Old Trail Drivers Assn. of Texas.

Ike In Happy Mood On Eve Of Flight East

President Passes Final Examination With Flying Colors

DENVER, Nov. 10 (AP)—President Eisenhower came through an important, final medical check-up today in "satisfactory" shape and tomorrow he is off at last for Washington and a gala welcome home.

Seven weeks of hospitalization from a Sept. 24 heart attack—seven weeks of tense anxiety at first and then of encouraging, steady recovery—end for the chief executive at 8:20 a. m. MST tomorrow.

Forty minutes later Eisenhower takes off for Washington.

The chief executive and Mrs. Eisenhower were reported in a happy, exuberant mood at the prospect, even though the weatherman predicts snow flurries for tomorrow, and at thoughts of continuing on Monday to their country home at Gettysburg, Pa.

Doctors, Nurses In Gay Mood

The doctors, the nurses—all those who have cared for the President through his illness—were in a gay mood, too. For Eisenhower passed his final medical tests with indications that his healing heart continues to heal the way they hoped it would.

That, said presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty, is "very important," because of all the walking and stair climbing Eisenhower has been doing this past week.

The last bulletin the physicians will issue on the chief executive's condition said:

"The President's condition continues to be satisfactory.

Doctors Thank Press

"He enjoyed a breakfast of prunes, a half grapefruit, beef bacon, whole wheat toast, a glass of skim milk and a cup of black coffee.

"In this, the final bulletin on the President's medical examinations, the medical staff in direct attendance at Fitzsimons Army Hospital wishes to express appreciation to the press for their courteous and factual handling of the President's illness."

On the business side, the President accepted with "deepest regret" the resignation of his appointment secretary, Bernard M. Shanley, effective next Tuesday.

Northeast Flood Warning Issued

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Weather Bureau today warned of possible new floods in the Northeast, particularly parts of New York and New England.

It said moderate to heavy rains were spreading northward "and are expected to reach the southern New England coast before midnight."

The bureau added, in a special bulletin based on conditions as of 3:30 p.m. EST:

"Due to the soaked condition of the ground there is a potential flood danger for some northern sections threatened by heavy rains, particularly those sections of southeastern New York and portions of New England where streams are still running high due to the heavy October rains.

"It is still too early to give definite forecasts as to the amount of danger from flooding and therefore all concerned should be alert for later bulletins issued by the Weather Bureau giver forecast offices in their areas."

Airline Offers $25,000 For Crash Information

CHICAGO, Nov. 10 (AP)—United Air Lines today offered a $25,000 reward "for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible" for the crash of a United plane near Longmont, Colo., 10 days ago.

Forty-four persons died in the crash.

Miss Truman's Escort

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 10 (AP)—Gov. Robert B. Meyner's office said today he will escort Margaret Truman, daughter of the former President, to the Yale-Princeton football game at Princeton Saturday.

The two have been linked romantically for the past two years and Miss Truman has been a visitor at Meyner's summer home at Island Beach.

Buying Of Small Firms Put GM In Diesel Business

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Senate investigators heard today that General Motors Corp. became the world's biggest producer of diesel-electric locomotives by the 1930 purchase of two small companies which had "come to the end of the road."

The testimony came from Harold L. Hamilton, who founded the Electromotive Engineering Co., which later became GM's Electromotive Division. It now supplies three fourths of the country's diesel locomotives.

Lacked Capital

Hamilton told the Senate Antitrust subcommittee of the decision to sell his company to GM a quarter century ago:

"We no longer had an engine that could keep us in business. We knew what was needed but we didn't know how to design it and didn't have the capital to build it."

Only General Motors, "of all the companies I knew which had the resources, had the mental approach we needed," Hamilton testified.

He left no doubt in the minds of the committee—which is making a four-week "case study" of corporate bigness as exemplified by GM—that he does not consider the earth's biggest manufacturing concern a menacing aggregation of economic power.

Implications "Refuted"

At the close of his testimony, Hamilton volunteered a statement to "refute," as he said, two implications in earlier testimony that "our success was due to artificial conditions."

This referred to (1) suggestions from witnesses yesterday that GM got business from railroads because it is the biggest customer of the railroads and (2) the complaint of rival locomotive builders that the government helped GM to its dominant position by the wartime production controls. GM was protected against competition in the building of road-freight locomotives, two witnesses said, because the allocation of materials barred other companies from making that type.

FCC Votes Against TV Channel Changes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission today voted against changing, for the present at least, its allocation of both very high frequency (VHF) and ultra high frequency (UHF) television channels in the same areas.

The commission turned down 35 requests for "deintermixture" of UHF and VHF channels.

The commission also ordered a nationwide study to consider possible solutions of difficulties it said now hinder expansion of TV.

Expansion Record

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—American industry will spend a record of $33,631,000,000 on expansion of plants and equipment in 1956, McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. said today on the basis of a nationwide survey.

Cops, Denied Pay Increase, Get Even

NORTH BERGEN, N.J. Nov. 10 (AP)—Hundreds of traffic violation tickets have blossomed on autos here since voters rejected a $500 annual pay raise sought by policemen.

Police Commissioner James Nolan ordered a check of the situation when more than 300 tickets were written yesterday. The normal for a day is between 10 and 20.

Macmillan Will Fly To Mideast Security Talks

GENEVA, Nov. 10 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan of Britain will fly next week to Baghdad for five-nation talks on the defense of the Middle East, his aides reported today.

The meeting in the Iraq capital will inaugurate the Ministerial Council of the Baghdad Alliance of states along the northern tier of the Middle East—Turkey, Iraq, Iran, Pakistan and Britain.

Macmillan's attendance is intended to stress that the West is determined to back the grouping regardless of Russia's campaign of opposition.

Its formation produced an Egyptian threat to quit the Arab League and build around herself a new defense system of Arab states which look to her for leadership. Egyptian resentment paved the way for the Soviet bloc's plunge into the military affairs of the Mideast, dramatized by sale of Czech arms to Egypt.

Russia has warned neighboring Iran that her adherence to the alliance imperils Soviet-Iranian relations and breaches a 1921 treaty which allows Russian troops to occupy Iranian territory under certain circumstances.

Women Rule Council

VINE GROVE, Ky., Nov. 10 (AP)—The women will have the voting edge in future governmental affairs of this community.

Four women and two men were elected to the City Council.

Break In Prison Sitdown Strike Expected Today

LONDON, Ohio, Nov. 10 (AP)—Supt. R. B. Eckle of London prison farm said tonight convict spokesmen from striking Block 7 have indicated that a majority of the prisoners there want to return to work tomorrow. Eckle said he will give them a chance to do so.

Eckle held a brief meeting with three convict representatives from the dormitory of 233 men which were the first to go on a sitdown strike yesterday.

A spokesman for the State Division of Correction said the desire to return to work might have a similar effect on another 1,000 striking prisoners at the farm.

The men of Block 7 went on strike yesterday morning by refusing to work when they were put in the field. Officials said the convicts wanted proper credit for the number of hours worked. They get paid by the hour.

Today, another 1,000 inmates in five more dormitories joined the strikers and refused to work.

Another 500 prisoners have been working normally.

The striking convicts of Block 7 have not been fed since yesterday noon. The other 1,000 went without food today.

Eckle said Block 7 will be given breakfast tomorrow. There was no mention of whether the other strikers would be fed, too, unless they agree to return to work.

Nation Will Salute Living And Dead Of All Its Wars

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—The nation salutes the living and dead of all its wars tomorrow in the second annual observance of Veterans Day.

Solemnly, at the traditional hour of 11 a.m. EST, former President Herbert Hoover will place a wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery.

All across the country patriotic ceremonies of a similar nature will be held to honor the war dead and the citizen-soldiers who still survive.

In the nation's capital, as in some other communities, it will be a legal holiday. Schools and banks are closing here, and 225,000 federal and District of Columbia employes will have the day off.

Former President Hoover is acting for President Eisenhower at the Arlington ceremony. But the President himself will be back in Washington about 4 p.m., after seven weeks spent in a Denver hospital recovering from his heart attack.

He has already proclaimed the holiday, declaring: "It is altogether fitting that a grateful nation should set aside one day each year to pay special homage to the veterans who have fought so valiantly in all of its wars to preserve our heritage of freedom."

Eisenhower, an old soldier himself, will say a few more words to the nation when he arrives at Washington National Airport. Then he will drive to the White House between massed ranks of soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines.

Eisenhower's Disarmament Plan Assailed

Molotov Proposes 3-Stage Solution To Arms Problem

GENEVA, Nov. 10 (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov declared tonight President Eisenhower's proposal for immediate U.S.-Russian exchange of military blueprints and reciprocal air inspection "would strengthen mutual distrust."

The Russian told the Big Four conference the President had good intentions but his idea for quickly wiping out fear of surprise atomic attack would, instead, increase international tension. Molotov said the American proposal could only be considered in the final stage of world disarmament.

His negative reaction deepened the gloomy atmosphere of the conference. It meant the foreign ministers disagreed on practical approaches to disarmament. They had already failed to agree on European security and German reunification.

On the only other remaining point of their agenda—development of East-West contacts—an experts committee has made no substantial progress.

The foreign ministers will meet in private tomorrow to chart the final course of their negotiations, expected to conclude next Wednesday.

"Open Skies" Plan Rapped

Molotov criticized the Eisenhower "open skies" plan with these allegations:

1. "It does not diminish the danger of a new war and does not relieve the peoples of the heavy burden of (arms) taxation," because it is isolated from a general disarmament program.

2. It covers only U.S. territory and not U.S. bases overseas or those of America's allies.

3. It is too costly and prolonged an operation.

4. It would aggravate suspicion rather than increase confidence.

5. It provides no security for the Soviet Union, and in fact, would supply Russia's enemies the "appropriate information for a surprise attack."

Molotov added that his government would alter it's "negative attitude" if the President's proposal were made part of a general reduction of armaments and prohibition of atomic weapons. But this would have to be "at the final stage."

Molotov proposed to reach global disarmament in three stages, starting off with an immediate pledge by the Big Four powers "not to be the first to use atomic and hydrogen weapons against any country." This was Premier Nikolai Bulganin's idea at the summit conference in July.

Would Consider All Plans

Molotov said the second step should be consideration of special proposals made by each of the Big Four. These were Russia's call last May 10 for arms reduction and prohibition of atomic weapons, the Eisenhower plan, Prime Minister Eden's proposal of arms inspection and control along both sides of the Iron Curtain line, and Premier Edgar Faure's suggestion for cuts in military budgets to finance economic development in underprivileged countries.

The third step, according to Molotov, should be adoption of the Soviet plan for general disarmament. The United States, Russia and Red China would cut down to 1 to 1½ million troops each, Britain and France to 650,000 each and other powers to 200,000 or less. When 75 per cent of the agreed troop reductions had been carried out, atomic and hydrogen weapons would be completely prohibited. These weapons would be destroyed during the final 25 per cent reduction of forces.

U. S. Treasurer Gets Caught In Speed Trap

DENVER, Nov. 10 (AP)—Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, treasurer of the United States, said today she was caught in a Sunday speed trap while driving west across Nebraska.

"They stopped me and took me to the fire house where the justice of peace was all set up and waiting for his intended prey," she told a meeting of Colorado Republican Women's Clubs.

"He asked for my driver's license, studied it for a moment and asked 'Are you the lady who signs all the money?'

"I admitted I was. He turned to the others present and said, 'Well, boys, it looks like we really hit the jackpot today.'"

Mrs. Priest did not disclose the town or the amount of the fine.

He said, however, he expects to confer with the Tennessee senator next week in Chicago before a $100-a-plate party dinner at which both will be speakers, along with former President Truman and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, another 1956 Democratic possibility.

In advance of tomorrow night's foreign policy talk, Stevenson lunched with former Secretary of State Dean Acheson whom he described as "an old friend." Acheson and his policies were a target for Republican campaign criticism in 1952. Stevenson supported the Acheson policies.

Russia Sets Off Another A-Blast

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Another Russian atomic test was reported today by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The formal announcement said only:

"Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, announced that the Soviet Union has in recent days conducted a further nuclear test in their 1955 series."

The British Defense Ministry in London made a similarly terse announcement. It said: "The Soviet Union has recently conducted a further test in its 1955 series of nuclear explosions."

The word in London was that the new Russian series began just after the Geneva summit conference of the Big Four leaders in July, which was aimed at easing world tension. The United States is also proceeding with its test program.

The U.S. commission reported last Sept. 24 that the Russians had set off another nuclear explosion "indicating a continuation of their tests of nuclear weapons."

Egypt Buys 30 Jets

Waddies To Dedicate Site Of Cowboy "Hall Of Fame"

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 10 (AP)—Waddies from 17 Western states are gathering in Oklahoma City to begin a big roundup of cowboy memories tomorrow.

Most of the waddies are of the drugstore variety, but the roundup is the real McCoy—it is the proposed National Cowboy Hall of Fame.

Site of the cowboy shrine will be dedicated tomorrow during an afternoon of parading and palavering. There'll even be a chuck wagon feed.

Almost 5,000 persons are to throng to the Persimmon Hill site northeast of here and more than 1,000 of them will come equipped with horses.

Will Rogers Jr., son of Oklahoma's most famous cowboy of all time, will be master of ceremonies, and a retired Kansas City businessman, C. A. Reynolds, will do part of the dedicating. Reynolds originated the idea of a cowboy shrine after visiting the Will Rogers Museum at Claremore, Okla.

Oklahoma's Gov. Raymond Gary also will speak.

There'll be some 14-carat cowhands on hand, too. Heading the list of oldtimers is Charles H. Tompkins, San Antonio, Tex., and formerly of El Reno, Okla., who was an early day cowboy and trail driver in the Southwest.

Tompkins is president of the Old Trail Drivers Assn. of Texas.

Ike In Happy Mood On Eve Of Flight East

President Passes Final Examination With Flying Colors

DENVER, Nov. 10 (AP)—President Eisenhower came through an important, final medical check-up today in "satisfactory" shape and tomorrow he is off at last for Washington and a gala welcome home.

Seven weeks of hospitalization from a Sept. 24 heart attack—seven weeks of tense anxiety at first and then of encouraging, steady recovery—end for the chief executive at 8:20 a. m. MST tomorrow.

Forty minutes later Eisenhower takes off for Washington.

The chief executive and Mrs. Eisenhower were reported in a happy, exuberant mood at the prospect, even though the weatherman predicts snow flurries for tomorrow, and at thoughts of continuing on Monday to their country home at Gettysburg, Pa.

Doctors, Nurses In Gay Mood

The doctors, the nurses—all those who have cared for the President through his illness—were in a gay mood, too. For Eisenhower passed his final medical tests with indications that his healing heart continues to heal the way they hoped it would.

That, said presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty, is "very important," because of all the walking and stair climbing Eisenhower has been doing this past week.

The last bulletin the physicians will issue on the chief executive's condition said:

"The President's condition continues to be satisfactory.

Doctors Thank Press

"He enjoyed a breakfast of prunes, a half grapefruit, beef bacon, whole wheat toast, a glass of skim milk and a cup of black coffee.

"In this, the final bulletin on the President's medical examinations, the medical staff in direct attendance at Fitzsimons Army Hospital wishes to express appreciation to the press for their courteous and factual handling of the President's illness."

On the business side, the President accepted with "deepest regret" the resignation of his appointment secretary, Bernard M. Shanley, effective next Tuesday.

Northeast Flood Warning Issued

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Weather Bureau today warned of possible new floods in the Northeast, particularly parts of New York and New England.

It said moderate to heavy rains were spreading northward "and are expected to reach the southern New England coast before midnight."

The bureau added, in a special bulletin based on conditions as of 3:30 p.m. EST:

"Due to the soaked condition of the ground there is a potential flood danger for some northern sections threatened by heavy rains, particularly those sections of southeastern New York and portions of New England where streams are still running high due to the heavy October rains.

"It is still too early to give definite forecasts as to the amount of danger from flooding and therefore all concerned should be alert for later bulletins issued by the Weather Bureau giver forecast offices in their areas."

Airline Offers $25,000 For Crash Information

CHICAGO, Nov. 10 (AP)—United Air Lines today offered a $25,000 reward "for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible" for the crash of a United plane near Longmont, Colo., 10 days ago.

Forty-four persons died in the crash.

The reward announcement did not specify that the company suspected an explosive.

The two have been linked romantically for the past two years and Miss Truman has been a visitor at Meyner's summer home at Island Beach.

Buying Of Small Firms Put GM In Diesel Business

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Senate investigators heard today that General Motors Corp. became the world's biggest producer of diesel-electric locomotives by the 1930 purchase of two small companies which had "come to the end of the road."

The testimony came from Harold L. Hamilton, who founded the Electromotive Engineering Co., which later became GM's Electromotive Division. It now supplies three fourths of the country's diesel locomotives.

Lacked Capital

Hamilton told the Senate Antitrust subcommittee of the decision to sell his company to GM a quarter century ago:

"We no longer had an engine that could keep us in business. We knew what was needed but we didn't know how to design it and didn't have the capital to build it."

Only General Motors, "of all the companies I knew which had the resources, had the mental approach we needed," Hamilton testified.

He left no doubt in the minds of the committee—which is making a four-week "case study" of corporate bigness as exemplified by GM—that he does not consider the earth's biggest manufacturing concern a menacing aggregation of economic power.

Implications "Refuted"

At the close of his testimony, Hamilton volunteered a statement to "refute," as he said, two implications in earlier testimony that "our success was due to artificial conditions."

This referred to (1) suggestions from witnesses yesterday that GM got business from railroads because it is the biggest customer of the railroads and (2) the complaint of rival locomotive builders that the government helped GM to its dominant position by the wartime production controls. GM was protected against competition in the building of road-freight locomotives, two witnesses said, because the allocation of materials barred other companies from making that type.

FCC Votes Against TV Channel Changes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission today voted against changing, for the present at least, its allocation of both very high frequency (VHF) and ultra high frequency (UHF) television channels in the same areas.

The commission turned down 35 requests for "deintermixture" of UHF and VHF channels.

The commission also ordered a nationwide study to consider possible solutions of difficulties it said now hinder expansion of TV.

Expansion Record

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—American industry will spend a record of $33,631,000,000 on expansion of plants and equipment in 1956, McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. said today on the basis of a nationwide survey.

NORTH BERGEN, N.J. Nov. 10 (AP)—Hundreds of traffic violation tickets have blossomed on autos here since voters rejected a $500 annual pay raise sought by policemen.

Police Commissioner James Nolan ordered a check of the situation when more than 300 tickets were written yesterday. The normal for a day is between 10 and 20.

Macmillan Will Fly To Mideast Security Talks

GENEVA, Nov. 10 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan of Britain will fly next week to Baghdad for five-nation talks on the defense of the Middle East, his aides reported today.

The meeting in the Iraq capital will inaugurate the Ministerial Council of the Baghdad Alliance of states along the northern tier of the Middle East—Turkey, Iraq, Iran, Pakistan and Britain.

Macmillan's attendance is intended to stress that the West is determined to back the grouping regardless of Russia's campaign of opposition.

Its formation produced an Egyptian threat to quit the Arab League and build around herself a new defense system of Arab states which look to her for leadership. Egyptian resentment paved the way for the Soviet bloc's plunge into the military affairs of the Mideast, dramatized by sale of Czech arms to Egypt.

Russia has warned neighboring Iran that her adherence to the alliance imperils Soviet-Iranian relations and breaches a 1921 treaty which allows Russian troops to occupy Iranian territory under certain circumstances.

Break In Prison Sitdown Strike Expected Today

LONDON, Ohio, Nov. 10 (AP)—Supt. R. B. Eckle of London prison farm said tonight convict spokesmen from striking Block 7 have indicated that a majority of the prisoners there want to return to work tomorrow. Eckle said he will give them a chance to do so.

Eckle held a brief meeting with three convict representatives from the dormitory of 233 men which were the first to go on a sitdown strike yesterday.

A spokesman for the State Division of Correction said the desire to return to work might have a similar effect on another 1,000 striking prisoners at the farm.

The men of Block 7 went on strike yesterday morning by refusing to work when they were put in the field. Officials said the convicts wanted proper credit for the number of hours worked. They get paid by the hour.

Today, another 1,000 inmates in five more dormitories joined the strikers and refused to work.

Another 500 prisoners have been working normally.

The striking convicts of Block 7 have not been fed since yesterday noon. The other 1,000 went without food today.

Eckle said Block 7 will be given breakfast tomorrow. There was no mention of whether the other strikers would be fed, too, unless they agree to return to work.

Nation Will Salute Living And Dead Of All Its Wars

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—The nation salutes the living and dead of all its wars tomorrow in the second annual observance of Veterans Day.

Solemnly, at the traditional hour of 11 a.m. EST, former President Herbert Hoover will place a wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery.

All across the country patriotic ceremonies of a similar nature will be held to honor the war dead and the citizen-soldiers who still survive.

In the nation's capital, as in some other communities, it will be a legal holiday. Schools and banks are closing here, and 225,000 federal and District of Columbia employes will have the day off.

Former President Hoover is acting for President Eisenhower at the Arlington ceremony. But the President himself will be back in Washington about 4 p.m., after seven weeks spent in a Denver hospital recovering from his heart attack.

He has already proclaimed the holiday, declaring: "It is altogether fitting that a grateful nation should set aside one day each year to pay special homage to the veterans who have fought so valiantly in all of its wars to preserve our heritage of freedom."

Eisenhower, an old soldier himself, will say a few more words to the nation when he arrives at Washington National Airport. Then he will drive to the White House between massed ranks of soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines.

Eisenhower's Disarmament Plan Assailed

Molotov Proposes 3-Stage Solution To Arms Problem

GENEVA, Nov. 10 (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov declared tonight President Eisenhower's proposal for immediate U.S.-Russian exchange of military blueprints and reciprocal air inspection "would strengthen mutual distrust."

The Russian told the Big Four conference the President had good intentions but his idea for quickly wiping out fear of surprise atomic attack would, instead, increase international tension. Molotov said the American proposal could only be considered in the final stage of world disarmament.

His negative reaction deepened the gloomy atmosphere of the conference. It meant the foreign ministers disagreed on practical approaches to disarmament. They had already failed to agree on European security and German reunification.

On the only other remaining point of their agenda—development of East-West contacts—an experts committee has made no substantial progress.

The foreign ministers will meet in private tomorrow to chart the final course of their negotiations, expected to conclude next Wednesday.

"Open Skies" Plan Rapped

Molotov criticized the Eisenhower "open skies" plan with these allegations:

1. "It does not diminish the danger of a new war and does not relieve the peoples of the heavy burden of (arms) taxation," because it is isolated from a general disarmament program.

2. It covers only U.S. territory and not U.S. bases overseas or those of America's allies.

3. It is too costly and prolonged an operation.

4. It would aggravate suspicion rather than increase confidence.

5. It provides no security for the Soviet Union, and in fact, would supply Russia's enemies the "appropriate information for a surprise attack."

Molotov added that his government would alter it's "negative attitude" if the President's proposal were made part of a general reduction of armaments and prohibition of atomic weapons. But this would have to be "at the final stage."

Molotov proposed to reach global disarmament in three stages, starting off with an immediate pledge by the Big Four powers "not to be the first to use atomic and hydrogen weapons against any country." This was Premier Nikolai Bulganin's idea at the summit conference in July.

Would Consider All Plans

Molotov said the second step should be consideration of special proposals made by each of the Big Four. These were Russia's call last May 10 for arms reduction and prohibition of atomic weapons, the Eisenhower plan, Prime Minister Eden's proposal of arms inspection and control along both sides of the Iron Curtain line, and Premier Edgar Faure's suggestion for cuts in military budgets to finance economic development in underprivileged countries.

The third step, according to Molotov, should be adoption of the Soviet plan for general disarmament. The United States, Russia and Red China would cut down to 1 to 1½ million troops each, Britain and France to 650,000 each and other powers to 200,000 or less. When 75 per cent of the agreed troop reductions had been carried out, atomic and hydrogen weapons would be completely prohibited. These weapons would be destroyed during the final 25 per cent reduction of forces.

U. S. Treasurer Gets Caught In Speed Trap

DENVER, Nov. 10 (AP)—Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, treasurer of the United States, said today she was caught in a Sunday speed trap while driving west across Nebraska.

"They stopped me and took me to the fire house where the justice of peace was all set up and waiting for his intended prey," she told a meeting of Colorado Republican Women's Clubs.

"He asked for my driver's license, studied it for a moment and asked 'Are you the lady who signs all the money?'

"I admitted I was. He turned to the others present and said, 'Well, boys, it looks like we really hit the jackpot today.'"

Mrs. Priest did not disclose the town or the amount of the fine.

Legislation Needed To Eliminate News Curbs, Prober Says

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Rep. Moss (D-Calif) said today a House inquiry into government news policies shows "a clear need for new legislation" to break down barriers to the free flow of information.

Winding up four days of hearings by a House Government Operations subcommittee which he heads, Moss said it is "evident that non-security information has been withheld from the public which should not have been withheld."

"The flow of information to the American public and to the Congress is a matter of the utmost significance under our form of government," he continued. "I think all will agree also that the federal government should be brought closer to the people.

"This will require a breaking down of many existing barriers to the free circulation of facts, opinions and ideas."

Moss said some of the agency regulations on information which his subcommittee has explored are over-restrictive and contrary to general policy statements of the agencies themselves.

In some agencies, he said, "virtually unlimited discretion of questionable legal status is passed down departmental hierarchies to subordinates" and in others there are "exaggerated claims of authority to withhold information based on 'inherent' powers stemming from the presidency."

Before recessing the hearings until January, the subcommittee questioned Agriculture Department officials about several complaints that it has withheld information which should have been made public promptly.

Undersecretary True D. Morse and other department officials conceded that the department blundered twice by delaying public announcements on changes in interest rates on home loans and storred commodities.

They said an oversight was responsible in each case and that the omission of any immediate announcement was contrary to overall department policy.

The department promised also to take steps to correct what a veteran newsman termed its "notoriously dilatory" practice in reporting on policy advice it gets from farm industry groups.

West Va. Phone Talks Recessed

CHARLESTON, W. Va, Nov. 10 (AP)—Contract talks between Chesapeake and Potomac Telphone Co. and the CIO Communications Workers of America were recessed again today until next Monday at 2 p.m.

"The talks were deadlocked again," Federal Mediator Joseph Wright of Charleston said, "and we felt it would be better to break them off until Monday."

From C. and P. came a statement that the union had rejected a company wage offer which, "in the over-all," met and in some brackets exceeded the union's "stated wage demands."

The management-union contract covering 4,057 C. and P. employes expired at midnight last night. The union members are scattered through nine locals in all parts of the state except the Martinsburg and Bluefield areas.

Sharett Says:

Israel Would Accept Red Arms If Survival At Stake

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett said today his country would accept arms from any source if her survival were at stake.

Asked if the Soviet Union had offered to supply arms, Sharett told a news conference:

"I know of no offer from that side."

Czechoslovakia, a Moscow satellite, recently agreed to supply arms to Egypt, engaged in border warfare with Israel.

Sharett, here to seek U.S. arms for what he called Israel's legitimate self-defense said:

"If driven to a tight corner and our existence is at stake we will seek and accept arms from any source in the world."

Sharett arrived today from Israel. He will make a two-week tour in behalf of Israel development bonds and the United Jewish Appeal.

He said at Idlewild airport he was "disconcerted" at a territorial reference in British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden's offer of his services to help resolve Israel-Arab differences.

"I was disconcerted by the reference to the need of a compromise," he said.

He added that "Israel is under no moral or political compulsion to concede any territorial sovereignty."

Expanding on that point in his news conference at the Savoy Plaza Hotel, Sharett said Israel would welcome mediation but not at the price of terrjtorial concessions.

Father Arrested In Death Of Baby

TOWSON, Md., Nov. 10 (AP)—Richard P. Heffron, 19-year-old aircraft worker, was arrested and charged with manslaughter today after the body of his new-born son was found on a junk pile.

Dr. Paul Guerin said an autopsy showed the baby died of "neglect" shortly after birth. He said the baby apparently was alive when it was abandoned.

The body was found wrapped in eight face towels and several washcloths. Det. Sgt. Lewis Eminizer said one of the towels bore a laundry mark showing the name "Heffron."

16 Prison Hunger Strikers End Fast

BOSTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Sixteen hunger striking State Prison convicts—three of whom figured in a hostage-holding rebellion last January—quit a two-day fast today.

One gave up at noon and ate lunch. The others voted later in the afternoon to quit their fast.

Corrections Commissioner Russel G. Oswald, who came here recently from Wisconsin, said the men got the regular prison supper tonight.

Demos See Farm Income As Top '56 Election Issue

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler said today a national poll of Democratic leaders shows a big majority believe falling farm income will be the greatest issue in the 1956 election campaign.

Butler sent to party leaders who took part in the poll an advance copy of a Democratic Digest article on the voting. He called on the leaders to start now to develop the issues by every means at their disposal.

The article says more than 1,600 leaders from county chairmen to former President Truman responded to a Butler questionnaire. On the basis of their ballots, falling farm prices (with 1,279 votes) "clearly ran ahead of all the other issues."

"But tax favoritism for the rich (second with 1,059) and public power giveaways (third with 977) are not far behind," the article said, adding seven other "leading issues" were ranked this way:

"Favoritism for big business" (965 votes), "misconduct in government" (925), "rising cost of living" (809), "small business failures" (599), "GOP antilabor policy" (593), "inadequate schools" (548), and "growth of monopolies" (468).

The questionnaire contained a list of 30 subjects the article said that "aroused controversy during the Eisenhower administration." Leaders were asked to check off 10 they regarded the most important.

Hubby Will Support His Wife's Four Cats

CHICAGO, Nov. 10 (AP)—James Lauritsen, 39, today agreed to pay $5 a week to support his estranged wife's four cats.

"The cats are all I have to keep me warm on cold fall nights," Mrs. Eleanor Lauritsen, 39, told Superior Judge Harry G. Hershenson. She has filed for divorce.

She said that if her husband helped pay for the cats' upkeep it certainly would improve chances of a reconciliation.

Md. Employment Record Broken

829,300 At Work During September

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10 (AP)—Employment in Maryland set an all-time record at the middle of September, the State Department of Employment Security reported today.

It estimated 829,300 at work on non-farm jobs then.

The figure includes part-time jobs, but it does not include proprietors, self-employed, domestic servants, and the many thousands in the armed forces stationed in Maryland.

The 829,300 on the job represented an increase of 8,900 over mid-August and a gain of 32,100 over the corresponding period in 1954.

The most spectacular gain, in a comparison of mid-September with a year earlier, was the 68 per cent gain in the number employed in shipyards.

On bare numbers, the greatest expansions were the 6,200 additional jobs on contract construction projects, 5,100 in the various branches of trade and the 4,000 increase in State and local government. Much of the latter figure was attributable to the great increases in school population, requiring more teachers and school maintenance personnel.

Federal employment, a big Maryland industry, showed a gain of 1,200 jobs for the year, although the figure was down 300 from the previous month.

All the non-manufacturing industries showed increased employment from 1954 to 1955—a total gain of 22,000 jobs.

Another bright spot in this category, besides employment on construction jobs, in trade, and in government service, was the addition of 1,400 jobs on interstate railroads—a gain of 6.8 per cent.

Employment in the manufacture of non-durable goods sloughed off by 2,600 jobs in the comparison between September of 1954 and September of 1955, with the losses showing up sharpest in food processing and the chemical industry. But employment in textile mills jumped and there were solid gains in the manufacture of paper and allied products and in printing and publishing.

In the manufacture of durable goods, a gain of 5,200 jobs in the primary metals industry was a big factor in a total gain of 12,700 jobs.

There was a big gain percentage-wise in the production of stone, clay and glass. The big improvement in the ship building industry was the main factor in the addition of 9,000 jobs in the manufacture of transportation equipment.

The department estimated there were 34,700 unemployed in Maryland at mid-September, representing only 3.4 per cent of the total labor force.

A year earlier there were 53,300 unemployed—11.3 per cent.

Average hourly earnings in factories climbed to $1.85 in September and in a year average weekly earnings had increased from $68.28 to $76.67.

Baltimore Firm Low Bidder On Tunnel Job

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10 (AP)—C. J. Langenfelder and Sons, Inc., of Baltimore today submitted the apparent low bid of $5,532,333 for building a short but intricate section of approach expressway at the south end of the Baltimore harbor tunnel.

Only a little more than six-tenths of a mile of the four-lane approach expressway is involved, but the job includes a relocation of Frankfurst avenue in the Brooklyn section of south Baltimore and an interchange which will give access to the tunnel from Frankfurst avenue and Shell road.

The job requires four long bridges over city streets and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's freight yards.

It will be one of the most costly sections of the 15 miles of expressway which will connect the tunnel with U. S. 40 on the northeast edge of Baltimore and Ritchie highway, U. S. 301, The Washington-Baltimore parkway and U. S. 1 on the south and southwest.

States Get 56 Million In Federal Surplus

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Surplus property which cost the federal government 56 million dollars was turned over to state and local government agencies and to nonprofit institutions in July, August and September for educational and public health purposes.

The property includes school and hospital building sites, buildings suitable for college dormitory uses, motor vehicles, hospital, school and office furniture, tools, laboratory equipment and school and office supplies.

The value of the state-by-state distribution was listed by the Health, Education and Welfare Department today, as follows:

Executive Dies In Auto Wreck

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—Dewey Clutter, 57, operating vice president of the Manufacturer's Light & Heat Co., was killed early today as his auto crossed a medial barrier on U. S. 19 one mile north of here and collided with an oncoming car.

Clutter, a resident of the Pittsburgh suburb, Mt. Lebanon, was dead on arrival at Washington Hospital. He had been travelling alone.

The driver of the other car, William Patrick, 60, and his passenger, Betty Bizzele, 37, both of Washington, Pa., were treated at the hospital then released.

State Police said Clutter's auto jumped the medial strip and swung sideways into the front of the Patrick car.

Clutter, a native of Cameron, W. Va., had been with Manufacturer's since 1915 when he went to work as a ditch digger at the age of 17.

He is survived by his father, widow, one son, one sister and four brothers.

Utility Plans Bond Issue

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10 (AP) — The Baltimore Gas and Electric Co. today asked the Maryland Public Service Commission to approve a new 30-million dollar issue of bonds to pay off bank loans and finance the extension of its facilities.

The Seminole Indians of Florida sprang from remnants of other tribes from farther north, and from runaway slaves.

School Bill Veto Must Be Overridden, PTA Is Told

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10 (AP) — The president of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers said today "our first order of business" in the next General Assembly will be overriding a veto of a school construction bill.

Mrs. Fred L. Bull of College Park made the statement in her annual report at the State PTA's 40th annual convention, which opened here today.

Reviewing the PTA legislative program, Mrs. Bull said:

"In the Legislature, we were successful in helping to get additional monies for school building construction of $10 per child, passed by the General Assembly, but it was vetoed by the governor.

"Overriding this veto will be our first order of business at this year's session of the Legislature."

Mrs. Bull also disclosed plans for a program to aid migratory workers who are employed on the state's farms and in the orchards.

"Since we have an annual average of 12,000 migratory workers in Maryland, we are hoping to develop a program for these 'forgotten citizens,'" she said, adding that the PTA already has arranged conferences with State and federal agencies toward that end.

Nearly 800 delegates are here for the convention in the Lord Baltimore Hotel. The meeting closes tomorrow night with a dinner, installation of new officers, and an address by Dr. Harold Taylor, president of Sarah Lawrence College.

Nominees submitted without opposition at the opening session today were:

Bruce Bowman, Greenbelt, second vice president; Dr. Adam Baer, Frostburg, vice president for District 1; Mrs. R. O. Stelzer, Hyattsville, vice president for District 2; Mrs. Burgess Chaney, Chesapeake Beach, vice president for District 5; Mrs. William Littlewood, St. Michaels, vice president for District 7.

They are the only offices to be filled this year.

The legislative program submitted by the Legislative Committee today closely follows that of the Maryland State Teachers' Assn. in calling for more State aid for schools, higher teacher pay, better retirement benefits and expansion and improvement of the State's teachers' colleges.

It called for compulsory equalization of property tax assessments over the state, saying:

"We request that the governor direct the State Tax Commission to proceed at once to exercise its powers over assessments in order to require all counties and Baltimore City to have a closely comparable ratio of assessments in relation to actual cash values. . ."

Such an equalization, the committee said, would "provide an equitable basis for computing and distributing monies for all state-aid programs."

Other items in the committee's report called for more federal aid for schools in areas where there are federal activities, inspection of all motor vehicles at State-owned and operated garages, and revision of the child placement and adoption laws.

DuPont To Open 'Nitromon' Plant

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 10 (AP)—A new plant for the production of "Nitromon" is being opened this week at the Potomac River Works of the DuPont Co. near Martinsburg.

"Nitromon" is a blasting agent used for large shots in open-pit mining and on highway construction jobs because of safety factors. DuPont developed it 23 years ago and has been producing it at other plants.

William E. Rapp, plant manager, said all the company's "Nitromon" production eventually will be concentrated at the Potomac River works. DuPont already makes all its dynamite there.

The new division, housed in eight buildings, will employ about 60 men when it gets into full operation, bringing the force at the Potomac River works to more than 400. The new buildings will not be completed until late December but the facility is well enough along to permit the start of production this week.

Saw Scooter Too Late

FREDERICK, Nov. 10 (AP)—Crewmen aboard a Baltimore and Ohio freight train which smashed into a maintenance car near here last Friday were quoted as saying they were only two car lengths away when they first spotted the car.

Two B & O employes were killed when the train and the little motor scooter collided last Friday near Ijamsville.

Utility Company Inspector Freed In Death Of Wife

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10 (AP)—Milton J. Price, utility company inspector, was acquitted today of a charge he murdered his 32-year-old wife Margaret last January.

Judge Joseph R. Byrnes heard the case without a jury.

The judge said from the evidence he concluded the woman, while intoxicated, had fallen and had asphyxiated herself accidentally with her own clothing.

Price testified yesterday his wife had more than 60 glasses of beer at an oyster roast and at taverns Jan. 16, the evening before her death.

Neighbors testified they heard the woman raising a disturbance and heard her husband trying to quiet her.

Neighbors depicted Price as a man of good character and Judge Byrnes concluded such a man "hardly could strangle his wife and then calmly go to sleep."

Judge Breaks Hip

On bare numbers, the greatest expansions were the 6,200 additional jobs on contract construction projects, 5,100 in the various branches of trade and the 4,000 increase in State and local government. Much of the latter figure was attributable to the great increases in school population, requiring more teachers and school maintenance personnel.

Federal employment, a big Maryland industry, showed a gain of 1,200 jobs for the year, although the figure was down 300 from the previous month.

All the non-manufacturing industries showed increased employment from 1954 to 1955—a total gain of 22,000 jobs.

Another bright spot in this category, besides employment on construction jobs, in trade, and in government service, was the addition of 1,400 jobs on interstate railroads —a gain of 6.8 per cent.

Employment in the manufacture of non-durable goods sloughed off by 2,600 jobs in the comparison between September of 1954 and September of 1955, with the losses showing up sharpest in food processing and the chemical industry. But employment in textile mills jumped and there were solid gains in the manufacture of paper and allied products and in printing and publishing.

In the manufacture of durable goods, a gain of 5,200 jobs in the primary metals industry was a big factor in a total gain of 12,700 jobs.

There was a big gain percentage-wise in the production of stone, clay and glass. The big improvement in the ship building industry was the main factor in the addition of 9,000 jobs in the manufacture of transportation equipment.

The department estimated there were 34,700 unemployed in Maryland at mid-September, representing only 3.4 per cent of the total labor force.

A year earlier there were 53,300 unemployed—11.3 per cent.

Average hourly earnings in factories climbed to $1.85 in September and in a year average weekly earnings had increased from $68.28 to $76.67.

Baltimore Firm Low Bidder On Tunnel Job

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10 (AP)—C. J. Langenfelder and Sons, Inc., of Baltimore today submitted the apparent low bid of $5,532,333 for building a short but intricate section of approach expressway at the south end of the Baltimore harbor tunnel.

Only a little more than six-tenths of a mile of the four-lane approach expressway is involved, but the job includes a relocation of Frankfurst avenue in the Brooklyn section of south Baltimore and an interchange which will give access to the tunnel from Frankfurst avenue and Shell road.

The job requires four long bridges over city streets and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's freight yards.

It will be one of the most costly sections of the 15 miles of expressway which will connect the tunnel with U. S. 40 on the northeast edge of Baltimore and Ritchie highway, U. S. 301, The Washington-Baltimore parkway and U. S. 1 on the south and southwest.

States Get 56 Million In Federal Surplus

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Surplus property which cost the federal government 56 million dollars was turned over to state and local government agencies and to nonprofit institutions in July, August and September for educational and public health purposes.

The property includes school and hospital building sites, buildings suitable for college dormitory uses, motor vehicles, hospital, school and office furniture, tools, laboratory equipment and school and office supplies.

The value of the state-by-state distribution was listed by the Health, Education and Welfare Department today, as follows:

Executive Dies In Auto Wreck

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—Dewey Clutter, 57, operating vice president of the Manufacturer's Light & Heat Co., was killed early today as his auto crossed a medial barrier on U. S. 19 one mile north of here and collided with an oncoming car.

Clutter, a resident of the Pittsburgh suburb, Mt. Lebanon, was dead on arrival at Washington Hospital. He had been travelling alone.

The driver of the other car, William Patrick, 60, and his passenger, Betty Bizzele, 37, both of Washington, Pa., were treated at the hospital then released.

State Police said Clutter's auto jumped the medial strip and swung sideways into the front of the Patrick car.

Clutter, a native of Cameron, W. Va., had been with Manufacturer's since 1915 when he went to work as a ditch digger at the age of 17.

He is survived by his father, widow, one son, one sister and four brothers.

Utility Plans Bond Issue

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10 (AP) — The Baltimore Gas and Electric Co. today asked the Maryland Public Service Commission to approve a new 30-million dollar issue of bonds to pay off bank loans and finance the extension of its facilities.

The Seminole Indians of Florida sprang from remnants of other tribes from farther north, and from runaway slaves.

School Bill Veto Must Be Overridden, PTA Is Told

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10 (AP) — The president of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers said today "our first order of business" in the next General Assembly will be overriding a veto of a school construction bill.

Mrs. Fred L. Bull of College Park made the statement in her annual report at the State PTA's 40th annual convention, which opened here today.

Reviewing the PTA legislative program, Mrs. Bull said:

"In the Legislature, we were successful in helping to get additional monies for school building construction of $10 per child, passed by the General Assembly, but it was vetoed by the governor.

"Overriding this veto will be our first order of business at this year's session of the Legislature."

Mrs. Bull also disclosed plans for a program to aid migratory workers who are employed on the state's farms and in the orchards.

"Since we have an annual average of 12,000 migratory workers in Maryland, we are hoping to develop a program for these 'forgotten citizens,'" she said, adding that the PTA already has arranged conferences with State and federal agencies toward that end.

Nearly 800 delegates are here for the convention in the Lord Baltimore Hotel. The meeting closes tomorrow night with a dinner, installation of new officers, and an address by Dr. Harold Taylor, president of Sarah Lawrence College.

Nominees submitted without opposition at the opening session today were:

Bruce Bowman, Greenbelt, second vice president; Dr. Adam Baer, Frostburg, vice president for District 1; Mrs. R. O. Stelzer, Hyattsville, vice president for District 2; Mrs. Burgess Chaney, Chesapeake Beach, vice president for District 5; Mrs. William Littlewood, St. Michaels, vice president for District 7.

They are the only offices to be filled this year.

The legislative program submitted by the Legislative Committee today closely follows that of the Maryland State Teachers' Assn. in calling for more State aid for schools, higher teacher pay, better retirement benefits and expansion and improvement of the State's teachers' colleges.

It called for compulsory equalization of property tax assessments over the state, saying:

"We request that the governor direct the State Tax Commission to proceed at once to exercise its powers over assessments in order to require all counties and Baltimore City to have a closely comparable ratio of assessments in relation to actual cash values. . ."

Such an equalization, the committee said, would "provide an equitable basis for computing and distributing monies for all state-aid programs."

Other items in the committee's report called for more federal aid for schools in areas where there are federal activities, inspection of all motor vehicles at State-owned and operated garages, and revision of the child placement and adoption laws.

DuPont To Open 'Nitromon' Plant

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 10 (AP)—A new plant for the production of "Nitromon" is being opened this week at the Potomac River Works of the DuPont Co. near Martinsburg.

"Nitromon" is a blasting agent used for large shots in open-pit mining and on highway construction jobs because of safety factors. DuPont developed it 23 years ago and has been producing it at other plants.

William E. Rapp, plant manager, said all the company's "Nitromon" production eventually will be concentrated at the Potomac River works. DuPont already makes all its dynamite there.

The new division, housed in eight buildings, will employ about 60 men when it gets into full operation, bringing the force at the Potomac River works to more than 400. The new buildings will not be completed until late December but the facility is well enough along to permit the start of production this week.

Saw Scooter Too Late

FREDERICK, Nov. 10 (AP)—Crewmen aboard a Baltimore and Ohio freight train which smashed into a maintenance car near here last Friday were quoted as saying they were only two car lengths away when they first spotted the car.

Two B & O employes were killed when the train and the little motor scooter collided last Friday near Ijamsville.

Utility Company Inspector Freed In Death Of Wife

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10 (AP)—Milton J. Price, utility company inspector, was acquitted today of a charge he murdered his 32-year-old wife Margaret last January.

Judge Joseph R. Byrnes heard the case without a jury.

The judge said from the evidence he concluded the woman, while intoxicated, had fallen and had asphyxiated herself accidentally with her own clothing.

Price testified yesterday his wife had more than 60 glasses of beer at an oyster roast and at taverns Jan. 16, the evening before her death.

Neighbors testified they heard the woman raising a disturbance and heard her husband trying to quiet her.

Neighbors depicted Price as a man of good character and Judge Byrnes concluded such a man "hardly could strangle his wife and then calmly go to sleep."

The State had contended Price strangled his wife.

Judge Breaks Hip

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10 (AP)—Chief Judge James E. Boylan Jr. of Maryland's Fifth Judicial Circuit, was reported in satisfactory condition today at University Hospital after falling at the Howard County courthouse Wednesday evening and breaking his right hip.

Thanks To American Ingenuity, Television, Toy Electric Trains And Voting Machine Make Hit In Indonesia

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP) — Thanks to Yankee ingenuity, citizens in far off Indonesia now know of such wonders as television, toy trains and the mechanical voting machine.

And the Indonesians like them. The authority for this is Ivan F. Baker, a retired Westinghouse vice president who last month was in charge of the U.S. display at the international fair at Djakarta, Indonesia.

Baker was in town today, and eager to give a few Indonesian impressions.

"Most Indonesians never had seen television," Baker said. "So we put on a television show each day, using only native talent, over a closed circuit of 24 sets right on the grounds. They could see the show on the stage, and on the sets, at the same time. I'd say it was a real hit. Really stole the show."

How did the Indonesians like the commercials?

"No commercials," Baker said. Which may explain why TV was so popular in Djakarta.

The Indonesians also saw such things as electric toy trains — "their reaction to those little trains was a sheer delight," Baker said— sewing machines and workshop tools in operation, a 1905 Baker electric automobile stacked up against the latest sports cars and an animated rubber exhibit, quite popular in an area that depends on rubber production.

The voting machine was something of a surprise.

It was put in so the Indonesians could vote on what displays they liked best, Baker said, and it turned out to be a star in its own right. "A sensation," he said, "people climbed over it in their anxiety to try it."

Of the 773,499 who attended the fair, 720,000 came to the U. S. display. At times the jams were so great the animated shows had to be turned off so that the people would leave and others could be let in.

Well, why do we care what Indonesians think of toy trains and voting machines?

Baker says there are two objectives.

First, the average Indonesian gets a better idea of this country's inventiveness; second, it promotes trade.

Baker thinks the value of entering trade fairs is best understood by seeing what the Russians do. He says they were in 133 such fairs, all over the world, before this country entered its first a year ago.

The Russians weren't at Djarkata, but Baker said that among the 22 nations were several Iron Curtain countries.

Thanksgiving Dance Plans Made, Candy Sale Begins

Plans for the Thanksgiving dance were completed and Mrs. Edward Sokolowski was appointed chairman for the Christmas candy sale at the meeting of the Junior Woman's Civic Club Wednesday evening at the Girl Scout house. The annual semi-formal dance will be November 25 at the Cumberland Country Club, with Art Shaffer's Orchestra playing from 9 until 1 a. m. Prizes are to be awarded and sandwiches and coffee will be available at the club. Proceeds will be for the Friends Aware of Handicapped Children. Mrs. Conrad Hohing, Jr. is chairman. Hard candy and mints will be sold for the club and orders will be taken by Mrs. Sokolowski.

A letter was read from the General Federation of Women's Clubs asking the club to remind the people that December 1 is Safe Driving Day throughout the nation and to urge all adults to be particularly careful in driving. Three new members were welcomed, Mrs. George Carney, Jr., Miss Kay Avers and Mrs. Robert Downey.

Members said they were surprised to discover the "magnificent program offered to the youth of Cumberland" by the City Recreation Department. Robert Pence, director, showed a movie covering the complete summer program, which he said appeals to all age groups and is actively participated in. He explained various reasons for the limited scope of the department's winter activities at this time. Club members said they are particularly interested in a county-wide recreation program and discussed this possibility with Mr. Pence at the conclusion of the program.

Guests were Miss Rae Coleman and Mrs. Richard Daily. A social concluded the meeting with Mrs. Bruce Douglas as hostess chairman, assisted by Mrs. William Daily, Mrs. Marvin Kaplon, Mrs. Galen Metzger, Mrs. Allan Macy and Mrs. Nelson Sellers.

Growth, Duties Of AAUW International Grants Given

Persuading her foreign scholar charges to go home when the time comes is just one of her varied problems, according to Dr. Janet Howell Clark, national chairman of AAUW committee on International Grants, who spoke to the local branch Wednesday evening at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building. Explaining that having awarded a study grant, her committee continue to help in problems of travel, housing and health, she added, "So many of them want to stay longer in the United States, perhaps forever. Husbands on the whole have been no trouble." The speaker explained that European women generally continue their professional careers after marriage.

Dr. Clark said AAUW International Grants program is a post-war project designed to bring women from war-devstated countries here for study and research in the hope they will return to help their nations rebuild. It has grown from six grantees, representing four countries in 1945, to 40 from 32 countries last year.

The International Grants program is distinctly separate from the AAUW Fellowships, Dr. Clark emphasized, pointing out that the latter have been awarded largely to American women in a continuing effort since 1890, and which now are endowed with a million-dollar fund.

She noted the average age has been 33; quite a number of women dentists have come from Finland, where apparently they are common; Thailand has sent a surprising number of women doctors; and the Oriental has more difficulty adjusting to America, she found, a fact borne out by other organizations.

Routine reports were given and meeting dates were announced at the brief business session conducted by Mrs. William Van Newkirk.

Murley's Branch WSCS will hold a bake sale tomorrow at Kolb's Garage, Flintstone, beginning at 10.

Thanksgiving Dance Plans Made, Candy Sale Begins

Plans for the Thanksgiving dance were completed and Mrs. Edward Sokolowski was appointed chairman for the Christmas candy sale at the meeting of the Junior Woman's Civic Club Wednesday evening at the Girl Scout house. The annual semi-formal dance will be November 25 at the Cumberland Country Club, with Art Shaffer's Orchestra playing from 9 until 1 a. m. Prizes are to be awarded and sandwiches and coffee will be available at the club. Proceeds will be for the Friends Aware of Handicapped Children. Mrs. Conrad Hohing, Jr. is chairman. Hard candy and mints will be sold for the club and orders will be taken by Mrs. Sokolowski.

A letter was read from the General Federation of Women's Clubs asking the club to remind the people that December 1 is Safe Driving Day throughout the nation and to urge all adults to be particularly careful in driving. Three new members were welcomed, Mrs. George Carney, Jr., Miss Kay Avers and Mrs. Robert Downey.

Members said they were surprised to discover the "magnificent program offered to the youth of Cumberland" by the City Recreation Department. Robert Pence, director, showed a movie covering the complete summer program, which he said appeals to all age groups and is actively participated in. He explained various reasons for the limited scope of the department's winter activities at this time. Club members said they are particularly interested in a county-wide recreation program and discussed this possibility with Mr. Pence at the conclusion of the program.

Guests were Miss Rae Coleman and Mrs. Richard Daily. A social concluded the meeting with Mrs. Bruce Douglas as hostess chairman, assisted by Mrs. William Daily, Mrs. Marvin Kaplon, Mrs. Galen Metzger, Mrs. Allan Macy and Mrs. Nelson Sellers.

Foreign Diplomats Visit Maryland School To Learn How American Children Taught

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Diplomats from a dozen embassies — including three from behind the Iron Curtain — went to school yesterday to learn how U. S. children are taught.

They were given the works. A ride in a school bus, a visit with youngsters in all elementary school classes, including kindergarten, lunch at the school cafeteria, where the kids picked up the tab with money raised by the student council.

This is American Education Week, a time when parents are encouraged to visit their schools. And this year someone decided it would be nice to include embassy people.

So yesterday the school bell rang for diplomatic scholars from countries as scattered as Poland, Thailand, Hungary, Liberia and Romania. They and a few curious reporters climbed aboard a school bus in downtown Washington and headed for the Parkside School in suburban Silver Spring, Md.

On the way we were entertained with various facts calculated to impress a foreign student, and maybe even a home-grown one.

Robert Eaves of the National Education Assn. announced:

"You are now riding on the most popular form of transportation in America."

He said 30 per cent of all students now ride a school bus. He said that in most communities the bus ride is relatively short but that New Mexico has one community in which the students ride 96 miles each way each day.

"Why are school buses painted yellow?" one diplomat asked.

"Easier to see," Eaves said, and he added another thought:

"One problem we have on school buses is conduct. I don't see any of you fighting or pulling hair. I congratulate you on your behavior."

"Wait till we discuss politics," said M. Samir Ahmed of Egypt.

At the school, Mrs. Grace Zeller, the principal, explained how at Parkside the easy-does-it philosophy of education prevails.

"We try to let the children discipline themselves," she said.

Well, the kids looked at ease all right. It was story-telling time in the kindergarten, and some were stretched out flat on the floor, relaxed and absorbed. Other grades were busy at reading and arithmetic, and no one seemed especially impressed by the visiting diplomats.

Whether the diplomats were impressed wasn't clear either. After all, they are diplomats, coached in such comments as "interesting" or "I see."

The only objection was raised by Ahmed, the genial Egyptian, who brought up an old complaint. "Your students know all about ancient Egypt, with the Sphinx and the Pyramids, but what do they know of Egypt today? Always at the embassy we get requests for old things. The other day a youngster wrote, 'Please send me a mummy.'"

Teacher Problem Seen Here To Stay

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)— The Fund for the Advancement of Education concluded today that America might as well give up any idea of ever getting enough teachers who meet present standards of what a teacher should be.

The fund, which operates on a grant from the Ford Foundation, did not suggest that teaching standards be lowered.

Instead, in a report called "Teachers for Tomorrow," it called on schools and colleges to "devise bold and imaginative methods of making better use of the good teachers they have now."

Noting ballooning school and college enrollments, the report said schools will have to enlarge their faculties more in the next 10 years than in the past 35, colleges more than in all their history.

The report listed several means of getting more teachers and keeping them on the job—raising pay, modifying compulsory retirement, recruiting competent adults, especially housewives with no children, and others.

Water-Treatment Plants Can Cope With Radiation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Tap water at Harvard University—already famed as a medium for goldfish swallowed by men of the Crimson during the 1930s—attracted some new attention today.

It was disclosed that the water was made mildly and harmlessly radioactive by fallout from faraway Pacific H-bomb tests in 1954. But it helped demonstrate that modern water-treatment plants can cope with such contamination under "existing conditions" of airborne radioactivity produced by atomic tests.

This was reported to the 62nd annual convention of the Assn. of Military Surgeons of the United States by Capt. Thomas R. Ostrom of the Army's Environment Health Laboratory, Edgewood, Maryland.

He described a study made at Harvard—and financed by the Atomic Energy Commission—to test the efficiency of the city of Cambridge's water-treatment system in removing radioactive materials from water earmarked for drinking. The tests were begun during the spring of 1954 hydrogen test series at the Pacific proving ground.

The general conclusion was that while the fallout from the Pacific tests temporarily contaminated the raw water to some degree, the water that eventually stemmed from the filtration plant was within the "maximum permissible" limits of radioactivity which a person could tolerate for a lifetime without harm.

Foreign Diplomats Visit Maryland School To Learn How American Children Taught

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Diplomats from a dozen embassies — including three from behind the Iron Curtain — went to school yesterday to learn how U. S. children are taught.

They were given the works. A ride in a school bus, a visit with youngsters in all elementary school classes, including kindergarten, lunch at the school cafeteria, where the kids picked up the tab with money raised by the student council.

This is American Education Week, a time when parents are encouraged to visit their schools. And this year someone decided it would be nice to include embassy people.

So yesterday the school bell rang for diplomatic scholars from countries as scattered as Poland, Thailand, Hungary, Liberia and Romania. They and a few curious reporters climbed aboard a school bus in downtown Washington and headed for the Parkside School in suburban Silver Spring, Md.

On the way we were entertained with various facts calculated to impress a foreign student, and maybe even a home-grown one.

Robert Eaves of the National Education Assn. announced:

"You are now riding on the most popular form of transportation in America."

He said 30 per cent of all students now ride a school bus. He said that in most communities the bus ride is relatively short but that New Mexico has one community in which the students ride 96 miles each way each day.

"Why are school buses painted yellow?" one diplomat asked.

"Easier to see," Eaves said, and he added another thought:

"One problem we have on school buses is conduct. I don't see any of you fighting or pulling hair. I congratulate you on your behavior."

"Wait till we discuss politics," said M. Samir Ahmed of Egypt.

At the school, Mrs. Grace Zeller, the principal, explained how at Parkside the easy-does-it philosophy of education prevails.

"We try to let the children discipline themselves," she said.

Well, the kids looked at ease all right. It was story-telling time in the kindergarten, and some were stretched out flat on the floor, relaxed and absorbed. Other grades were busy at reading and arithmetic, and no one seemed especially impressed by the visiting diplomats.

Whether the diplomats were impressed wasn't clear either. After all, they are diplomats, coached in such comments as "interesting" or "I see."

The only objection was raised by Ahmed, the genial Egyptian, who brought up an old complaint. "Your students know all about ancient Egypt, with the Sphinx and the Pyramids, but what do they know of Egypt today? Always at the embassy we get requests for old things. The other day a youngster wrote, 'Please send me a mummy.'"

Teacher Problem Seen Here To Stay

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)— The Fund for the Advancement of Education concluded today that America might as well give up any idea of ever getting enough teachers who meet present standards of what a teacher should be.

The fund, which operates on a grant from the Ford Foundation, did not suggest that teaching standards be lowered.

Instead, in a report called "Teachers for Tomorrow," it called on schools and colleges to "devise bold and imaginative methods of making better use of the good teachers they have now."

Noting ballooning school and college enrollments, the report said schools will have to enlarge their faculties more in the next 10 years than in the past 35, colleges more than in all their history.

The report listed several means of getting more teachers and keeping them on the job—raising pay, modifying compulsory retirement, recruiting competent adults, especially housewives with no children, and others.

The first fork was brought to the United States in 1633.

Water-Treatment Plants Can Cope With Radiation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Tap water at Harvard University—already famed as a medium for goldfish swallowed by men of the Crimson during the 1930s—attracted some new attention today.

It was disclosed that the water was made mildly and harmlessly radioactive by fallout from faraway Pacific H-bomb tests in 1954. But it helped demonstrate that modern water-treatment plants can cope with such contamination under "existing conditions" of airborne radioactivity produced by atomic tests.

This was reported to the 62nd annual convention of the Assn. of Military Surgeons of the United States by Capt. Thomas R. Ostrom of the Army's Environment Health Laboratory, Edgewood, Maryland.

He described a study made at Harvard—and financed by the Atomic Energy Commission—to test the efficiency of the city of Cambridge's water-treatment system in removing radioactive materials from water earmarked for drinking. The tests were begun during the spring of 1954 hydrogen test series at the Pacific proving ground.

The general conclusion was that while the fallout from the Pacific tests temporarily contaminated the raw water to some degree, the water that eventually stemmed from the filtration plant was within the "maximum permissible" limits of radioactivity which a person could tolerate for a lifetime without harm.

Drug Store Services Include Marriage; Employe Is J. P.

STAMFORD, Conn., Nov 10 (AP)—Marriage today was added to the list of services available at a downtown drug store.

When tobacco counter manager Herman Tresser was elected a justice of the peace some time ago he announced he would perform marriages at his counter.

There have been no actual takers but yesterday James A. Martin, 37, of nearby Greenwich, and Malfa Pilner, 40, of Daytona Beach, Fla., were married by Tresser at the store.

However, they chose the privacy of the store manager's office for the wedding. Two store employes were witnesses.

President Down To 172, His "West Point Weight"

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD

DENVER, Nov. 10 (AP) — When President Eisenhower rides from the Washington National Airport to the White House in his bubble-top Lincoln on Friday afternoon, the thousands who line the streets may note a change in him.

He is leaner than he was before his heart attack nearly seven weeks ago—leaner but sharp.

He is now down to his "West Point weight," which his doctors say is "excellent." He weighs 172 pounds, the same as he did 45 years ago when he was a cadet.

The loss of weight since he entered the hospital here isn't much, four or five pounds at the most, but it seems to have taken place where it would be most noticeable—in the region under his chin. He is now less jowly than he was.

This was my first and most striking impression when I saw President Eisenhower yesterday.

I had not seen the American chief executive since Aug. 4, when he held a news conference in Washington, his last there before he set out on his fateful work-play sojourn in Denver.

Like other reporters who hurried here after the President suffered his heart attack on Sept. 24, I had heard one visitor after another talk in ecstatic terms about how well Mr. Number One looked. Field Marshal Lord Montgomery of Alamein topped them all last Saturday when, on leaving the hospital. He said that he had remarked to his old commander: "You look better than you have ever looked in your life."

I first saw Gen. Eisenhower in the winter of 1944-45 when I interviewed him at his headquarters in Versailles while the Battle of the Bulge was on. I have seen a lot of him since—as chief of staff of the Army, as the Republican nominee for President in 1952, and as occupant of the White House for the last two years and ten months.

To say that he looks better than he ever did, it seems to me, is to take in a lot of territory. He may look better than he did on certain occasions before—occasions, say, when he was under a strain in World War II, or wrestling with NATO problems afterward, or when things might not have been going too well in the White House still later on. But few men have had a healthier glow than the President when he was in tip-top shape, which was most of the time.

Looking at the President today, one might easily guess that he had been through an experience. The loss of weight itself would suggest this, even though the loss is something the doctors welcome.

But is is certainly true, as the President's visitors have reported, that he retains his familiar ruddiness, and that his eyes are as blue and keen as ever.

He has all of his old vivacity and sharpness, too, that man-in-motion aura that has always characterized him.

New Translation Of Old Testament "More Reliable"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP) — Roman Catholic officials today announced a new translation of seven books of the Old Testament, "going back to more reliable sources" and "aimed at satisfying the modern reader."

For one thing, the new translation drops the obsolete "thee," "thou," "hath" and "hast" and turns to contemporary usage.

The National Catholic Welfare Conference said a notable difference from the Douay version, used by Catholics in English-speaking countries since the 17th Century, is the changing of the name of Ecclesiasticus to the Book of Sirach.

The Book of Sirach, along with the Book of Wisdom, which also appears in the new translation, is not included in the Protestant version of the Bible.

In addition to Wisdom and Sirach, the new volume contains Job, Psalms, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes and the Canticle of Canticles.

Some of the differences between the Douay-Rheims Bible and the new translation are showin in the following passage from the Book of Proverbs:

Old: "As he that taketh a dog by the ears, so is he that passeth by in anger and meddleth with another man's quarrel."

New: "Like a man who seizes a passing dog by the ears is he who meddles in a quarrel not his own."

Also, from the Book of Sirach:

Old: "A good wife is a good portion; she shall be given in the portion of them that fear God, to a man for his good deeds. Rich or poor, if his heart is good, his countenance shall be cheerful at all times."

New: "A good wife is a generous gift bestowed upon him who fears the Lord; be he rich or poor, his heart is content, and a smile is ever on his face."

Army Hunting Trip Called Off

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov 10 (AP)—Plans by Ft. Bliss, Tex., soldiers to hunt on an Army firing range in New Mexico without state licenses have been called off "until further notice" by order of Secretary of the Army Brucker.

Maj. Gen. P. W. Rutledge, Ft. Bliss commander, claims the Army has exclusive authority over the 400,000-acre range and his men don't need New Mexico licenses. New Mexico authorities contend they do. Gov. John Sims warned Tuesday that he would not hesitate to use the National Guard if necessary to keep the Army from hunting on the range, separated from Texas by a strip of New Mexico State land, without permits.

Brucker telegraphed Rutledge yesterday: "It is requested that you continue to prohibit hunting on portions of the firing range lying in New Mexico until further notice from this office."

Flynn Property Brings $1,988.62

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Hollywood Hills mansion and estate of actor Errol Flynn—estimated to be worth $350,000—was auctioned for only $1,988.62 yesterday to satisfy a court judgment against the actor.

However, Flynn, who is now in Spain, will have a year in which to pay the $1,988.62 and recover the property.

The auction was conducted on the steps of the Hall of Justice and Deputy County Marshal Dan Johnson said only one bid was received. The property was acquire, at least temporarily, by J. N. Benson of La Jolla, Calif., on his telegraphed bid.

Robert, George H. and Thomas McElwaine Jr. obtained the judgment on their claim that Flynn owed them $1,500 for publicity work they did for a film he made in Nice, France, in 1950.

Russian School System Praised

WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 10 (AP)—Dr. Homer Dodge, former president of Norwich University, said yesterday Russia has the "finest system of education in the world."

Dr. Dodge addressed the student body of Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

He said:

"Russia recruits intelligence into its educational system as vigorously as leading institutions of this country recruit their athletes."

"Russian graduates of a 10-year system are a year younger and a year more advanced than high school pupils in the United States."

Dr. Dodge spent a month in the Soviet Union this year with his son, Norton Dodge, a postgraduate student in Russian economics at Harvard.

Norwich university, a Vermont institution, is a military college.

"No intelligence will be lost in Russia," Dr. Dodge said, "as the 10-year system becomes prevalent throughout the entire Soviet. It is now practiced in all the major cities.

"Every bright student in Russia will be caught in the system. Winners of gold and silver medals will be sent on to higher education. The dumber ones will move over to trade and factory schools."

"Dr. Dodge said the Soviet "is now turning out twice as many engineers as we are."

"It is my prediction," he said "that in a not too long period they will create a surplus of engineers which will be spread throughout their part of the world into other countries."

Army Hunting Trip Called Off

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov 10 (AP)—Plans by Ft. Bliss, Tex., soldiers to hunt on an Army firing range in New Mexico without state licenses have been called off "until further notice" by order of Secretary of the Army Brucker.

Maj. Gen. P. W. Rutledge, Ft. Bliss commander, claims the Army has exclusive authority over the 400,000-acre range and his men don't need New Mexico licenses. New Mexico authorities contend they do. Gov. John Sims warned Tuesday that he would not hesitate to use the National Guard if necessary to keep the Army from hunting on the range, separated from Texas by a strip of New Mexico State land, without permits.

Brucker telegraphed Rutledge yesterday: "It is requested that you continue to prohibit hunting on portions of the firing range lying in New Mexico until further notice from this office."

Flynn Property Brings $1,988.62

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Hollywood Hills mansion and estate of actor Errol Flynn—estimated to be worth $350,000—was auctioned for only $1,988.62 yesterday to satisfy a court judgment against the actor.

However, Flynn, who is now in Spain, will have a year in which to pay the $1,988.62 and recover the property.

The auction was conducted on the steps of the Hall of Justice and Deputy County Marshal Dan Johnson said only one bid was received. The property was acquire, at least temporarily, by J. N. Benson of La Jolla, Calif., on his telegraphed bid.

Robert, George H. and Thomas McElwaine Jr. obtained the judgment on their claim that Flynn owed them $1,500 for publicity work they did for a film he made in Nice, France, in 1950.

Board Hears TV Complaint

Alvin E. Yaste, of LaVale, appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to read a letter he has sent to the Federal Communications Commission regarding interference with his television reception.

Yaste stated that a TV cable company in operation in upper LaVale has installed television cables and that one of them runs past the front of his residence. He said that he has invested approximately $500 in a set and antenna and that the cable adjacent to his home causes faulty reception.

He also charges that the TV firm is not listed in the city directory or phone book and he has been unable to find out who comprises the company. He said he has contacted George Sokol, who is described as one of the officials of the firm, and complained of the interference.

Odom Is Still Jailed Here

An effort is being made to raise the $20,000 bond set for the 60-year-old man arrested here on a federal warrant in connection with a $421,771 mail fraud case.

Harold Paul Odom, who has been in the Allegany County Jail since mid-October as a suspect in the $27,000 Lee Green burglary case, was arraigned on a mail fraud charge Wednesday afternoon before U. S. Commissioner James A Avirett in this city.

Odom earlier had been released from custody of county authorities as there was insufficient evidence to prosecute him and James Walter Golden, 45, in the Green burglary.

Odom and Golden had been arrested in Baltimore on October 12 by the FBI and brought here for questioning in safe cracking six years ago in Green's LaVale home.

Odom was arraigned before Avirett on a warrant served on him by C. A. Miller, Rochester, N. Y., and R. M. Johnson, this city, both postal inspectors for the Post Office Department.

Odom was accused of using the alias of William Ryan, Governor Clinton Hotel, New York City, to defraud Augustine Cunningham, 77, of Rochester.

Odom has been unable to post bond.

In the event it is not met, Odom will face extradition proceedings from Maryland, and then eventually will be taken by a U. S. marshal to the U. S. District Court for the Western Judicial District of New York at Rochester, Johnson and Miller reported.

Odom was represented at the hearing by William C. Walsh and William Walsh.

Use Of Big Savage Signs Is Approved By SRC

The State Roads Commission, meeting yesterday in Baltimore, approved the erection of signs on the east and west slopes of Big Savage Mountain to give an adequate warning to truckers traveling east on Route 40.

Russell H. McCain, chairman of the SRC, said immediate action was ordered and within ten days the signs should be erected. He said it will take that long to have them made.

The action was taken after receiving the recommendations of a safety group formed in Frostburg as a result of the runaway truck accident in LaVale that claimed the lives of five persons.

McCain said one sign will be erected 1,000 feet west of the Big Savage summit notifying truckers that the top of the mountain is near.

Another on top will order all truckers to place their vehicles in lower gears.

One hundred feet east of the summit there will be another notifying the drivers of the long, steep grade ahead.

Still another sign down the mountain will order truckers to stay in lower gears until notified.

At Bowery Street's intersection with Route 40, or Main Street in Frostburg, the drivers will be told that normal gears can be used, McCain added.

This system is along the lines as the one recommended at a meeting of the safety group in Frostburg Monday night, McCain said.

The Chinese measure distance by a day's walk.

Ears that won't lie close to the head aren't too serious a problem—not if you know what to do about them.

An Earful Of Powers Suggestions About Ears

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

One charm-seeker who recently arrived at the Powers School was so self-conscious about her ears that she hesitated to speak about them even to us. "I'm afraid there's one thing about me that can't be changed," she finally said. "I've had to wear my hair the same way all my life to cover my stand-out ears."

Imagine the Powers Girls sticking to an out-of-date hair style forever for any reason! Certainly they wouldn't because of ears—there are too many ways of coping with the problems. Ears can be made to hug the head more closely in actual fact, or made to look as if they do. Here are four ways:

1. Wind an attractive scarf around your head in the most becoming way, just so it holds your ears close to your head. Wear the scarf all you can at home, and when you can, away from home. At night, tape your ears back and wear a scarf over them to bed.

2. Go in for the new simple back-swept hair style but let the lowest wave dip down over the upper third of your ear. Many beauties prefer this version of the style anyway.

3. Choose earrings with great care. Those which lie flat are more likely to emphasize the ear tilt away from your head, but those which have more depth perform tricks of camouflage. Earrings that hang slightly below the ear tips can be turned a little way toward the back of your head.

4. Wear soft draped collars to break the line that leads the eye up the neck column to the ear. They should stand up from the shoulder. Wear flowers on your shoulder to center attention there, and necklaces that hang just below the collar bone rather than high, tight ones.

Tomorrow—Before guests arrive.

"WHAT'S YOUR LINE?" — Horizontal vertical and diagonal lines make a world of difference in what clothing will do for (or to) your figure! Complete information on handling lines to best advantage. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing 5c (in coin) and a stamped, self-addressed return envelope.

American Boy Gives Party For Russians

MOSCOW, Nov. 10 (AP) — John Benton, 13, gave a party today. It was for four Russian schoolmates who came to John's room at the National Hotel to eat cookies and drink fruit water, and it was probably the first affair of its kind since the beginning of the cold war.

The host, who is the son of former Democratic Sen. William Benton of Connecticut, has been going to a Russian school an hour daily for the past two weeks. He has quit now, however, since he is leaving Moscow Saturday for Warsaw, Budapest, Prague and home. The host gave his guests postcard views of the American scene as souvenirs.

Voting Machine Insurance Contracts Awarded Here

Two local insurance firms were each given 50 per cent of the insurance on the 103 voting machines yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Bert J. Graham and the firm of Wiebel and Workmeister submitted identical bids on Tuesday and they were also the lowest of the six firms participating.

The bids provide for all-risk, floater type insurance on $146,466 worth of voting machines. The county selected the three-year advance premium program which will cost $1,409.72. Each of the two insurance firms will get half of the business.

The floater provision gives the county coverage on the voting machines while they are in transit to polling places and also the time they are out of storage for any reason.

In connection with the financing of the 103 machines, Commissioner James Orr told the board yesterday that several bankers have told him they are planning to submit figures on a loan program to pay for the machines. The county board is interested in determining if it would be possible to obtain a lower interest rate by this method than by floating a bond issue.

The Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors reported that each election year the cost of handling the balloting will be $11,636.13 less than by the old paper ballot method. The saving on future elections will, in effect, have the machines paying for themselves.

City Finance Report Received From Printer

The financial report of the City of Cumberland in booklet form has just been received from the printer.

The booklet this year contains something new, pictures of various municipal and local industrial attractions.

Shown are the interior and exterior of the new filter plant at Lake Gordon, an artist's drawing of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Plant under construction at North Branch, the local plants of Kelly-Springfield Tire Company and Celanese Corporation of America, Koon Dam, the Narrows, and a scene of busy Baltimore Street at its intersection with Centre Street.

Bridges On Cover

The cover of the October issue of the Maryland Motor Transport News, published by the Maryland Motor Truck Association, carries an aerial photograph of the new and old Cumberland-Ridgeley bridges. The picture is tied in with a progress report of the state's 12-year road building program.

Local Youths Are Held For Grand Jury Action

Two local youths, charged with unauthorized use of an automobile and attempted breaking and entering, were committed to the Allegany County Jail yesterday for action of the grand jury.

Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick yesterday ordered the pair held for the grand jury at a hearing in Trial Magistrate Court. Bond was set at $1,500 for each youth.

Committed to the jail were Harold L. Walters, 19, and Jerry E. Frantz, 20. They were arrested early Tuesday by Detective Donald Smith of the City Police Department and Officer George Furstenberg after they had stolen an automobile owned by John A. Collins, 413 Beall Street, and then smashed the vehicle on Evitts Creek Hill, Oldtown Road.

Both boys have long police records, and only recently were released from the Maryland House of Correction. Both boys also have long records in the Juvenile Court, having served sentences in the Maryland Training School for Boys.

Detective Lt. James E. Van said the pair signed a statement admitting to an attempted breaking and entering of the office of a South Centre Street used car lot, and that they had stolen the Collins car.

The breaking and entering was discovered by Officer Charles E. Cubbage, Lt. Van said, and after questioning several persons in the area, one person said he had seen two youths answering the description of Frantz and Walters.

The boys admitted driving the Collins car around the city for awhile, and later taking it to Hancock. After reaching Hancock they turned back toward Cumberland and made the return trip by way of Berkeley Springs and Paw Paw, W. Va., Van said.

Van added that the boys said when they got the car to Evitts Creek Hill the auto was traveling at a high rate of speed, failed to negotiate a curve and ran up over a slope along the highway and back onto the road. A total of $600 damage was caused in the crash.

Ears that won't lie close to the head aren't too serious a problem—not if you know what to do about them.

An Earful Of Powers Suggestions About Ears

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

One charm-seeker who recently arrived at the Powers School was so self-conscious about her ears that she hesitated to speak about them even to us. "I'm afraid there's one thing about me that can't be changed," she finally said. "I've had to wear my hair the same way all my life to cover my stand-out ears."

Imagine the Powers Girls sticking to an out-of-date hair style forever for any reason! Certainly they wouldn't because of ears—there are too many ways of coping with the problems. Ears can be made to hug the head more closely in actual fact, or made to look as if they do. Here are four ways:

1. Wind an attractive scarf around your head in the most becoming way, just so it holds your ears close to your head. Wear the scarf all you can at home, and when you can, away from home. At night, tape your ears back and wear a scarf over them to bed.

2. Go in for the new simple back-swept hair style but let the lowest wave dip down over the upper third of your ear. Many beauties prefer this version of the style anyway.

3. Choose earrings with great care. Those which lie flat are more likely to emphasize the ear tilt away from your head, but those which have more depth perform tricks of camouflage. Earrings that hang slightly below the ear tips can be turned a little way toward the back of your head.

4. Wear soft draped collars to break the line that leads the eye up the neck column to the ear. They should stand up from the shoulder. Wear flowers on your shoulder to center attention there, and necklaces that hang just below the collar bone rather than high, tight ones.

Tomorrow—Before guests arrive.

"WHAT'S YOUR LINE?" — Horizontal vertical and diagonal lines make a world of difference in what clothing will do for (or to) your figure! Complete information on handling lines to best advantage. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing 5c (in coin) and a stamped, self-addressed return envelope.

American Boy Gives Party For Russians

MOSCOW, Nov. 10 (AP) — John Benton, 13, gave a party today. It was for four Russian schoolmates who came to John's room at the National Hotel to eat cookies and drink fruit water, and it was probably the first affair of its kind since the beginning of the cold war.

The host, who is the son of former Democratic Sen. William Benton of Connecticut, has been going to a Russian school an hour daily for the past two weeks. He has quit now, however, since he is leaving Moscow Saturday for Warsaw, Budapest, Prague and home. The host gave his guests postcard views of the American scene as souvenirs.

Synagogue Plans Forum Discussion

A forum discussion on "Religion and the Public Schools" will be presented under the direction of Rabbi Leon J. Yagod following services today at 8 p. m. at Beth Jacob Synagogue.

Rabbi Yagod will officiate at the services and Paul Ossip will chant the Kiddush prayer of sanctification over the wine.

The synagogue will hold junior services Saturday at 10:30 a. m. Paul Ossip will be cantor; Kenneth Yankelevitz, reader, and Jeffrey Getz will act as rabbi.

Voting Machine Insurance Contracts Awarded Here

Two local insurance firms were each given 50 per cent of the insurance on the 103 voting machines yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Bert J. Graham and the firm of Wiebel and Workmeister submitted identical bids on Tuesday and they were also the lowest of the six firms participating.

The bids provide for all-risk, floater type insurance on $146,466 worth of voting machines. The county selected the three-year advance premium program which will cost $1,409.72. Each of the two insurance firms will get half of the business.

The floater provision gives the county coverage on the voting machines while they are in transit to polling places and also the time they are out of storage for any reason.

In connection with the financing of the 103 machines, Commissioner James Orr told the board yesterday that several bankers have told him they are planning to submit figures on a loan program to pay for the machines. The county board is interested in determining if it would be possible to obtain a lower interest rate by this method than by floating a bond issue.

New Edition Urged

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Federal Union, Inc. says it is "alarmed to find" that the official collection of documents on the United States Constitution may "soon go out of print."

The collection, entitled "Formation of the Union of the American States" was published by Congress in 1927. The Federal Union said in a resolution that the Government Printing Office has "less than 100 copies left" and urged that a new edition be brought out at once at a low price.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (INS) — The airships fly the junketeers so fast these days that they don't get to meet one another. The junketeers, not the airships. People have learned to snore on complete strangers for nights on end, drink with them, dance with them, meet the deputy premier with them, and never get the last name. The first name is always easy.

In this day and age, the first name is always "Sweetie." The word "Sweetie," I've found, covers a multitude of sinners.

Well, sir, went to a reunion party of junketeers, tother night and it was something to see. This group had returned some time ago from a trip to Thule, Keflavik, BW-8, Crystal 2 and other gay spots in the Arctic. As it turned out certain husbands could not make the trip and certain wives were not invited. This was the big reunion at which all singeo's on the trip would have an opportunity not only to introduce their mates but also meet, officially, those they had been with for the previous month.

But things sometimes get ahead of schedule at these affairs. At this party a very attractive blonde who had been on the trip sidled up to one of the liveliest guys on the junket—a real live one—threw a bump at him, howled "how about that party we all had at the Hotel Nord?" and was about to continue with a bellow when Joe Lively blanched and cut in as follows:

"Miss Murgatroyd, I want you should meet the Mrs. You know, the dear little helpmeet and mother of nine I talked about so much on the trip."

The dear little helpmeet and mother of nine doesn't believe a word of it, and you can tell it from her look at 900 yards. Miss Murgatroyd is offended, too. Her name is Mrs. Blutz.

Then, on these occasions, there's the bad moment for the spouse who hasn't been on the trip when the allusions begin to fly. Each of these trips develops a supreme comic, as any fool who attends a junket reunion will understand. At this particular party, a short, bald man absolutely killed the entire room (except those who were not along) by rolling one eye and saying:

"How's that again?"

People rolled about the floors in hysteria, while squares stood along the sidelines, stunned and wondering. Later, the mate who went on the trip would explain at length what happened in the old sauna at Goose Bay in Labrador. But in the meanwhile it had to remain broken Eskimo.

Nothing can freeze a human being quite as much as a remark that is generally accepted as wonderful by all but he/she. He/she feels woefully out of the swim. He/she feels a great deal like Stella Dallas must have felt with all the ice cream melting and nobody ringing the front door bell. He/she, I've found, never orders a melted ice cream, however. He/she orders a stiff drink and keeps grumbling "well!..." more and more indignantly.

It all reminds me of the time I was on an Air Force junket up that way, Iceland, and one of the fellows got to know one of those big, beautiful Ingrid Bergman type girls Iceland goes in for. When we left the island—he had met her for a good three minutes at the deputy premier's party and had taught her the word "darling,"—he said, "if you're ever in Poughkeepsie, call me up." Well, the following Christmas Eve, plus two years, he's trimming the tree and the dear wife and kiddies are gathered about and the phone rings. So he hello this is Joe and a husky Ingrid Bergman voice says "Darling! I'm at the airport!" And he hasn't explained it fully yet, though undefiled as the snow—driven.

Pa. Democrats Pull Surprises In Some Areas

Two Win In Somerset To Upset Tradition

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 10 (AP)—Democrats easily swept to smashing victories in results tabulated today from Allegheny County's election, but Republican James F. Malone, incumbent district attorney, waged a stiff fight before finally acknowledging he had lost his bid for re-election.

Malone conceded to Edward C. Boyle, former U. S. attorney, when returns from 1,149 to 1,170 districts gave Boyle 252,250 and Malone 244,752.

With the Democrats enjoying a 150,000 registration edge in the county, their impressive showing was not altogether unexpected.

A highlight of the western Pennsylvania election was in Westmoreland County.

Mrs. Ruth Love, crusading housewife and former newspaperwoman, lost her bid to become the first woman sheriff in Westmoreland County. Veteran Democratic Sheriff Howard Thomas coasted to victory by about 25,000 votes.

Democratic gains—many of them upsets—included:

State Sen. Eustace H. Bane defeated Samuel D. Braemer, Republican, for judge of Fayette County Common Pleas Court.

David C. Wolfe, who won the Democratic nomination without regular party backing, ousted incumbent Fred J. Fees in the Cambria County district attorney contest.

In Altoona, Democrat Robert W. Anthony defeated J. Lester Laughlin in the mayoralty race. Laughlin, a former mayor, won the Republican nomination over incumbent Walter Grove.

However, the picture wasn't all rosy for the Democrats. For example, Republican Walter E. Rose whipped John A. Conway, a former mayor, for his third term as mayor of Johnstown.

In Bedford County, Republican candidates won every office except that of coroner in Tuesday's balloting, which drew one of the largest voter turnouts on record for an off-year election in Bedford.

Dr. J. H. Kniseley, of New Paris, Democrat, polled 7,441 votes for coroner against 5,493 for Republican Dr. Victor Maffuci of Bedford.

In the contest for county commissioner, Democrat C. Clair Winter of Everett polled 6601 votes to win the minority post. One member of the minority party is required by law on the three-man board of commissioners. The majority commissioner, Elmer W. Foor of Clearville and F. Jay Teeter of Loysburg, polled 6700 and 6278 votes respectively. W. Wilson Martz, Bedford Democrat, got 5783 votes.

Howard J. Koontz, Republican prothonotary, defeated Democrat challenger Elmer C. Claycomb 6907 to 6208. J. Wayne Manspeaker, Republican, defeated Floyd W. Smith, Democrat, for sheriff 6907-6284.

Judge Richard C. Snyder and Dist. Atty. William Van Horn were unopposed for re-election.

Political tradition went out the window in Somerset County election as Democrats won two major offices for the first time since the Civil War.

Norman Walker defeated Republican Harl Hare in Hare's bid for a third consecutive term as sheriff and Democrat Paul O'Connor ousted Elmer Shipley, a Republican who was seeking his re-election as register of wills. Shipley is completing his 16th year in office.

The Republicans elected two of the three county commissioners along with the clerk of courts and the district attorney but the results were close.

Melvin Wilson, a Republican, polled 13,520 votes to beat Democrat Robert Kurtz for clerk of courts. Kurtz had 12,632 votes.

Warren K. Hay, one of the two Democratic candidates for commissioner, led the four-man race as he polled 14,023 votes to lead the four man field. The other commissioners elected were Republicans George G. Kline and incumbent Lester B. Sprowls. Kline had 13,055 votes and Sprowls 12,744. F. R. Boyd, a Democrat, was last with 11,929.

Frank A. Orban Jr., a Republican, was elected district attorney as he edged Robert W. Critchfield, a Democrat. Orban had 13,486 votes to 12,884 for Ortiz.

$780 Price For Land Submitted In Westernport

Property Is Near Filtration Plant

WESTERNPORT—At a meeting of Mayor Okey E. Michael and Town Commissioners Wednesday evening, John A. Luke, manager of the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, submitted a quotation of $780 on a parcel of land of .962 for an acre.

The land in question adjoins the site where the Town of Westernport will build a filtration plant.

After the quotation was read, town officials made a counter offer for the property.

Christmas decorations will be placed in the business section about the same as last year, and a lighted Christmas tree will be at the intersection of Main and Church streets. Carl McMillen, commissioner of public property, was authorized to have the work done and secure the tree.

The city clerk's office will be closed today in observance of Veterans' Day.

Mayor Michael announced that Horace P. Whitworth, city attorney, is preparing a parking ordinance which will state that the Mayor and Commissioners may designate at any time a "no parking" area, and also have the authority to have vehicles towed away at the expense of the owner.

Harry Richards, water commissioner, was authorized to have 100 feet of four-inch water service pipe laid on Philos Avenue in the vicinity of the residence of Mrs. E. J. Roberts. The latter is going to relay her line on her property Richard Zeamer represented her at the meeting.

It was ordered that a bill for parking meters secured from the Duncan Parking Meters Company for the amount of $1,792, which has been placed on the Church Street lot, be paid.

Mrs. Katherine G. Dailey, city clerk, will inquire from the State Health Department if the town will be able to sell raw water to persons outside the city.

After the filtration plant has been built and put into operation, the town will discontinue the chlorination plant on Savage River. The water line passes these points before reaching the filtration plant that will be erected on Westerport Hill.

Mayor Michael stated the Maryland Municipal League will meet next Thursday through Saturday at Frederick.

It was ordered that a catch basin be placed on Oakview, emptying into the sewer coming down to Church Street.

Ray L. Wilt, police commissioner, was authorized to ascertain prices on winter clothing for patrolmen.

Cries Of 'Politics' Get An Answer

The recent promotion of two new officers of the Maryland State Police Department should go a long way to dispel reports that the department is overrun by politics.

Such charges have been leveled at the department and its superintendent, Col. Elmer F. Munshower, in recent weeks by members of the Legislative Council, but the new promotions should help to repudiate the allegations.

The promotions concerned are those of Paul J. Randall from captain to major and Earl W. Reith from lieutenant to captain.

Both men received the highest score of all those taking the examination for promotion in their respective categories. Had the men not been the high scorers and received their promotions anyhow there might have been some basis to the cry of politics, but by rewarding the men with the best score, Col. Munshower has borne out his statement of a few weeks ago that the two positions would go to the men with the best records. By law, any of the five highest competitors could have been appointed.

Recently, we had a friendly conversation with Col. Munshower at which time he discussed a situation concerning promotions in the department. He told us at that time that some politicians were pushing one trooper for promotion, contending he was much better qualified, while the Colonel had gone ahead with promotion of another trooper, based on merit. Col. Munshower had with him at the time the records of each of the two men in four pertinent categories on which they had been rated in the department. His appointee had a better rating in each category than did the trooper being pushed by the politicians. It is our opinion in that case that the Colonel's decision was the proper one.

We believe, too, that Colonel Munshower pursued the proper course in promoting Major Randall and Captain Reith.

It may be that the charges of politics leveled at the department are coming from the politicians who have found that Colonel Munshower has a mind of his own and can't be pushed into making a decision he believes is unwise and is not borne out by the facts.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Our Northern Neighbor

For more than a century the relations between the United States and Canada have been exceptionally amicable despite their long boundary from the Atlantic to the Pacific upon which there is not a single fortification, although customs and immigration stations do exist. There is danger that these relations may deteriorate because of political and economic differences.

Lester B. Pearson, the Canadian minister for external affairs, has, in relationship to Soviet Russia and Red China, pursued a course which often has been not only different from the United States, which is his right, but antagonistic to the United States and that proves embarrassing to both countries. For instance, he is regarded today as the principal protagonist in the United Nations for the seating of Red China, for electing to the United Nations 18 countries in a single package including all the satellites. He has given the impression of being a North American Nehru which at this moment adds another burden to American diplomacy.

On the economic side, cartels exist in Canada which play an enormous role in the American economy and which are bound before long to be investigated by Congress in relation to their American business. One is the newsprint cartel. The newsprint cartel is particularly important because its constant economically unjustified rise in price of newsprint is affecting the free press of the United States unfavorably, forcing some newspapers to cease publication.

At the present time, Canada is the world's largest producer of newsprint and American publishers are today wholly dependent upon that one source of supply.

What American business has meant to the economy of Canada is evident in the three per cent premium for the Canadian dollar in 1954. This premium continued until recently. In 1954, this added more than $65,000,000 to the official reserves of gold and U. S. dollars for the 10 months which the report I am consulting covered. The premium dollar also balanced the overall current deficit of about $450,000,000 for the full year 1954. The rise in the price of newsprint paid for in premium dollars by American publishers has been important in the maintenance of this position and is one reason for its occurrence. But it is very costly for the United States which will have to discover a method of freeing itself from Canadian newsprint. Such methods are not only being investigated but some have been started.

Since the Oregon Boundary Treaty of 1846, Canada and the United States have known few political difficulties. In 1897, the Birtish preferential tariff was instituted. The next year, the British preference was increased to 25 per cent and in 1900 to 33⅓ per cent. To offset the unfavorable effects of these terms, in 1911, a Reciprocity Tariff Agreement was agreed to between the United States and Canada. This agreement was ratified by the United States Senate but was defeated in Canada in which it was the principal issue in the election. In 1930, the Dunning tariff became effective in Canada, the most drastic revision since 1907. It was a response to the Smoot-Hawley tariff in the United States which placed heavy duties on Canadian products.

In 1932, the Imperial Economic Conference took place in Ottawa which produced a series of tariff agreements among the nations of the British Commonwealth giving each other trade preference. This tariff was definitely pointed at the United States and was designed to find markets within the empire for Canadian goods, to reduce the dominion's dependence upon the United States.

In 1934, the Natural Products Marketing Act was passed in Canada which gave the Canadian government an important voice in the marketing of natural products of the country, and created a system of licensing the export of regulated products. The marketing board was authorized to regulate price spreads in the handling of natural and regulated products.

To these acts of Canada should be added, in 1935, the Reciprocal Trade Agreement, which granted Canada lower tariff rates for goods into the United States (and other concessions) on two-thirds of her exports to this country. The United States also received concessions from Canada in return.

As Canada emerges into an industrial country, the American market of 165,000,000 people becomes increasingly important. Canada's population is only 15,600,000 and her economy is therefore based on the assumption that the United States will purchase part of the Canadian produce, particularly of raw materials and such manufactured goods as newsprint, whisky, cheese, etc.

Public Buildings Boss Peter Strobel Resigns His Job With Government

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Public buildings boss Peter Strobel has resigned.

Strobel has been running a consulting engineering firm whose private customers have received government contracts from Strobel. One client, Serge Petroff, got a $16,390 government contract the day after Strobel "recommended" him to a subordinate in government. The subordinate testified that Strobel left the impression the contract was to go to Petroff and no other firm. Petroff, incidentally, was hired to do architectural work, which government architects normally do.

Strobel also used his influence as a top administration official to pressure the Army Engineers into paying his firm an extra $7,500 for past work. The record shows several other incidents that suggest a conflict between Strobel's private interests and his government duties. His personal income from his firm, incidentally, dropped from $86,964 in 1953 to $34,599 in 1954. No figures are available on how much he has received from the firm since he became public buildings commissioner on July 1, 1954. However, the firm has been working on an overtime basis in recent months.

Strobel's outside activities were first exposed in this column on September 1, later investigated by Brooklyn Congressman "Manny" Celler's Judiciary Committee. These hearings finally convinced the White House that Strobel must go.

FDR Blameless

Congressman James Roosevelt of California was quietly attending a hearing of the House Small Business Committee when he was startled to hear testimony that his father, the late President, had not been responsible for Pearl Harbor.

He was also startled to learn that an official Army finding that FDR was in no way to blame for Pearl Harbor had been censored out of the final Army Pearl Harbor report.

Congressman Roosevelt's surprise was not because he ever thought his father was responsible for Pearl Harbor. Some Republicans, of course, did make that charge. The congressman's surprise was rather at the manner in which the Army had suppressed a conclusion which completely exonerated his Father.

The surprise testimony came from Harry A. Toulmin Jr., a Dayton, Ohio, lawyer who was testifying about government investigations.

"To give you the experience I had when I was appointed a member of the Army Pearl Harbor Board," he told the Small Business Committee, "that was originally formed and appointed by the Department of the Army with three generals. After they had been going on a considerable period of some weeks and they were under joint mandate of the House and Senate in their investigation, I was brought from the Pacific area and put in there as another member of the board charged with the duty of conducting the investigation and writing the report.

No Scrap Of Evidence

"I was charged with secrecy under a double oath," Toulmin continued. "In that investigation I had log sheets with complete breakdowns of the witnesses, with every fact testified to, with columns this long and sheets this deep.

"I did not put my own opinions in it nor did the board," said Toulmin. "We made a finding of fact as best we knew how. Everything appears of record in that report with one exception which I would mention as long as I am before Congress under oath. Mr. Roosevelt will be interested in this.

"I made a finding and submitted it to the board and was concurred in by the board but was not put in the report because they thought it was indelicate for them to comment on the President of the United States, your father.

"I made a finding," said Toulmin, "that there was not a scrap of information, not a fact, not an inference in any way, shape or form that showed Mr. Roosevelt was guilty of Pearl Harbor. I am glad to make that of public record."

Movie Censorship

The picture is the "Man with the Golden Arm," a terrific production in which Frank Sinatra plays the part of a gambling dope addict who is finally persuaded by his girl friend, Kim Novak, to give up the habit.

But crotchety Harry Anslinger, head of the Narcotics Bureau, who has done a great job in battling against dope but is well past retirement age, turned thumbs down on the picture. He says it has too happy an ending, that dope addicts never get cured, and that the "Man wtih the Golden Arm" should have shot himself or ended up in jail.

While the government doesn't have the power to censor movies, the Narcotics Bureau does have the power to withhold its stamp of approval, which in turn is almost sure to withhold the official OK of the motion picture producers.

Under the Motion Picture Code the movie producers agree not to show any picture that would encourage use of narcotics. The "Man with the Golden Arm," however, certainly does the opposite. It's a graphic portrayal of the tragic life of a young gambler.

Producer Otto Preminger says, however, that he isn't going to change the ending, that he's going to distribute the film even if it does get a thumbs-down from Anslinger.

Recent Elections May Show Political Significance

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Political significance, but not necessarily a National trend so far as the major parties are concerned, can be derived from a study of the few elections just held.

Generally speaking, where the "Ins" had a satisfactory record they were re-elected, but where they had produced discontent and protests, the "outs" came back into power. This is nothing new in the political world.

Next, where the districts showed recently a shift in population from rural to industrial—the Democrats benefitted. But the most prominent Democrat elected Tuesday in any state—"Happy" Chandler, former U. S. Senator, and now the new governor of Kentucky—is neither a New Dealer nor a Fair Dealer. If he can be classified at all, it would be on the conservative side. That's of some political significance to those democrats who still think they would like to see the more radical Adlai Stevenson nominated next year for the Presidency. But it isn't a Democratic party trend yet.

Basic Principle

Local elections in cities and counties are meaningless so far as a National trend is concerned. But the fact that the Democrats who Philadelphia stayed in power in a Republican stronghold is of political significance. It means that the voters have not forgotten the corrupt regime of the Republicans which was turned out four years ago. It also shows that a new regime when it makes a good record can stay in power. That also is a basic principle in politics.

The only state wide elections which can be examined at all for a sign of a trend occurred in New Jersey, where the State Legislature remained Republican in both houses despite the fact that a Democrat was elected Governor last year. The Democrats gained three seats in the Senate but they are still only 7, while there are 14 Republicans. In the House the Republicans retained their 40-to-27 majority. So there's little comfort here for the champions of the "trend" idea.

Pennsylvania offers no clue to National politics either. In the Western end of the state, Pittsburgh, the Democrats for a long time have been entrenched in the city hall under Mayor David L. Lawrence—no relation to this writer—while in the eastern end of the state, in Philadelphia, the Democrats won in 1951 for the first time in many decades. Yet Pennsylvania didn't give its electoral vote to the Democrats in 1952. This year the Republicans added a seat to their hold on the State Senate in the only election contest.

Hardly Significant

In Virginia the Republicans added a seat in the State Senate. They also carried some local elections near Washington in Fairfax County. It needs to be observed that many government employes fearful of their jobs now are registering Republican instead of Democratic in the areas near Washington. Registration lists, of course, are open to inspection. There's hardly a National trend here.

City elections in states like New York, Connecticut and Indiana can be counted up like a box score. The Democrats, for instance, won eight mayorality contests and lost six according to one early report from the Empire State. But the fact that certain cities switch from Republican to Democrat, or from Democrat to Republican, can hardly be significant because in each case local issues and an intimate knowledge of the candidate and his views undoubtedly played the controlling part in the decision by the voters.

Whether the vote in Indiana's farm towns reflected disaffection on farm income is something worth analyzing but it is by no means clear.

If anybody really wants to argue that there was something of a National "trend" in the Tuesday election, the only plausible case that can be made is in the state of Ohio, where, in the first test of public sentiment on the guaranteed annual wage issue, the CIO proposal was decisively defeated . The vote was approximately 1,500,000 to 860,000. It was probably the largest sample vote on any question remotely resembling a national issue.

Conservative Trend

Here is a case in which the Labor-Union bosses and their political organizations worked hard to win. It meant a great deal to them because the contracts negotiated recently with the auto companies called for changes in state laws to permit unemployed workers to continue to receive state unemployment compensation along with company payments. The people of Ohio said "No" emphatically. If that's a National trend, it isn't radical by any means. It's conservative.

The Republican and Democratic National chairmen, of course, have just issued their customary statements belittling each other's claims. But the fact remains that there were not enough elections on a state-wide basis on Tuesday, and no elections at all for Congress, from which to determine just what the mood of the electorate might be on a National Basis in 1956.

On the whole, the voters behaved as they always do. They oppose corruption, they reward good public servants in the city hall irrespective of party, and they don't seem at present to be emotionally disturbed about anything—not even the exhortations of those politicians who try to convince them that a particular party has the key to a utopian existence.

Waiting For Ike

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

In public, the Republican leaders are showing a stiff upper lip about the discouraging results of the local elections in Indiana and elsewhere. Nonetheless, this new development has clearly put an extra edge on the rather edgy political situation that is waiting in Washington for President Eisenhower.

Everyone in a key position has been and still is extremely chary about getting committed in any manner. But it is now possible to give a crude outline of the opinions on the Republican future that the President will hear from those who are closest to him, on his symbolic return to Washington which lifts the Denver ban on all political discussion.

The men around Eisenhower, like all other Republicans, naturally hope that the President's remarkable recovery from his heart attack will make it possible for him to run again. Unfortunately, however, the odds will still be rather heavy against Eisenhower agreeing to run, even if he gets the kind of medical certificate that would normally clear the road.

Doubts Being Overcome

The truth is that the President himself did not want to run, and his wife and family were passionatey opposed to his running, even before he had his tragic heart attack. The President's own reluctance, and the pleas of Mrs. Eisenhower and Maj. Eisenhower, were being gradually over-borne when he went to Denver. All the Republican leaders in the country were shouting the call to duty in Eisenhower's ear.

At that time, he regularly answered that there are plenty of younger Republican leaders who are capable of finishing his job for him. But the constant appeal to his sense of duty was clearly overcoming his doubts. As reported in this space some weeks before his heart attack, the stage had been reached where an Eisenhower candidacy to succeed himself was all but inevitable, "unless he had the kind of (physical) upset which would give greater force to the pleas of his wife and son."

The importance of the heart attack is not so much that it has partly incapacitated the President, although this is desperately important. The real importance of the heart attack, as one Republican politician has gloomily remarked, is that "you can't tell a man who's had a bad heart attack that it's his duty to run for the presidency." In other words, Eisenhower is now wholly protected from pressure to run. He can therefore do as he pleases. Unless he had changed his mind in his hospital bed, what will please him most is to retire to Gettysburg.

Ike Likes Nixon

If he has in fact changed his mind and now desires to run, the talk about Eisenhower getting a new running mate will almost certainly prove to be empty nonsense. The President likes Vice President Nixon far too well to inflict this sort of public humiliation on him. And making such a fuss about the vice presidency would be an implied admission that the state of the President's health was still rather doubtful.

On the other hand, while there is no substance to the move to replace Nixon as a vice presidential candidate, there is no discernible enthusiasm in the White House circle for Nixon as a presidential candidate. Most of the President's closest advisers appear to believe that Nixon cannot get the independent vote. Hence they think that Nixon will be unable to lead the Republicans to victory if Eisenhower retires.

If the President in fact retires, therefore, it is probable that most of those around him will first try to persuade him to try to persuade Chief Justice Warren to become the Republican candidate.

Almost all Republicans agree that Warren would be their strongest candidate after Eisenhower, and the White House circle is particularly strong on this point. They feel, in truth, that Warren would be almost unbeatable, and the Democrats, holding their breath, secretly agree with this view. But the big question about Warren, of course, is whether he will consent to run.

If both Eisenhower and Warren are finally eliminated it will be Vice President Nixon against the field. And then most of the old Eisenhower - for - President crowd, who do not fancy Nixon will be searching the dark horse stable with a rather feverish intensity.

Some Women Have Bad Habit Of Swallowing Hair

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

People swallow the darndest things. Surgeons from Coney Island Hospital found a large ball of hair (trichobezoar) in the stomach of a 3-year-old girl. The tot was in the habit of chewing the ends of her hair and swallowing the particles. In time the strands matted, together with bits of fat and other substances.

The mass grew so large the youngster looked as though she had a tumor. Hairballs are found mainly in women because their locks are long enough to nibble on. In one patient, five such masses were extracted within 13 years. With the third attack the woman complained of pain and loss of appetite; her abdomen was swollen and she was emaciated.

The surgeon could feel a solid tumor through the abdominal wall. When he opened the stomach he noted that it was enlarged and completely occupied by a hairball 20 inches long, weighing 2½ pounds. The lady was warned to curb her abnormal tendency because another occurrence might not result so favorably.

But she was low in will power and had to go through two more operations before she overcame the hair eating habit. The largest trichobezoar reported weighed 6½ pounds and was 17 inches long and 8½ inches across.

There are other types of bezoars. The phytobezoar is of vegetable composition and persimmon eaters have developed such lesions. The fiber content of this fruit is relatively low but the juice and pulp contain 14 per cent gum and pectin. The housewife uses pectin to jell fruit for preserves and pies.

Persimmons seldom cause trouble when properly masticated or consumed with other food substances. But if eaten alone, the cement-like material acts as a mortar, binding the fibers together until the lump is too large to pass into the bowel. Surgical extraction is necessary because the stomach cannot digest the concretion.

The madstone (trichophytobezoar) consists of a hard ball of hair and vegetable fiber molded into a concretion by contractions of the stomach wall. A fourth type results from the ingestion of furniture polish for its alcoholic content; the shellac precipitates, forming a gummy, indigestible mass. Bismuth, calcium, magnesium, sodium carbonate, and other chemicals have been reported to do the same.

These accumulations were called bezoars, a term meaning antidote or counter-poison because around the 12th Century they were highly prized as remedies against plague, pestilence, and hydrophobia. The first Queen Bess of England was said to have had two large bezoars among her crown jewels.

GIDDY AFTER "SHOT"

If the symptom occurs immediately after the injection, it may be of psychological origin. But if the individual becomes dizzy an hour or two later, the blood sugar level may have dropped too low and in the circumstances, adjustments in diet and insulin dosage are needed.

Cries Of 'Politics' Get An Answer

The recent promotion of two new officers of the Maryland State Police Department should go a long way to dispel reports that the department is overrun by politics.

Such charges have been leveled at the department and its superintendent, Col. Elmer F. Munshower, in recent weeks by members of the Legislative Council, but the new promotions should help to repudiate the allegations.

The promotions concerned are those of Paul J. Randall from captain to major and Earl W. Reith from lieutenant to captain.

Both men received the highest score of all those taking the examination for promotion in their respective categories. Had the men not been the high scorers and received their promotions anyhow there might have been some basis to the cry of politics, but by rewarding the men with the best score, Col. Munshower has borne out his statement of a few weeks ago that the two positions would go to the men with the best records. By law, any of the five highest competitors could have been appointed.

Recently, we had a friendly conversation with Col. Munshower at which time he discussed a situation concerning promotions in the department. He told us at that time that some politicians were pushing one trooper for promotion, contending he was much better qualified, while the Colonel had gone ahead with promotion of another trooper, based on merit. Col. Munshower had with him at the time the records of each of the two men in four pertinent categories on which they had been rated in the department. His appointee had a better rating in each category than did the trooper being pushed by the politicians. It is our opinion in that case that the Colonel's decision was the proper one.

We believe, too, that Colonel Munshower pursued the proper course in promoting Major Randall and Captain Reith.

It may be that the charges of politics leveled at the department are coming from the politicians who have found that Colonel Munshower has a mind of his own and can't be pushed into making a decision he believes is unwise and is not borne out by the facts.

"I made a finding," said Toulmin, "that there was not a scrap of information, not a fact, not an inference in any way, shape or form that showed Mr. Roosevelt was guilty of Pearl Harbor. I am glad to make that of public record."

Movie Censorship

The picture is the "Man with the Golden Arm," a terrific production in which Frank Sinatra plays the part of a gambling dope addict who is finally persuaded by his girl friend, Kim Novak, to give up the habit.

But crotchety Harry Anslinger, head of the Narcotics Bureau, who has done a great job in battling against dope but is well past retirement age, turned thumbs down on the picture. He says it has too happy an ending, that dope addicts never get cured, and that the "Man wtih the Golden Arm" should have shot himself or ended up in jail.

While the government doesn't have the power to censor movies, the Narcotics Bureau does have the power to withhold its stamp of approval, which in turn is almost sure to withhold the official OK of the motion picture producers.

Under the Motion Picture Code the movie producers agree not to show any picture that would encourage use of narcotics. The "Man with the Golden Arm," however, certainly does the opposite. It's a graphic portrayal of the tragic life of a young gambler.

Producer Otto Preminger says, however, that he isn't going to change the ending, that he's going to distribute the film even if it does get a thumbs-down from Anslinger.

Recent Elections May Show Political Significance

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Political significance, but not necessarily a National trend so far as the major parties are concerned, can be derived from a study of the few elections just held.

Generally speaking, where the "Ins" had a satisfactory record they were re-elected, but where they had produced discontent and protests, the "outs" came back into power. This is nothing new in the political world.

Next, where the districts showed recently a shift in population from rural to industrial—the Democrats benefitted. But the most prominent Democrat elected Tuesday in any state—"Happy" Chandler, former U. S. Senator, and now the new governor of Kentucky—is neither a New Dealer nor a Fair Dealer. If he can be classified at all, it would be on the conservative side. That's of some political significance to those democrats who still think they would like to see the more radical Adlai Stevenson nominated next year for the Presidency. But it isn't a Democratic party trend yet.

Basic Principle

Local elections in cities and counties are meaningless so far as a National trend is concerned. But the fact that the Democrats who Philadelphia stayed in power in a Republican stronghold is of political significance. It means that the voters have not forgotten the corrupt regime of the Republicans which was turned out four years ago. It also shows that a new regime when it makes a good record can stay in power. That also is a basic principle in politics.

The only state wide elections which can be examined at all for a sign of a trend occurred in New Jersey, where the State Legislature remained Republican in both houses despite the fact that a Democrat was elected Governor last year. The Democrats gained three seats in the Senate but they are still only 7, while there are 14 Republicans. In the House the Republicans retained their 40-to-27 majority. So there's little comfort here for the champions of the "trend" idea.

Pennsylvania offers no clue to National politics either. In the Western end of the state, Pittsburgh, the Democrats for a long time have been entrenched in the city hall under Mayor David L. Lawrence—no relation to this writer—while in the eastern end of the state, in Philadelphia, the Democrats won in 1951 for the first time in many decades. Yet Pennsylvania didn't give its electoral vote to the Democrats in 1952. This year the Republicans added a seat to their hold on the State Senate in the only election contest.

Hardly Significa=t

In Virginia the Republicans added a seat in the State Senate. They also carried some local elections near Washington in Fairfax County. It needs to be observed that many government employes fearful of their jobs now are registering Republican instead of Democratic in the areas near Washington. Registration lists, of course, are open to inspection. There's hardly a National trend here.

City elections in states like New York, Connecticut and Indiana can be counted up like a box score. The Democrats, for instance, won eight mayorality contests and lost six according to one early report from the Empire State. But the fact that certain cities switch from Republican to Democrat, or from Democrat to Republican, can hardly be significant because in each case local issues and an intimate knowledge of the candidate and his views undoubtedly played the controlling part in the decision by the voters.

Whether the vote in Indiana's farm towns reflected disaffection on farm income is something worth analyzing but it is by no means clear.

If anybody really wants to argue that there was something of a National "trend" in the Tuesday election, the only plausible case that can be made is in the state of Ohio, where, in the first test of public sentiment on the guaranteed annual wage issue, the CIO proposal was decisively defeated . The vote was approximately 1,500,000 to 860,000. It was probably the largest sample vote on any question remotely resembling a national issue.

Conservative Trend

Here is a case in which the Labor-Union bosses and their political organizations worked hard to win. It meant a great deal to them because the contracts negotiated recently with the auto companies called for changes in state laws to permit unemployed workers to continue to receive state unemployment compensation along with company payments. The people of Ohio said "No" emphatically. If that's a National trend, it isn't radical by any means. It's conservative.

The Republican and Democratic National chairmen, of course, have just issued their customary statements belittling each other's claims. But the fact remains that there were not enough elections on a state-wide basis on Tuesday, and no elections at all for Congress, from which to determine just what the mood of the electorate might be on a National Basis in 1956.

On the whole, the voters behaved as they always do. They oppose corruption, they reward good public servants in the city hall irrespective of party, and they don't seem at present to be emotionally disturbed about anything—not even the exhortations of those politicians who try to convince them that a particular party has the key to a utopian existence.

Waiting For Ike

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

In public, the Republican leaders are showing a stiff upper lip about the discouraging results of the local elections in Indiana and elsewhere. Nonetheless, this new development has clearly put an extra edge on the rather edgy political situation that is waiting in Washington for President Eisenhower.

Everyone in a key position has been and still is extremely chary about getting committed in any manner. But it is now possible to give a crude outline of the opinions on the Republican future that the President will hear from those who are closest to him, on his symbolic return to Washington which lifts the Denver ban on all political discussion.

The men around Eisenhower, like all other Republicans, naturally hope that the President's remarkable recovery from his heart attack will make it possible for him to run again. Unfortunately, however, the odds will still be rather heavy against Eisenhower agreeing to run, even if he gets the kind of medical certificate that would normally clear the road.

Doubts Being Overcome

The truth is that the President himself did not want to run, and his wife and family were passionatey opposed to his running, even before he had his tragic heart attack. The President's own reluctance, and the pleas of Mrs. Eisenhower and Maj. Eisenhower, were being gradually over-borne when he went to Denver. All the Republican leaders in the country were shouting the call to duty in Eisenhower's ear.

At that time, he regularly answered that there are plenty of younger Republican leaders who are capable of finishing his job for him. But the constant appeal to his sense of duty was clearly overcoming his doubts. As reported in this space some weeks before his heart attack, the stage had been reached where an Eisenhower candidacy to succeed himself was all but inevitable, "unless he had the kind of (physical) upset which would give greater force to the pleas of his wife and son."

The importance of the heart attack is not so much that it has partly incapacitated the President, although this is desperately important. The real importance of the heart attack, as one Republican politician has gloomily remarked, is that "you can't tell a man who's had a bad heart attack that it's his duty to run for the presidency." In other words, Eisenhower is now wholly protected from pressure to run. He can therefore do as he pleases. Unless he had changed his mind in his hospital bed, what will please him most is to retire to Gettysburg.

Ike Likes Nixon

If he has in fact changed his mind and now desires to run, the talk about Eisenhower getting a new running mate will almost certainly prove to be empty nonsense. The President likes Vice President Nixon far too well to inflict this sort of public humiliation on him. And making such a fuss about the vice presidency would be an implied admission that the state of the President's health was still rather doubtful.

On the other hand, while there is no substance to the move to replace Nixon as a vice presidential candidate, there is no discernible enthusiasm in the White House circle for Nixon as a presidential candidate. Most of the President's closest advisers appear to believe that Nixon cannot get the independent vote. Hence they think that Nixon will be unable to lead the Republicans to victory if Eisenhower retires.

If the President in fact retires, therefore, it is probable that most of those around him will first try to persuade him to try to persuade Chief Justice Warren to become the Republican candidate.

Almost all Republicans agree that Warren would be their strongest candidate after Eisenhower, and the White House circle is particularly strong on this point. They feel, in truth, that Warren would be almost unbeatable, and the Democrats, holding their breath, secretly agree with this view. But the big question about Warren, of course, is whether he will consent to run.

If both Eisenhower and Warren are finally eliminated it will be Vice President Nixon against the field. And then most of the old Eisenhower - for - President crowd, who do not fancy Nixon will be searching the dark horse stable with a rather feverish intensity.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Never heard of this Ben Youssef fellow until they took up his commutation ticket for safaris. Now he's as important as the thumb in a mitten.

The French catapulted Ben from political oblivion into characoal gray obscurity about two revolutions ago.

While Ben sang "Where My Caravan Has Rested" he was buying his seat from a speculator. He folded more tents than all the Arabs and Newark bag and twine inclusive.

Once again Ben is seated as firmly as a whirling dervish on a potter's wheel. He's sultan of Morocco until furtive notice.

One thing we do know is that Ben gets the Longfellow prize for footprints in the sands.

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

People swallow the darndest things. Surgeons from Coney Island Hospital found a large ball of hair (trichobezoar) in the stomach of a 3-year-old girl. The tot was in the habit of chewing the ends of her hair and swallowing the particles. In time the strands matted, together with bits of fat and other substances.

The mass grew so large the youngster looked as though she had a tumor. Hairballs are found mainly in women because their locks are long enough to nibble on. In one patient, five such masses were extracted within 13 years. With the third attack the woman complained of pain and loss of appetite; her abdomen was swollen and she was emaciated.

The surgeon could feel a solid tumor through the abdominal wall. When he opened the stomach he noted that it was enlarged and completely occupied by a hairball 20 inches long, weighing 2½ pounds. The lady was warned to curb her abnormal tendency because another occurrence might not result so favorably.

But she was low in will power and had to go through two more operations before she overcame the hair eating habit. The largest trichobezoar reported weighed 6½ pounds and was 17 inches long and 8½ inches across.

There are other types of bezoars. The phytobezoar is of vegetable composition and persimmon eaters have developed such lesions. The fiber content of this fruit is relatively low but the juice and pulp contain 14 per cent gum and pectin. The housewife uses pectin to jell fruit for preserves and pies.

Persimmons seldom cause trouble when properly masticated or consumed with other food substances. But if eaten alone, the cement-like material acts as a mortar, binding the fibers together until the lump is too large to pass into the bowel. Surgical extraction is necessary because the stomach cannot digest the concretion.

The madstone (trichophytobezoar) consists of a hard ball of hair and vegetable fiber molded into a concretion by contractions of the stomach wall. A fourth type results from the ingestion of furniture polish for its alcoholic content; the shellac precipitates, forming a gummy, indigestible mass. Bismuth, calcium, magnesium, sodium carbonate, and other chemicals have been reported to do the same.

These accumulations were called bezoars, a term meaning antidote or counter-poison because around the 12th Century they were highly prized as remedies against plague, pestilence, and hydrophobia. The first Queen Bess of England was said to have had two large bezoars among her crown jewels.

GIDDY AFTER "SHOT"

F. W. writes: What causes a diabetic to become dizzy after he takes insulin?

REPLY

If the symptom occurs immediately after the injection, it may be of psychological origin. But if the individual becomes dizzy an hour or two later, the blood sugar level may have dropped too low and in the circumstances, adjustments in diet and insulin dosage are needed.

MENTAL RECOVERIES

C. L. writes: How many mental patients recover?

REPLY

Recently I saw statistics given by Dr. Winfred Overholzer, which indicate that if treatment is given in the first year there is a 50-50 chance of recovery. The odds against release go to 16 to 1 in the second year and for patients hospitalized eight years, they are 99 to 1.

COCKTAIL OR OPERATION

Mrs. K. writes: The doctor wants to give my husband an atomic cocktail instead of operating on him for overactive thyroid. Is the cocktail as good as surgery?

REPLY

PINCHING INJURY

L. M. writes: Can pinching cause cancer?

REPLY

The cause of cancer is unknown, although injury may play a role.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Pancake Pie For Giant Size Appetites

Junior shouts "the gang's all here" and Mom knows that's her cue to get busy in the kitchen. She knows, too, that where there are youngsters there are hearty appetites, so nothing short of good substantial food will do.

What could be more perfect, then, than a six-layer pancake pie? Never heard of it? Well, now's the time to get acquainted. As soon as the pancakes come off the griddle, (be sure to make the giant size ones) spread with tangy red currant jelly and stack them high. Cut the unusual "stack of wheats" in pie shape wedges, and serve with plenty of mellow maple-blended syrup.

Sounds good enough for the whole family to eat, and it is. Come next special dessert time, try this pie. You'll have fun making it, fun serving it, and more fun receiving praise while your sweet-tooth gang is eating it.

Jam Filled Griddle Cakes

1 cup sifted flour
2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1¼ cups milk
3 tablespoons melted shortening
1 cup 40% bran blakes, slightly crushed maple-blended syrup

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Combine egg and milk; add gradually to flour, mixing only until smooth. Stir in shortening and cereal. Bake on hot griddle. Make double-size griddle cakes, using generous ⅓ cup batter for each. Stack in pile, spreading fruit jam between cakes. Cut in pie shaped wedges and serve with maple-blended syrup.

Java is the most populous of the 3,000 islands of Indonesia, but Sumatra is the largest.

How To Encourage Self-Feeding

Before they are a year old, many babies want to feed themselves. When your baby gets fired with the ambition to manage his own feeding affairs, by all means encourage him no matter how much quicker and less messy it is to feed him yourself.

This is the expert advice given mothers by pediatricians and nutritionists. They also warn mothers that the longer you put baby off, the less exciting self-feeding may seem. It pays from the start to encourage him to do things for himself.

A good first step is to give baby a spoon of his own to hold. A demitasse spoon is ideal—it is small, and its straight handle makes it easy for baby to grasp. Spoons with loop handles may be more decorative but they're harder for the baby to maneuver to his mouth.

Let baby hold the spoon in whichever hand he seems to prefer. He'll probably switch from one to the other at first. Mothers must remember it is important to let baby make the decision. Let southpays be southpaws.

It may take baby days or even weeks before he can proficiently manipulate his spoon. Be patient and give him every opportunity to develop this difficult feat. It's a complicated business for him and he may lose all interest if mother continues to go on feeding him rapidly anyhow. When baby finally manages to connect with a spoonful or so, it's a good idea for mother to withdraw from the scene—or at least look away! His appetite will urge him to keep on trying. He'll gradually be more and more successful.

"Mothers might as well relax and learn to close their eyes to the mess baby makes. Remember your baby wants to learn to eat like grownups and he will, in time. The less fussing mother does about mess ,the less time it's likely to take him to learn. It's perfectly natural for him to daub food around with his fingers or squeeze strained applesauce through his fingers. He's curious at this age about his food. While carrying on these antics, he may and most often does continue to eat happily. However, mothers must use some friendly discipline. If, for example, he tries to tip over his dish, mother should simply hold it down firmly or else move it away from his reach for awhile."

A big piece of plastic, oilcloth, or just newspapers, placed around the "danger zone" will eliminate some of mother's headaches if baby manages to spill or fire his food on the floor. A sponge kept handy for quick mop-ups also helps. As for baby, see that he has a comfortable, good-sized bib that covers him well, and then resolutely look the other way. From the looks of the baby's face and hair when he's learning to feed himself, many mothers are convinced that none of his food i hitting the target!

"Above all, though, mothers must take advantage of the golden opportunity when baby first shows signs of wanting to feed himself. Encourage him from the beginning and avoid self-feeding problems later."

Pancake Pie For Giant Size Appetites

Junior shouts "the gang's all here" and Mom knows that's her cue to get busy in the kitchen. She knows, too, that where there are youngsters there are hearty appetites, so nothing short of good substantial food will do.

What could be more perfect, then, than a six-layer pancake pie? Never heard of it? Well, now's the time to get acquainted. As soon as the pancakes come off the griddle, (be sure to make the giant size ones) spread with tangy red currant jelly and stack them high. Cut the unusual "stack of wheats" in pie shape wedges, and serve with plenty of mellow maple-blended syrup.

Sounds good enough for the whole family to eat, and it is. Come next special dessert time, try this pie. You'll have fun making it, fun serving it, and more fun receiving praise while your sweet-tooth gang is eating it.

Jam Filled Griddle Cakes

1 cup sifted flour
2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1¼ cups milk
3 tablespoons melted shortening
1 cup 40% bran blakes, slightly crushed maple-blended syrup

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Combine egg and milk; add gradually to flour, mixing only until smooth. Stir in shortening and cereal. Bake on hot griddle. Make double-size griddle cakes, using generous ⅓ cup batter for each. Stack in pile, spreading fruit jam between cakes. Cut in pie shaped wedges and serve with maple-blended syrup.

Java is the most populous of the 3,000 islands of Indonesia, but Sumatra is the largest.

The chances are about four to one against anyone successfully swimming the English channel.

How To Encourage Self-Feeding

Before they are a year old, many babies want to feed themselves. When your baby gets fired with the ambition to manage his own feeding affairs, by all means encourage him no matter how much quicker and less messy it is to feed him yourself.

This is the expert advice given mothers by pediatricians and nutritionists. They also warn mothers that the longer you put baby off, the less exciting self-feeding may seem. It pays from the start to encourage him to do things for himself.

A good first step is to give baby a spoon of his own to hold. A demitasse spoon is ideal—it is small, and its straight handle makes it easy for baby to grasp. Spoons with loop handles may be more decorative but they're harder for the baby to maneuver to his mouth.

Let baby hold the spoon in whichever hand he seems to prefer. He'll probably switch from one to the other at first. Mothers must remember it is important to let baby make the decision. Let southpaws be southpaws.

It may take baby days or even weeks before he can proficiently manipulate his spoon. Be patient and give him every opportunity to develop this difficult feat. It's a complicated business for him and he may lose all interest if mother continues to go on feeding him rapidly anyhow. When baby finally manages to connect with a spoonful or so, it's a good idea for mother to withdraw from the scene—or at least look away! His appetite will urge him to keep on trying. He'll gradually be more and more successful.

"Mothers might as well relax and learn to close their eyes to the mess baby makes. Remember your baby wants to learn to eat like grownups and he will, in time. The less fussing mother does about mess, the less time it's likely to take him to learn. It's perfectly natural for him to daub food around with his fingers or squeeze strained applesauce through his fingers. He's curious at this age about his food. While carrying on these antics, he may and most often does continue to eat happily. However, mothers must use some friendly discipline. If, for example, he tries to tip over his dish, mother should simply hold it down firmly or else move it away from his reach for awhile."

A big piece of plastic, oilcloth, or just newspapers, placed around the "danger zone" will eliminate some of mother's headaches if baby manages to spill or fire his food on the floor. A sponge kept handy for quick mop-ups also helps. As for baby, see that he has a comfortable, good-sized bib that covers him well, and then resolutely look the other way. From the looks of the baby's face and hair when he's learning to feed himself, many mothers are convinced that none of his food i hitting the target!

"Above all, though, mothers must take advantage of the golden opportunity when baby first shows signs of wanting to feed himself. Encourage him from the beginning and avoid self-feeding problems later."

1 cup sugar
2 eggs
⅔ cup milk

Hmm... Sugar in your tea?
Is that smart when you're reducing?

You need sugar for its "energy lift." Besides, 3 teaspoons of Domino Sugar contain fewer calories than your apple!

WHICH IS LESS FATTENING?

Yes, 3 teaspoons of Domino Sugar actually contain fewer calories than 1 medium apple!

Sure, you need Domino Sugar to sweeten coffee, tea and your favorite foods. But equally important . . . Domino Pure Cane Sugar supplies quick-energy—fast. Faster than any other food.

What's more, there are only 18 calories in a teaspoon of Domino Sugar. That's fewer calories than in many "reducing diet" foods! So if you're reducing, remember: "Sugar-starved" people often lose pep and energy instead of weight! Just as Apples are famous for their health values—in a well-balanced diet, Domino Sugar helps supply the quick food-energy you need every day for pep and vitality.

So be smart . . . use a sensible amount of satisfying, low-calorie, high-energy Domino Sugar at every meal . . . for only one sugar is Domino Pure.

Ohio produces nearly half the nation's greenhouse tomatoes.

Hawaiian Apple Pie

Pastry

2 cups sifted flour; 1 teaspoon salt; ⅔ cup lard; 5 to 6 tablespoons water.

Sift flour with salt. With a pastry blender or two knives, cut in half of the lard until the mixture resembles corn meal; cut in remaining lard until mixture is the size of small peas. Sprinkle water over the mixture, about a tablespoon at a time and blend with a fork until mixture is moistened. Shape into a ball and cut in half. On a lightly floured board, roll out half the dough to ⅛ inch thickness. Line a 9-inch pie pan. Roll out the remaining dough for the top crust.

Filling

5 cups thinly sliced tart apples; 1 can crushed pineapple (approx. 9 oz.); ½ cup granulated sugar; ½ cup brown sugar; ½ teaspoon cinnamon; ¼ teaspoon nutmeg; ⅛ teaspoon salt; 2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Mix sugars, spices and salt. Place half the apple slices and half the well-drained pineapple in crust. Sprinkle with half the sugar mixture. Top with rest of fruit, piling up slightly towards the center, then add rest of sugar mixture. Dot with small pieces of butter or margarine. Put on top crust, slash in several places and bake at 425° F. for 40 to 50 minutes.

Good Aspic Dressings

Cheese-Olive Dressing

Goldenrod

Combine finely chopped egg whites with mayonnaise, top with egg yolk which has been pressed through a sieve.

Coney Island Beefwich

1 pound ground beef; 1½ cups chopped onions; 1 cup chopped celery; 1 teaspoon salt; ⅛ teaspoon pepper; 1 10½ or 11-oz. can condensed tomato soup; 1 to 1½ tablespoons chili powder.

Brown meat in small amount of fat. Add onions and celery; cook until tender. Add remaining ingredients, using enough chili powder to suit taste. Simmer until thick. Serve in split buns, toasted or plain. 4 servings.

Old Homestead Salad

In these days when tender new vegetables from the garden are abundant, make a hearty meat and vegetable salad for lunch or Sunday night supper. Use potatoes and a variety of colorful vegetables and add diced cold cuts or canned luncheon meat to give "oomph" and added food value to the combination.

Cook equal amounts of carrots, potatoes, green beans, beets and peas separately in boiling salted water until just tender. Drain and cut into cubes (except for the peas). Add one-third the amount of finely cut meat—salami, bologna, summer sausage (or an assortment of these or other cold meats). Moisten with French dressing and let stand in the refrigerator for 1 hour. Drain off any excess dressing, moisten well with mayonnaise and season to taste with salt, pepper and seasoning salt.

Nearly 1,000 varieties of flowering plants bloom among the Olympic Mountains of Washington. About ten of them are found nowhere else in the world. They grow mainly on the slopes and ridgetops above 4,000 feet.

Western Ranch Dinner

Here's a fresh idea for a wonderful Sunday dinner that is sure to please your family—It's easy to prepare and every member of your family will love it.

1 cut-up frying chicken
1 large can Pet Evaporated Milk
Bisquick*
1 No. 2½ can cling peach halves
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons paprika
⅓ cup shortening
whole cloves

Heat oven to 425°. Dip cut-up frying chicken in ½ cup undiluted PET EVAPORATED MILK, then roll in a mixture of 1 cup BISQUICK*, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 teaspoons paprika. Then melt ½ cup shortening in a 13 x 9½ x 2 pan in the oven, add the chicken, skin side down, and bake 50 to 60 minutes. Meanwhile, make Bisquick drop biscuit dough using diluted Pet Evaporated Milk.

Move chicken to one end of pan. Drain a No. 2½ can CLING PEACH halves, arrange on chicken. Spoon biscuit dough into the other end of pan, bake 15 minutes more. Remove food to hot plates. For gravy: Blend ¼ cup Bisquick mixture (saved from dipping) into drippings in pan. Stir in gradually 1 cup water, boil and stir two minutes. Stir in 1 cup Pet Evaporated Milk. Heat but do not boil. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Stock Market Falls Back To End Recovery Streak

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—The stock market ran through a string of four strong advances, and then today it turned down.

The market started briskly with prices headed higher. The second hour found it at its best. Thereafter a slow retreat cut back the market on all fronts. It was at its worst at the close.

Losses still were quite mild for most of the list and seldom were greater than 2 points. Gains usually were cut off at around a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 30 cents at $175.10. Yesterday it was ahead $1.60, and at that time the average had retraced two-thirds of the great loss registered in the reaction that came with news of the president's heart attack.

Today's fall was muffled by the fact that the components of the average were mixed — industrials off $1.10, rails up 30 cents, and utilities off 10 cents.

General Motors was the day's most active issue, as it was yesterday, with a gain of a point at 49⅜. It was ahead 1⅞ yesterday. Volume came to 132,100 shares.

It was followed by U. S. Steel up ⅜ at 56, Benguet Consolidated Mining unchanged at 1½, Chrysler up ⅝ at 93⅛, and Sperry Rand up ⅛ at 22¾.

Stock Market Falls Back To End Recovery Streak

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—The stock market ran through a string of four strong advances, and then today it turned down.

The market started briskly with prices headed higher. The second hour found it at its best. Thereafter a slow retreat cut back the market on all fronts. It was at its worst at the close.

Losses still were quite mild for most of the list and seldom were greater than 2 points. Gains usually were cut off at around a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 30 cents at $175.10. Yesterday it was ahead $1.60, and at that time the average had retraced two-thirds of the great loss registered in the reaction that came with news of the president's heart attack.

Today's fall was muffled by the fact that the components of the average were mixed — industrials off $1.10, rails up 30 cents, and utilities off 10 cents.

General Motors was the day's most active issue, as it was yesterday, with a gain of a point at 49⅜. It was ahead 1⅞ yesterday. Volume came to 132,100 shares.

It was followed by U. S. Steel up ⅝ at 56, Benguet Consolidated Mining unchanged at 1½, Chrysler up ⅝ at 93⅛, and Sperry Rand up ⅛ at 22¾.

Cincinnati Milling Machine bounced up 4¼ at 73¼ after directors proposed a two-for-one split and raised the cash dividend payment.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 10 (AP)—Opportunities for hunters will be enlarged tomorrow when rabbits and quail become legal game throughout West Virginia.

In addition, a two-day season on ring-necked pheasant, males only, opens tomorrow in six counties and part of a seventh.

The seasons on quail and the cottontail rabbit and varying hare will continue through Jan. 7. Bag limits are seven per day and 35 for the season on quail and four per day and 24 for the season on rabbits and hares together.

Ring-necked pheasant will be legal game tomorrow and Saturday in Berkeley, Brooke, Greenbrier, Jefferson, Mercer and Ohio counties and that portion of Monongalia County between the Monongahela and Cheat Rivers. The legal limit is two pheasant cocks for the season. Both may be taken the same day.

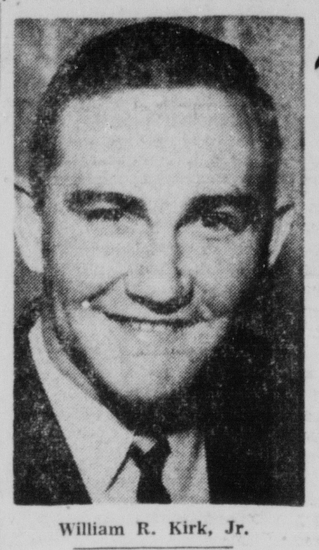
Former Barton High And Bobcat Athlete New Basketball Aide



William R. Kirk, Jr.

Appointment of William Russell Kirk, Jr., 22, of 209 Fayette Street, as assistant basketball coach at Fort Hill High School for the 1955-56 season, was announced last night.

Head coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's aide is a member of the junior high faculty at the Greenway Avenue school where he is a mathematics teacher.

A native of Barton, "Bill" was graduated in 1951 from Barton High School where he excelled in basketball and soccer. In 1950 and 1951 he was a member of Barton High's state Class "C" championship quints and in his senior year was the winner of the Georges Creek Basketball Sportsmanship Award, offered by Farraday Post, American Legion of Frostburg. He played four years of varsity soccer at Barton and captained the 1950 eleven. For two years he was named on the W. M. I. League all-star soccer teams and was chosen once on the W. M. I. all-star basketball team.

Earned 12 Letters

At Frostburg State Teachers College, where Kirk was graduated this year, he earned a total of 12 athletic letters for soccer, basketball and baseball and was selected on the All-Southern collegiate soccer team.

"Bill" is a brother of Bob Kirk, also a Barton High School grad and at present a junior at Frostburg State Teachers College. Bob, incidentally, is the holder of individual high-scoring records in basketball for the W. M. I. League and Frostburg State Teachers College.

Rabbits, Quail Legal Game In West Virginia

Season Opens Today And Ends January 7

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 10 (AP)—Opportunities for hunters will be enlarged tomorrow when rabbits and quail become legal game throughout West Virginia.

In addition, a two-day season on ring-necked pheasant, males only, opens tomorrow in six counties and part of a seventh.

The seasons on quail and the cottontail rabbit and varying hare will continue through Jan. 7. Bag limits are seven per day and 35 for the season on quail and four per day and 24 for the season on rabbits and hares together.

Ring-necked pheasant will be legal game tomorrow and Saturday in Berkeley, Brooke, Greenbrier, Jefferson, Mercer and Ohio counties and that portion of Monongalia County between the Monongahela and Cheat Rivers. The legal limit is two pheasant cocks for the season. Both may be taken the same day.

C. O. Handley, chief of the game division in the Conservation Department, said, "The population of both quail and rabbits seems to be better than average this year in most sections."

With the opening of the additional seasons tomorrow, all game except deer will be legal prey in West Virginia. Seasons on squirrels, ruffed grouse and wild turkets opened Oct. 15.

Bill Kirk Named Assistant To Cavanaugh At Fort Hill

Former Barton High And Bobcat Athlete New Basketball Aide

Appointment of William Russell Kirk, Jr., 22, of 209 Fayette Street, as assistant basketball coach at Fort Hill High School for the 1955-56 season, was announced last night.

Head coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's aide is a member of the junior high faculty at the Greenway Avenue school where he is a mathematics teacher.

A native of Barton, "Bill" was graduated in 1951 from Barton High School where he excelled in basketball and soccer. In 1950 and 1951 he was a member of Barton High's state Class "C" championship quints and in his senior year was the winner of the Georges Creek Basketball Sportsmanship Award, offered by Farraday Post, American Legion of Frostburg. He played four years of varsity soccer at Barton and captained the 1950 eleven. For two years he was named on the W. M. I. League all-star soccer teams and was chosen once on the W. M. I. all-star basketball team.

Earned 12 Letters

At Frostburg State Teachers College, where Kirk was graduated this year, he earned a total of 12 athletic letters for soccer, basketball and baseball and was selected on the All-Southern collegiate soccer team.

"Bill" is a brother of Bob Kirk, also a Barton High School grad and at present a junior at Frostburg State Teachers College. Bob, incidentally, is the holder of individual high-scoring records in basketball for the W. M. I. League and Frostburg State Teachers College.

Fort Hill's new assistant cage mentor is married.

U. S. Horses Rated Ones To Beat In $65,000 International

Social Outcast, Traffic Judge Choices Today In Laurel Race

13 Slated To Start, Overseas Visitors Favor Panaslipper

By JOHN CHANDLER

LAUREL, Md., Nov. 10 (AP)—An aristocratic field of 13 horses representing seven countries will shoot for the $65,000 Washington International at Laurel tomorrow, with the United States' Social Outcast and Traffic Judge rated the ones to beat.

But anyone who saw the first running of this mile and one half classic in 1952 will have to keep his fingers crossed. They don't take the runners from across the Atlantic lightly anymore.

Social Outcast is a leading candidate for 1955 handicap championship honors, from the barn of Alfred Vanderbilt. Traffic Judge, owned by Clifford Mooers, is the best 3-year-old around since Nashua and Swaps retired for the season.

Foreign Horses Won Two

In 1952 everyone said the U.S. would be 1-2-3, and "who will be the first foreigner after that?"

England's Wilwyn stunned the crowd by finishing first, while Greek Ship, the 6-5 American favorite with Eddie Arcaro up, staggered home sixth. Three of the first four under the wire were from across the pond.

France's Worden won in 1953 and Fisherman of the U.S. barely defeated Banassa of France last fall.

At any rate, the fourth running of a race that has become one of the world's greatest sporting events should prove a thriller. Top riders from this country and abroad will match skills before a crowd of socialites, diplomats, government officials and just plain two buck bettors.

Panaslipper Is Liked

If there is any foreign intrigue this time, say visitors from overseas, it could be Panaslipper, from the Land-of-the-Shamrock.

This 3-year-old colt is owned by the Irish National Stud, and runs in the blue and gold silks of Sean O'Kelly, president of Ireland. Panaslipper ran second in the English Derby and won the Irish Derby.

England is represented by Dorothy Paget's Nucleus and Sir Percy Loraine's Darius; France by Ralph Strassburger's Mahan and Count Roland de Chambure's Picounda; Germany by Baron Henry Thyssen's Ataturk; Canada by the Alberta Ranchs' Prefect; Venezuela by Jose Federico Siccardi's Prendase and Carlos V. Rincones' El Chama.

The other two U. S. horses are the Llangollen Farm's Mister Gus, winner of the $100,000 William P. Kyne Handicap, and Doug Small's Aeschylus, who won the Laurel Laurel Turf Cup.

Social Outcast, ridden by Eric Guerin remains the 3-1 choice. Traffic Judge, with Arcaro aboard, shortened slightly to 7-2 and Panaslipper dropped to 6-1 to share third choice with Mister Gus.

Hartack To Ride

Irishman Tommy Burns rides Panaslipper, while Willie Hartack, this nation's leading rider, will pilot Mister Gus.

The weatherman promised rain tonight, clearing tomorrow afternoon, temperatures in the 50's. The field gets away from a walkup start at 4:15 p.m. (EST).

Billy Pierce of the White Sox won 15 games during the 1955 season but could have won 20. He lost four 1-0 games and two 3-2 contests.

Beagle Trial Set Sunday

Fifth Of Series Starts At 8 a. m.

The Allegany Beagle Club will hold the fifth in a series of eight Plan B sanctioned field trials Sunday on the Barton Dairy Farm, McMullen highway.

Drawings for 15 inch hounds will be made at 8 a. m. while the 13 inch Beagles will be drawn at noon.

Winners in the eight trials qualify for the annual winners' stake of the club to be held in January.

Lunch will be served at the club house on Sunday.

Terps Drill In Rain For Game At Clemson

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Nov. 10 (AP)—Maryland's undefeated football team worked out in sweatsuits for 90 minutes in a driving rain today for Saturday's Atlantic Coast Conference clash with Clemson.

It was the Terps' last workout before they leave by plane, at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow, from National Airport. They are due to arrive at Anderson, S. C., about 1 p. m. and will go by bus the 20 miles to Clemson.

No workout is scheduled for tomorrow but the Maryland players will get a two-hour brain session with their coach, Jim Tatum.

Forty players will make the trip.

Texans Are Chosen For Blue-Gray Game

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 10 (AP)—Two veteran Texas Tech backs were added to the Souther roster today for the annual Blue-Gray football game Dec. 31.

They are quarterback Jack Kirkpatrick and Co-Captain Lonnie Graham, a fullback.

Tufts Will Head PGA Next Year

New York, Nov. 10 (AP)—Richard S. Tufts of Pinehurst, N.C., is scheduled to become president of the United States Golf Assn. next year, a report of the USGA Nominating Committee showed today. He will succeed Isaac B. Grainger of New York, president for the past two years.

The election will take place Jan. 28 and normally there is no contest.

Tufts has been a member of the USGA Executive Committee since 1946, served as secretary in 1950 and 1951 and has been a vice president since 1952.

Other nominations: Richmond Gray, Richmond, Va., new member of the Executive Committee.

West Virginia Picked To Beat Pitt Panthers

Terps, Oklahoma TCU, Navy Favored

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 10 (AP)—Here in the land of soft coal and hard mountains, West Virginia and Pittsburgh are sharpening their pick-axes for their annual football feud Saturday in Pittsburgh.

West Virginia is unbeaten, untied and bowl-conscious. Pitt is the great spoiler. We came down to get out of town and avoid the embarrassment of last week's 29-17 picking effort, which lowered the season's mark to .724.

West Virginia 20, Pitt 13: The Mountaineers are averaging 436 yards and 34.1 points per game, and this is the game they've been pointing for.

Maryland Is Choice

Maryland 27, Clemson 13: The Tigers could be very tough but Maryland has too much depth.

Notre Dame 34, North Carolina 7: The Tarheels lack the equipment to halt the Fighting Irish.

Texas Christian 28, Texas 21: The Cotton Bowl is the incentive.

Michigan State 20, Minnesota 0: The Spartans probably have developed into the best team in the Middle West.

UCLA 34, Washington 12: This was supposed to decide the Rose Bowl host but the Huskies haven't won in more than a month.

Tulane 20, Vanderbilt 19: So close a kick may decide it.

Navy 45, Columbia 7: Another rout but we'll concede a touchdown to Columbia's Claude Benham.

Friday

Miami (Fla) 28 Bucknell 0; Detroit 14 Villanova 0; Florida State 20 Furman 6.

Saturday

East — Syracuse 21 Colgate 14; Penn State 26 Rutgers 7; Harvard 13 Brown 7.

Midwest — Ohio State 20 Iowa 14; Purdue 27 Northwester 7; Wisconsin 14 Illinois 13; Missouri 20 Kansas State 7; Oklahoma A&M 19 Kansas 12.

Win Over Pitt Would Put WVU In Sugar Bowl

Outcome Of Syracuse Game Not Considered

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 10 (AP)—West Virginia's unbeaten and untied football team will get a major bowl bid—probably to the Sugar Bowl—early next week if it can whip powerful Pitt in Saturday's traditional head-bashing at Pittsburgh.

This was the reliable information today as the Mountaineers, the country's offense leaders with an average of 436 yards and 34.1 points a game, tapered off for their 60,000 sellout battle.

The bid will be tendered—and accepted—next Monday or Tuesday, without consideration of the game Nov. 19 with Syracuse, a team good enough to beat Army and Holy Cross, it was learned.

West Virginia officials, including the coach, Art Pappy Lewis, were noncommital on bowl feelers but didn't hesitate to extol the virtues of their unheralded team which has swept past seven foes this season.

"We may get our brains kicked in by Pittsburgh but that won't mean we haven't got a fine ball club," said Lewis, rough-hewn son of a West Virginia miner himself and one of the game's top recruiters and tacticians.

Defends Record, Schedule

"I'm proud of these boys and everything they've done and I'll defend their record and schedule to the last.

"In preparing for Pitt and Syracuse, we have had to review movies of games involving both Oklahoma and Maryland. I'm sure our boys could hold their own with either club."

Oklahoma and Maryland, headed for a collision in the Orange Bowl, are 1-2 in the Associated Press poll. With West Virginia at No. 6, those three form the entire unbeaten and untied list in major college ranks.

Fred Digby and other scouts from New Orleans' Sugar Bowl festival will be in the stands at Pitt Saturday. The Cotton Bowl also is likely to be spying on the contest, although the crowd in Dallas is reported leaning toward Navy, if available.

"If we get a bowl chance, I'll let the boys decide whether they want to go and where they want to go," the Mountaineer coach said. "I know this: They're itching to redeem that 42-19 beating by Georgia Tech in the Sugar Bowl two years ago—and the team they'd most like to play is Tech."

Asked about reports that, barring a more attractive offer, the Mountaineers may be interested in one of the minor bowls, the drawling West Virginia coach said:

Thinks Boys Big Time

"I think these boys are big time and deserve a big time chance. I'd rather wear a dress suit without underwear than go to a minor bowl."

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (INS) — On Nov. 11, 1918, we were stuck in the mud and rain and cold on the heights of Sedan figuring how long it would take us to get home.

Just 37 years later we are still figuring, but not how to get home. We are figuring which hoss will win the fourth running of the $65,000 Washington, D. C. International race tomorrow at Laurel, Md.

And we hope we are not as far wrong in our figuring today as we were back in France, when we were off by six months.

Tomorrow, we like Eddie Arcaro and Cliff Mooer's Traffic Judge in the mile-and-a-half test on the turf course.

Foreign horses won the first two runnings of the International, but Arcaro got home last year with Sonny Whitney's Fisherman.

Nine foreign horses and four Americans are slated to run this time. We know quite a bit about Alf Vanderbilt's Social Outcast, Liz Whitney Lunn's Mister Gus, Doug Small's Aeschylus and Traffic Judge.

But we know little or nothing about the representatives from Canada, France, England, Ireland, Germany and Venezuela except that they are rated at or around the top in their own countries.

This is a race of contrasts. And the contrast among owners and jockeys is just as great as it is among the horses.

There are titled hombres like Sir Percy Loraine, whose English colt, Darius, will be ridden by Willie Shoemaker, and Comte Roland De Chambure of France who owns Picounda, the only filly in the race.

Then we have Sean O'Kelly, president of Ireland, whose Panaslipper may be one of the choices.

There are several owners of vast wealth and others of ordinary means.

The jockeys, of course, are the best in their respective countries. Some are sensational youngsters Others are veterans of many long years on the turf.

There are England's sensational Lester Piggott who, although only 20, has been riding eight years; Ireland's Tommy Burns, another 20-year-old stripling; and our own Willie Hartack, 23, and Willie Shoemaker, 24.

By contrast we have Rae Johnstone who is 50 years old and Johnny Longden who is 45.

The jockeys, of course, are more famous than their mounts. Arcaro's mounts have earned more than $14,000,000. Longden has ridden more than 4,600 winners, second only to Sir Gordon Richards' record 4,870, and Shoemaker's 485 winners for one year is a world record.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10—(INS)—The Wes Santee case brings up the same old question: When is an amateur not an amateur?

The star Kansas miler has been accused of inflating his expense accounts, a charge that is forever with us against all star amateur athletes, but which always is difficult to prove.

These constant investigations appear rather farcical at times. And for two reasons. First, many promoters are only too willing to pay an athlete under the table if he is a good gate attraction.

Second, the word amateur has a different meaning in different sports even in this country. Football, baseball, hockey, tennis, golf and track and field put their own interpretations on the word amateur.

They also differ widely in their ideas of a legitimate expense account.

Not only do our various amateur governing bodies differ among themselves, but they are more widely at variance with similar bodies abroad.

In Canada, a man can play major league pro hockey for years, then quit and regain his amateur status. That's like Ted Williams or Stan Musial quitting baseball today and joining the amateur ranks tomorrow.

The Russians, of course, are all in a sense thinly disguised pros, subsidized and working for their government. If they don't make good as amateur athletes they are quickly returned to real work on the farm or in the factory.

Charges of so-called violations of amateurism are invariably made by disgruntled rival athletes or promoters who feel they have been held up by the athlete. Such promoters, of course, are more guilty than the athlete.

Many years ago a star athlete might find cash in an envelope in his locker. Or perhaps a hockable watch. College boys played for their alma mater on Saturday and under another name with the pros on Sunday.

College baseball and basketball players also played pro ball under assumed names.

And don't you think for a minute that the amateur powers didn't know what was going on all the time. They merely closed their eyes because they needed these same athletes.

The first memorable open break came when Paavo Nurmi, the fleet Finn, got $1,500 to come over here for one race in the old Madison Square Garden and then demanded $1,500 more to race once more for another promoter across the bridge in Brooklyn. The Brooklyn promoter squawked.

For the millionth time we repeat: What we need is a liberal universal code that can be respected and enforced.

Navy Holds Lead

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—Despite its 7-7 tie with Duke last Saturday, Navy continues to maintain first place in the Lambert Trophy voting. The award is given annually to the college football team deemed to be the unofficial Eastern champion.

The Middies swept every first place vote in this week's balloting and were followed by Pittsburgh, Yale, Syracuse and Penn State.

Yost Signs To Play 11th Year For Nats

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (INS)—Eddie Yost, veteran third baseman of the Washington Senators, today signed his contract for the 1956 American League season.

Exclusive of two years in the service, Yost has served 10 seasons with the Senators. He usually is the last on the roster to sign and holds out every spring.

Signing of the Yost contract came several days after it had been reported that he and pitcher Mickey McDermott soon would be traded in the team's current youth campaign. Yost is 32.

These reports followed the big trade in which Washington stars Mickey Vernon and Bob Porterfield were sent to the Boston Red Sox in a nine-player deal.

Costa Is Favored To Defeat Lopes

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—Carmelo Costa, the No. 4 featherweight from Brooklyn, whipped Joey Lopes in March and is a 7-5 favorite to do it again tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden.

Although Costa has marched forward steadily in 1955, he still is marking time in his campaign for a title shot at featherweight champion Sandy Saddler.

Because Costa lacks a kayo punch—he's knocked out only three men in 33 fights—there has been no great public demand that he be given a chance at the title.

Costa won a decision over Lopes by a unanimous vote March 18. In a career dating back to 1949, Lopes has a 32-8-2 record. He has 11 knockouts and was stopped three times.

The 10-round match scheduled for 10 p.m. (EST) will be carried on network television and radio (NBC).

Highest Women's International Bowling Congress three-game score turned in for the year through Oct. 8 was bowled by Mary Cappo of Philadelphia. She rolled a three-game series of 720. Hattie Wooster of Los Angeles was next with a 705 series.

Spill Marks Laurel Race

Jockeys Uninjured, Hartack Is Blanked

LAUREL, MD., Nov. 10—(AP)—Willie Shoemaker and three other jockeys narrowly escaped serious injury in a four-horse spill which marred the running of the seventh race at Laurel track today.

All somewhat dazed by their experience, the riders couldn't say what happened with any degree of accuracy, but it was established that Sakr-El-Bahr, under Oliver Cutshaw, went down first on the stretch turn and three others fell after tripping over their fallen rival.

Tortilla fell under Shoemaker, High Traffic fell with James Fitzgerald and Ben Cover tumbled under Jorge Contreras.

Upon reaching the first aid station, Shoemaker, the country's leading rider in 1953 and '54, said: "I'm okay except for being a little sore in my hips. I'll be able to ride tomorrow."

Jockey William Hartack, who narrowly missed going down in the 7th race spill, suffered his first winnerless day of the meeting when he was beaten on five heavy favorites and two outsiders. Sir Stake, ridden by Joe Culmone, drove on to win the seventh race, paying $112.40 for $2.

Valley View Farm's entry of Vici Admiral and Lady Elliott staged a stretch fight in the Rock Creek Purse, which topped today's program and the former outgamed her stablemate to win by a neck.

Half the passenger cars in America are four-door sedans.

U. S. Horses Rated Ones To Beat In $65,000 International

Social Outcast, Traffic Judge Choices Today In Laurel Race

By JOHN CHANDLER

LAUREL, Md., Nov. 10 (AP)—An aristocratic field of 13 horses representing seven countries will shoot for the $65,000 Washington International at Laurel tomorrow, with the United States' Social Outcast and Traffic Judge rated the ones to beat.

But anyone who saw the first running of this mile and one half classic in 1952 will have to keep his fingers crossed. They don't take the runners from across the Atlantic lightly anymore.

Social Outcast is a leading candidate for 1955 handicap championship honors, from the barn of Alfred Vanderbilt. Traffic Judge, owned by Clifford Mooers, is the best 3-year-old around since Nashua and Swaps retired for the season.

Foreign Horses Won Two

In 1952 everyone said the U.S. would be 1-2-3, and "who will be the first foreigner after that?"

England's Wilwyn stunned the crowd by finishing first, while Greek Ship, the 6-5 American favorite with Eddie Arcaro up, staggered home sixth. Three of the first four under the wire were from across the pond.

France's Worden won in 1953 and Fisherman of the U.S. barely defeated Banassa of France last fall.

At any rate, the fourth running of a race that has become one of the world's greatest sporting events should prove a thriller. Top riders from this country and abroad will match skills before a crowd of socialites, diplomats, government officials and just plain two buck bettors.

Panaslipper Is Liked

If there is any foreign intrigue this time, say visitors from overseas, it could be Panaslipper, from the Land-of-the-Shamrock.

This 3-year-old colt is owned by the Irish National Stud, and runs in the blue and gold silks of Sean O'Kelly, president of Ireland. Panaslipper ran second in the English Derby and won the Irish Derby.

England is represented by Dorothy Paget's Nucleus and Sir Percy Loraine's Darius; France by Ralph Strassburger's Mahan and Count Roland de Chambure's Picounda; Germany by Baron Henry Thyssen's Ataturk; Canada by the Alberta Ranchs' Prefect; Venezuela by Jose Federico Siccardi's Prendase and Carlos V. Rincones' El Chama.

The other two U. S. horses are the Llangollen Farm's Mister Gus, winner of the $100,000 William P. Kyne Handicap, and Doug Small's Aeschylus, who won the Laurel Laurel Turf Cup.

Social Outcast, ridden by Eric Guerin remains the 3-1 choice. Traffic Judge, with Arcaro aboard, shortened slightly to 7-2 and Panaslipper dropped to 6-1 to share third choice with Mister Gus.

Hartack To Ride

Irishman Tommy Burns rides Panaslipper, while Willie Hartack, this nation's leading rider, will pilot Mister Gus.

The weatherman promised rain tonight, clearing tomorrow afternoon, temperatures in the 50's. The field gets away from a walkup start at 4:15 p.m. (EST).

Billy Pierce of the White Sox won 15 games during the 1955 season but could have won 20. He lost four 1-0 games and two 3-2 contests.

Beagle Trial Set Sunday

Fifth Of Series Starts At 8 a. m.

The Allegany Beagle Club will hold the fifth in a series of eight Plan B sanctioned field trials Sunday on the Barton Dairy Farm, McMullen highway.

Drawings for 15 inch hounds will be made at 8 a. m. while the 13 inch Beagles will be drawn at noon.

Winners in the eight trials qualify for the annual winners' stake of the club to be held in January.

Lunch will be served at the club house on Sunday.

Terps Drill In Rain For Game At Clemson

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Nov. 10 (AP)—Maryland's undefeated football team worked out in sweatsuits for 90 minutes in a driving rain today for Saturday's Atlantic Coast Conference clash with Clemson.

It was the Terps' last workout before they leave by plane, at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow, from National Airport. They are due to arrive at Anderson, S. C., about 1 p. m. and will go by bus the 20 miles to Clemson.

No workout is scheduled for tomorrow but the Maryland players will get a two-hour brain session with their coach, Jim Tatum.

Forty players will make the trip.

Texans Are Chosen For Blue-Gray Game

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 10 (AP)—Two veteran Texas Tech backs were added to the Souther roster today for the annual Blue-Gray football game Dec. 31.

They are quarterback Jack Kirkpatrick and Co-Captain Lonnie Graham, a fullback.

Tufts Will Head PGA Next Year

New York, Nov. 10 (AP)—Richard S. Tufts of Pinehurst, N.C., is scheduled to become president of the United States Golf Assn. next year, a report of the USGA Nominating Committee showed today. He will succeed Isaac B. Grainger of New York, president for the past two years.

The election will take place Jan. 28 and normally there is no contest.

Tufts has been a member of the USGA Executive Committee since 1946, served as secretary in 1950 and 1951 and has been a vice president since 1952.

Other nominations: Richmond Gray, Richmond, Va., new member of the Executive Committee.

West Virginia Picked To Beat Pitt Panthers

Terps, Oklahoma TCU, Navy Favored

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 10 (AP)—Here in the land of soft coal and hard mountains, West Virginia and Pittsburgh are sharpening their pick-axes for their annual football feud Saturday in Pittsburgh.

West Virginia is unbeaten, untied and bowl-conscious. Pitt is the great spoiler. We came down to get out of town and avoid the embarrassment of last week's 29-17 picking effort, which lowered the season's mark to .724.

West Virginia 20, Pitt 13: The Mountaineers are averaging 436 yards and 34.1 points per game, and this is the game they've been pointing for.

Maryland Is Choice

Maryland 27, Clemson 13: The Tigers could be very tough but Maryland has too much depth.

Notre Dame 34, North Carolina 7: The Tarheels lack the equipment to halt the Fighting Irish.

Texas Christian 28, Texas 21: The Cotton Bowl is the incentive.

Michigan State 20, Minnesota 0: The Spartans probably have developed into the best team in the Middle West.

UCLA 34, Washington 12: This was supposed to decide the Rose Bowl host but the Huskies haven't won in more than a month.

Tulane 20, Vanderbilt 19: So close a kick may decide it.

Navy 45, Columbia 7: Another rout but we'll concede a touchdown to Columbia's Claude Benham.

Friday

Miami (Fla) 28 Bucknell 0; Detroit 14 Villanova 0; Florida State 20 Furman 6.

Saturday

Midwest — Ohio State 20 Iowa 14; Purdue 27 Northwester 7; Wisconsin 14 Illinois 13; Missouri 20 Kansas State 7; Oklahoma A&M 19 Kansas 12.

Win Over Pitt Would Put WVU In Sugar Bowl

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 10 (AP)—West Virginia's unbeaten and untied football team will get a major bowl bid—probably to the Sugar Bowl—early next week if it can whip powerful Pitt in Saturday's traditional head-bashing at Pittsburgh.

This was the reliable information today as the Mountaineers, the country's offense leaders with an average of 436 yards and 34.1 points a game, tapered off for their 60,000 sellout battle.

The bid will be tendered—and accepted—next Monday or Tuesday, without consideration of the game Nov. 19 with Syracuse, a team good enough to beat Army and Holy Cross, it was learned.

West Virginia officials, including the coach, Art Pappy Lewis, were noncommital on bowl feelers but didn't hesitate to extol the virtues of their unheralded team which has swept past seven foes this season.

"We may get our brains kicked in by Pittsburgh but that won't mean we haven't got a fine ball club," said Lewis, rough-hewn son of a West Virginia miner himself and one of the game's top recruiters and tacticians.

Defends Record, Schedule

"I'm proud of these boys and everything they've done and I'll defend their record and schedule to the last.

"In preparing for Pitt and Syracuse, we have had to review movies of games involving both Oklahoma and Maryland. I'm sure our boys could hold their own with either club."

Oklahoma and Maryland, headed for a collision in the Orange Bowl, are 1-2 in the Associated Press poll. With West Virginia at No. 6, those three form the entire unbeaten and untied list in major college ranks.

Fred Digby and other scouts from New Orleans' Sugar Bowl festival will be in the stands at Pitt Saturday. The Cotton Bowl also is likely to be spying on the contest, although the crowd in Dallas is reported leaning toward Navy, if available.

"If we get a bowl chance, I'll let the boys decide whether they want to go and where they want to go," the Mountaineer coach said. "I know this: They're itching to redeem that 42-19 beating by Georgia Tech in the Sugar Bowl two years ago—and the team they'd most like to play is Tech."

Asked about reports that, barring a more attractive offer, the Mountaineers may be interested in one of the minor bowls, the drawling West Virginia coach said:

Thinks Boys Big Time

"I think these boys are big time and deserve a big time chance. I'd rather wear a dress suit without underwear than go to a minor bowl."

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (INS) — On Nov. 11, 1918, we were stuck in the mud and rain and cold on the heights of Sedan figuring how long it would take us to get home.

Just 37 years later we are still figuring, but not how to get home. We are figuring which hoss will win the fourth running of the $65,000 Washington, D. C. International race tomorrow at Laurel, Md.

And we hope we are not as far wrong in our figuring today as we were back in France, when we were off by six months.

Tomorrow, we like Eddie Arcaro and Cliff Mooer's Traffic Judge in the mile-and-a-half test on the turf course.

Foreign horses won the first two runnings of the International, but Arcaro got home last year with Sonny Whitney's Fisherman.

Nine foreign horses and four Americans are slated to run this time. We know quite a bit about Alf Vanderbilt's Social Outcast, Liz Whitney Lunn's Mister Gus, Doug Small's Aeschylus and Traffic Judge.

But we know little or nothing about the representatives from Canada, France, England, Ireland, Germany and Venezuela except that they are rated at or around the top in their own countries.

This is a race of contrasts. And the contrast among owners and jockeys is just as great as it is among the horses.

There are titled hombres like Sir Percy Loraine, whose English colt, Darius, will be ridden by Willie Shoemaker, and Comte Roland De Chambure of France who owns Picounda, the only filly in the race.

Then we have Sean O'Kelly, president of Ireland, whose Panaslipper may be one of the choices.

There are several owners of vast wealth and others of ordinary means.

The jockeys, of course, are the best in their respective countries. Some are sensational youngsters Others are veterans of many long years on the turf.

There are England's sensational Lester Piggott who, although only 20, has been riding eight years; Ireland's Tommy Burns, another 20-year-old stripling; and our own Willie Hartack, 23, and Willie Shoemaker, 24.

By contrast we have Rae Johnstone who is 50 years old and Johnny Longden who is 45.

The jockeys, of course, are more famous than their mounts. Arcaro's mounts have earned more than $14,000,000. Longden has ridden more than 4,600 winners, second only to Sir Gordon Richards' record 4,870, and Shoemaker's 485 winners for one year is a world record.

It all goes to make a colorful and exciting race.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10—(INS)—The Wes Santee case brings up the same old question: When is an amateur not an amateur?

The star Kansas miler has been accused of inflating his expense accounts, a charge that is forever with us against all star amateur athletes, but which always is difficult to prove.

These constant investigations appear rather farcical at times. And for two reasons. First, many promoters are only too willing to pay an athlete under the table if he is a good gate attraction.

Second, the word amateur has a different meaning in different sports even in this country. Football, baseball, hockey, tennis, golf and track and field put their own interpretations on the word amateur.

They also differ widely in their ideas of a legitimate expense account.

Not only do our various amateur governing bodies differ among themselves, but they are more widely at variance with similar bodies abroad.

In Canada, a man can play major league pro hockey for years, then quit and regain his amateur status. That's like Ted Williams or Stan Musial quitting baseball today and joining the amateur ranks tomorrow.

The Russians, of course, are all in a sense thinly disguised pros, subsidized and working for their government. If they don't make good as amateur athletes they are quickly returned to real work on the farm or in the factory.

Charges of so-called violations of amateurism are invariably made by disgruntled rival athletes or promoters who feel they have been held up by the athlete. Such promoters, of course, are more guilty than the athlete.

Many years ago a star athlete might find cash in an envelope in his locker. Or perhaps a hockable watch. College boys played for their alma mater on Saturday and under another name with the pros on Sunday.

College baseball and basketball players also played pro ball under assumed names.

And don't you think for a minute that the amateur powers didn't know what was going on all the time. They merely closed their eyes because they needed these same athletes.

The first memorable open break came when Paavo Nurmi, the fleet Finn, got $1,500 to come over here for one race in the old Madison Square Garden and then demanded $1,500 more to race once more for another promoter across the bridge in Brooklyn. The Brooklyn promoter squawked.

For the millionth time we repeat: What we need is a liberal universal code that can be respected and enforced.

Navy Holds Lead

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—Despite its 7-7 tie with Duke last Saturday, Navy continues to maintain first place in the Lambert Trophy voting. The award is given annually to the college football team deemed to be the unofficial Eastern champion.

The Middies swept every first place vote in this week's balloting and were followed by Pittsburgh, Yale, Syracuse and Penn State.

Yost Signs To Play 11th Year For Nats

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (INS)—Eddie Yost, veteran third baseman of the Washington Senators, today signed his contract for the 1956 American League season.

Exclusive of two years in the service, Yost has served 10 seasons with the Senators. He usually is the last on the roster to sign and holds out every spring.

Signing of the Yost contract came several days after it had been reported that he and pitcher Mickey McDermott soon would be traded in the team's current youth campaign. Yost is 32.

These reports followed the big trade in which Washington stars Mickey Vernon and Bob Porterfield were sent to the Boston Red Sox in a nine-player deal.

Costa Is Favored To Defeat Lopes

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—Carmelo Costa, the No. 4 featherweight from Brooklyn, whipped Joey Lopes in March and is a 7-5 favorite to do it again tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden.

Although Costa has marched forward steadily in 1955, he still is marking time in his campaign for a title shot at featherweight champion Sandy Saddler.

Because Costa lacks a kayo punch—he's knocked out only three men in 33 fights—there has been no great public demand that he be given a chance at the title.

Costa won a decision over Lopes by a unanimous vote March 18. In a career dating back to 1949, Lopes has a 32-8-2 record. He has 11 knockouts and was stopped three times.

The 10-round match scheduled for 10 p.m. (EST) will be carried on network television and radio (NBC).

Highest Women's International Bowling Congress three-game score turned in for the year through Oct. 8 was bowled by Mary Cappo of Philadelphia. She rolled a three-game series of 720. Hattie Wooster of Los Angeles was next with a 705 series.

Spill Marks Laurel Race

Jockeys Uninjured, Hartack Is Blanked

LAUREL, MD., Nov. 10—(AP)—Willie Shoemaker and three other jockeys narrowly escaped serious injury in a four-horse spill which marred the running of the seventh race at Laurel track today.

All somewhat dazed by their experience, the riders couldn't say what happened with any degree of accuracy, but it was established that Sakr-El-Bahr, under Oliver Cutshaw, went down first on the stretch turn and three others fell after tripping over their fallen rival.

Tortilla fell under Shoemaker, High Traffic fell with James Fitzgerald and Ben Cover tumbled under Jorge Contreras.

Upon reaching the first aid station, Shoemaker, the country's leading rider in 1953 and '54, said: "I'm okay except for being a little sore in my hips. I'll be able to ride tomorrow."

Jockey William Hartack, who narrowly missed going down in the 7th race spill, suffered his first winnerless day of the meeting when he was beaten on five heavy favorites and two outsiders. Sir Stake, ridden by Joe Culmone, drove on to win the seventh race, paying $112.40 for $2.

Valley View Farm's entry of Vici Admiral and Lady Elliott staged a stretch fight in the Rock Creek Purse, which topped today's program and the former outgamed her stablemate to win by a neck.

Half the passenger cars in America are four-door sedans.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 10 (INS) — I am happy this morning to tell you that Dick Long, who was so wonderful to his wife, Suzan Ball, all through her tragic illness, has himself a good job. He's been signed by Jonie Taps for Frankie Laine's musical, "The Last Laugh."

Interesting, too, that this will be Lucy Marlowe's first picture since her marriage to the popular Yankee third baseman Andy Carey. Lucy is still honeymooning in Japan, but she will be home next Wednesday to start the picture.

In all the years I've known Jane Wyman, I've never seen her as excited as she is about "Bamboo Cross," the story of the Maryknoll nun originally called "Nun in Red China."

Sister Maria Del Rey, who spent a good deal of time in Red China as well as in a Japanese concentration camp in World War II, has been flown to Hollywood from New York to act as technical advisor.

To Director John Ford this television show is a labor of love. He is donating his salary to the wonderful Maryknoll nuns. Lawrence Stallings has adopted the story, which is a powerful one. You'll see it Dec. 6 on Jane's Fireside Theater.

Snaps:

Bogey gets in town tomorrow and wins a medal for good conduct. He never had a single battle while he and Lauren Bacall were in the east.

Adela Rogers St. John's son, McCullough St. John, has been made editor of the Hollywood Reporter.

Here they go again, the same old traveling group. Millie Considine, Earl Blackwell, Ann Miller, who are on the Caribbean junket. Wish I might have accepted the invitation. With them are Linda Darnell and Hermes Pan.

Leigh Snowden, who will marry Dick Contino if certain religious troubles can be ironed out; will go to Tennessee to bring her two children here for Christmas.

Former President Harry Truman arrives here from Seattle in Ed Pauley's private plane the last of the month to attend a dinner at the Beverly Hilton Hotel.

Gary Crosby is slated for five Jack Benny TV shows, which will be Producer Ralph Levy's way of building Gary for his own half hour air series. He was so good on "Shower of Stars" with Benny.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Couldn't Prove Payment. This bewildered young man was sure he had made a cash payment on his garage bill, but he can't find the receipt and so has no proof of it. It would be far wiser for him to pay all his bills with THRIFTICHECKS and thus keep a record of all payments in his checkbook, have cancelled checks to prove them. A THRIFTICHECK personal checking account can be opened with any amount. No minimum balance is required, and the cost is only a few cents a check. Every THRIFTICHECK customer has his name smartly printed on his checks at no extra cost. A THERMOSTAT IN EVERY ROOM

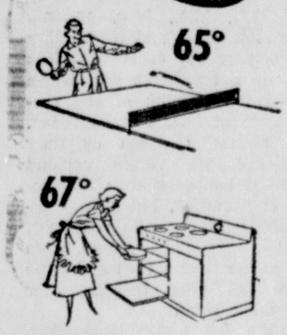
WITH SelecTemp TRADE MARK

A PRODUCT OF IRON FIREMAN



It's true! Now you can have this ultra-modern heating system, which includes a thermostat in every room. And the cost is little more—if any—than central systems with only one thermostat for the whole house.

Look at these advantages: Filtered warm air, circulated by steam turbine-driven fans. No wiring or electricity required for fans or thermostats. Low pressure steam is carried to room units through small flexible copper tubing. Heat can be turned down in unused rooms and quickly brought up again when wanted. Elimination of overheating means fuel economy.

The International First Night

VIENNA.

When I first came to New York some twenty years ago, it was considered a great coup if you could manage to wangle a couple of tickets to a Broadway opening. There you could gaze on Noel and Alec and Cole and the other great and familiar faces and get the warm inner glow of being there first.

Well, tickets for Broadway openings are as hard as ever to come by, but the opening bit has expanded terribly since I was a boy. Now the big deal is to climb into an airplane and go to something that's opening in Istanbul. Or Madrid. Or, in this particular case, Vienna. Already the international opening, very much a postwar phenomenon, is settling into its own fixed routine. As you wander down the airplane aisle you encounter the same old familiar faces—Hedda and Earl and Jinx and Lennie. These are the new-style first-nighters. In another couple of years, the new first-nighter will have pretty well girdled the globe—opening hotels in Caracas and operas in Vienna and hot dog stands in Bangkok. And then one fine day—you mark my words—there'll be the first rocket ship to the moon and as you wander down the aisle of the rocket, there'll be Hedda and Earl and Jinx and Lennie . . .

All of this, of course, has been brought about by the airliner. Back in the old days, I recall, a few of the better-heeled citizens, hearing of the immense success of Noel Coward's "Cavalcade," boarded ship and sailed off to London to see it. But they didn't get there for the opening. Now, if you can't make the opening, why bother?

This particular occasion, of course, is the reopening after ten years of the Vienna State Opera, one of the splashiest social events in Europe of the last 100 years. To all you students of the international opening, this one differs from the others in a way that may have far-reaching implications. The others — to my knowledge — have been largely American affairs. This one is anything but that.

We Americans were largely fetched here by Pan American World Airways, which just inaugurated direct service from Idlewild to Vienna. When we touched down at the Vienna airport, there were lined up ahead of us a Russian airliner, Czech airliner, Polish airliner, Yugoslav airliner, Scandinavian airliner, American Air Force plane and an American embassy plane. It's a fairly safe guess that every one of those planes brought somebody to attend the opera opening.

This just complicates a ticket situation that makes the first night ticket situation on Broadway seem like child's play. Seated and standing, the Staatsoper, bulging at the seams, will accommodate just 2,595 opera lovers. In the last year or so there have been 30,000 requests for tickets to the opening, most of them from Austrians and most of these Viennese.

Of the thousands of disappointed Viennese, to whom the opera house is the very heart beat of the city, hundreds were displaced by foreigners from all over Europe, to say nothing of America. In short, the dedicated Viennese opera lover is getting the same treatment as the dedicated Brooklyn Dodger fan around World Series time. The bigshots get the tickets and the guy who supports the club all the rest of the year can't get in.

We in New York are familiar with the patient fellows who queue up for tickets hours or sometimes days in advance. Here, though, some sort of record for fortitude was established when applicants for the 478 standee tickets arrived at the box office a week before "Fidelio," the opening night opera, was to be performed. They were prepared to wait there the whole week—but after a night and day—during which the management invited them into the house out of the cold and fed them coffee—they were given tickets and sent home.

Instantly, a second queue formed for the second night opera, "Don Giovanni." They are mostly kids (or bobby-soxers, a word that has gone into the German language) and they follow a hallowed Viennese tradition. Bruno Walter, who grew up to become one of the greatest of the opera's conductors, did it as a teenager. So did Tilly Losch, who started her dancing career at the age of six on the stage of the Staatsoper and who was at the present reopening. So did a lot of others who were to become great operatic figures. The present crop of bobby-sox standees sit or lie on the stone floor—some of them bring rubber mattresses—and play cards or talk or sleep—and appear to be having a very good time.

But, as I say, the international first night could develop into quite a problem. Now that the Russians, the Czechs, the Poles, the Yugoslavs and the Scandinavians have discovered the Viennese first night, they could quite easily discover that we have them, too. The Russians have just announced jet service starting next year. Now just suppose some well-heeled Russian gets wind of a Rodgers and Hammerstein opening. It'll be harder than ever to get a ticket to a Broadway opening. And the Brooklyn Dodger fan will be even more frustrated. Some guy named Malenkov will be sitting in his seat.

THE EXPERTS DISAGREED

NORTH AND SOUTH in the following deal were well-known experts, but they did not see eye-to-eye about the meaning of a certain bid.

North dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

	♠ J 3 ♥ A J 10 9 4 2 ♦ 10 8 4 3 ♣ 7
♠ A K 8 6 ♥ K 7 ♦ 9 5 2 ♣ K 10 8 5	N W E S	♠ 5 4 2 ♥ Q 8 6 ♦ Q J 7 6 ♣ 9 4 3
	♠ Q 10 9 7 ♥ 5 3 ♦ A K ♣ A Q J 6 2

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♣	1 ♠
2 ♥	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	3 NT	Pass
Pass	Pass

The opposing bidding convinced West that he would get nowhere with a spade lead, so he tried the "sneak attack" of a diamond. Then, when South led a heart, West promptly put up the king—a good play against the entryless dummy, but no more than routine on the part of an expert, which West was.

Obviously, South now faced a hopeless situation: he could not win more than one heart trick. As a consequence, he went down two—and then he and his partner took up the interesting but profitless discussion of who had been to blame for not reaching the right contract, four hearts.

North argued that his own refusal to raise notrump was a direct warning against that contract, and he insisted that South should have raised the rebid heart suit to game instead of persisting in notrump.

South countered that North should have gone on to four hearts over three notrump for the simple reason that he (North) couldn't stand notrump.

Needless to say, there were other arguments from both sides of the table, but the issue was clear: should South bid four hearts instead of three notrump; and when he actually bid three notrump, should North pass or continue with his major suit?

Despite the fact that some high-ranking masters support the position North took, it seems to this observer that South's argument is the logical one. North's three-heart rebid over two notrump does not disclaim the ability to stand a notrump contract—it merely expresses a preference for hearts—and North's hand calls for a stronger declaration than that.

The International First Night

VIENNA.

When I first came to New York some twenty years ago, it was considered a great coup if you could manage to wangle a couple of tickets to a Broadway opening. There you could gaze on Noel and Alec and Cole and the other great and familiar faces and get the warm inner glow of being there first.

Well, tickets for Broadway openings are as hard as ever to come by, but the opening bit has expanded terribly since I was a boy. Now the big deal is to climb into an airplane and go to something that's opening in Istanbul. Or Madrid. Or, in this particular case, Vienna. Already the international opening, very much a postwar phenomenon, is settling into its own fixed routine. As you wander down the airplane aisle you encounter the same old familiar faces—Hedda and Earl and Jinx and Lennie. These are the new-style first-nighters. In another couple of years, the new first-nighter will have pretty well girdled the globe—opening hotels in Caracas and operas in Vienna and hot dog stands in Bangkok. And then one fine day—you mark my words—there'll be the first rocket ship to the moon and as you wander down the aisle of the rocket, there'll be Hedda and Earl and Jinx and Lennie . . .

All of this, of course, has been brought about by the airliner. Back in the old days, I recall, a few of the better-heeled citizens, hearing of the immense success of Noel Coward's "Cavalcade," boarded ship and sailed off to London to see it. But they didn't get there for the opening. Now, if you can't make the opening, why bother?

This particular occasion, of course, is the reopening after ten years of the Vienna State Opera, one of the splashiest social events in Europe of the last 100 years. To all you students of the international opening, this one differs from the others in a way that may have far-reaching implications. The others — to my knowledge — have been largely American affairs. This one is anything but that.

We Americans were largely fetched here by Pan American World Airways, which just inaugurated direct service from Idlewild to Vienna. When we touched down at the Vienna airport, there were lined up ahead of us a Russian airliner, Czech airliner, Polish airliner, Yugoslav airliner, Scandinavian airliner, American Air Force plane and an American embassy plane. It's a fairly safe guess that every one of those planes brought somebody to attend the opera opening.

This just complicates a ticket situation that makes the first night ticket situation on Broadway seem like child's play. Seated and standing, the Staatsoper, bulging at the seams, will accommodate just 2,595 opera lovers. In the last year or so there have been 30,000 requests for tickets to the opening, most of them from Austrians and most of these Viennese.

Of the thousands of disappointed Viennese, to whom the opera house is the very heart beat of the city, hundreds were displaced by foreigners from all over Europe, to say nothing of America. In short, the dedicated Viennese opera lover is getting the same treatment as the dedicated Brooklyn Dodger fan around World Series time. The bigshots get the tickets and the guy who supports the club all the rest of the year can't get in.

We in New York are familiar with the patient fellows who queue up for tickets hours or sometimes days in advance. Here, though, some sort of record for fortitude was established when applicants for the 478 standee tickets arrived at the box office a week before "Fidelio," the opening night opera, was to be performed. They were prepared to wait there the whole week—but after a night and day—during which the management invited them into the house out of the cold and fed them coffee—they were given tickets and sent home.

Instantly, a second queue formed for the second night opera, "Don Giovanni." They are mostly kids (or bobby-soxers, a word that has gone into the German language) and they follow a hallowed Viennese tradition. Bruno Walter, who grew up to become one of the greatest of the opera's conductors, did it as a teenager. So did Tilly Losch, who started her dancing career at the age of six on the stage of the Staatsoper and who was at the present reopening. So did a lot of others who were to become great operatic figures. The present crop of bobby-sox standees sit or lie on the stone floor—some of them bring rubber mattresses—and play cards or talk or sleep—and appear to be having a very good time.

But, as I say, the international first night could develop into quite a problem. Now that the Russians, the Czechs, the Poles, the Yugoslavs and the Scandinavians have discovered the Viennese first night, they could quite easily discover that we have them, too. The Russians have just announced jet service starting next year. Now just suppose some well-heeled Russian gets wind of a Rodgers and Hammerstein opening. It'll be harder than ever to get a ticket to a Broadway opening. And the Brooklyn Dodger fan will be even more frustrated. Some guy named Malenkov will be sitting in his seat.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of wife and mother who passed away Nov. 12, 1955.
Deep in our hearts lies a picture,
Of a loved one gone to rest.
In memory's frame we shall keep it,
Because you were one of the best.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true.
There is not a day dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
M. M. Smiley, husband, Mrs. Murray Eccleton, Mrs. Russell Minnicks, daughters.

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Mary C. Twigg, who passed away Nov. 11, 1945.
Though the years be many or few,
They are filled with memories,
Dear Mother of you.
Sadly missed by her daughters
ALICE & JENNIE

In loving memory of my dear son, Cpl. Harry R. Keller, who died 10 years ago today, November 11, 1945.
There's an open gate at the end of the road,
Through which each must go alone.
And there in a light we cannot see,
Our Father claims His own.
Beyond the gate our loved ones,
Find happiness and rest,
And there is comfort in the thought
That a loving God knows best.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of wife and mother who passed away Nov. 12, 1955.
Deep in our hearts lies a picture,
Of a loved one gone to rest.
In memory's frame we shall keep it,
Because you were one of the best.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true.
There is not a day dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
M. M. Smiley, husband, Mrs. Murray Eccleton, Mrs. Russell Minnicks, daughters.

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Mary C. Twigg, who passed away Nov. 11, 1945.
Though the years be many or few,
They are filled with memories,
Dear Mother of you.
Sadly missed by her daughters
ALICE & JENNIE

In loving memory of my dear son, Cpl. Harry R. Keller, who died 10 years ago today, November 11, 1945.
There's an open gate at the end of the road,
Through which each must go alone.
And there in a light we cannot see,
Our Father claims His own.
Beyond the gate our loved ones,
Find happiness and rest,
And there is comfort in the thought
That a loving God knows best.
Missed by Mother, Brothers & Sisters

Sudden Snow Storm Snarls Area Traffic

7.8 Inches Falls On Cumberland; Utilities Affected

A sudden snowfall, first of the season, dumped 7.8 inches upon Cumberland and the tri-state area in a matter of several hours yesterday afternoon and evening and disrupted communications, snarled up traffic and knocked down power lines.

Numerous minor traffic accidents were reported to state police in Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, with tow trucks working to capacity to help motorists caught without chains in heavy snowdrifts along the highways.

State Roads Commission trucks began working with the advent of the heavy snowfall about 2:30 p. m. clearing major roadways for snarled-up traffic.

Some 200 automobiles were tied up on Route 220 north of the city for several hours until plows could clear the highway. West Virginia Route 28 to Romney also was closed for some time because of the slippery and hazardous surface of the road.

Travel on Route 40 west of Frostburg came almost to a standstill untill about 6 o'clock, Maryland State Police in LaVale reported. Police said mountain highways were very dangerous and cautioned all motorists to do as little travel as possible. Buses were running several hours behind schedule into the city.

In Cumberland, Street Department crews started on the job about 3 o' clock to salt streets and apply chemicals to clear away the snow. Commissioner William H. Buchholtz said all crews would remain working throughout the night until the streets were cleared.

Frostburg Has Less

The mixture of snow and rain began falling about 2:10 and turned to a heavy snowfall about 2:30. Later in the evening some rain was mixed with the snow as it slacked off about 9 p. m.

In Garrett County, SRC trucks and crews were cindering early and snow was still falling last night. Accident reported temperatures of 32 with several inches of snow. At Oakland trucks were on duty with a similar report.

Telephone lines between Romney and Cumberland and between here and Bedford were knocked out, while Frostburg was placed on an emergency basis for several hours.

C. Walter Haschert, manager of the local C&P Telephone Company, reported lines down in several places between the Queen City and Romney because of the heavy snow.

A tremendous influx of calls in Cumberland and Frostburg caused an overload in the Mountain City. The Frostburg switchboards were very heavily overloaded, Haschert said, resulting in the emergency basis placed on all calls between 3:45 and 9 p. m.

Margaret M. Fair, chief operator at Frostburg, said, "I never saw anything like it." Calls were so numerous the switchboard was unable to handle them, she added.

2,500 Calls In Hour

A heavier than normal hour is about 700 calls, the supervisor noted, but between 4 and 5 p. m. Frostburg operators had 2,500 calls.

Haschert said that had Cumberland not had the dial system he doubted if the heavy load of calls in the city could have been taken care of.

"The equipment handled the calls very well," he said, "with only slight delays in obtaining dial tones."

Harry G. Grimes, supervisor of the line department, said PE circuits were out on Irons Mountain, Green Ridge Mountain, in Short Gap, W. Va., Chaneysville, Pa., and Broadway Circle.

Radio, TV Disrupted

The Irons Mountain trouble — shorted wires caused by trees bending into power lines under the weight of clinging snow—caused power failures for Radio Station WTBO, which went off the air about 6:30 p. m., and for cable television throughout Cumberland as Potomac Valley Television Company service was disrupted about 7 o'clock.

More than 40 men were out working to repair the power line damage, Grimes said.

Robert R. Golden, Weather Bureau observer in Cumberland, noted that this marked only the fourth

Concert Ticket Receipts Now Over Expenses

As of early yesterday morning, ticket sales for tonight's concert by the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra had surpassed the amount needed for expenses, and all receipts after that time yesterday and all day today will go for the benefit of the Cumberland Free Public Library.

Commercial production of Forticel, the new cellulose propionate plastic material, is commencing, he said, and the company has made arrangements to enter a new and highly promising field of low pressure polyethylene plastics which will further serve to diversify the company's line of products.

Facilities for the company's new industrial fiber, Fortisan-36, have been brought into production and the fiber will soon be on the market, he said.

Two Firemen Are Hurt In Barton Blaze

Matthews Home Gutted By Fire

Two volunteer firemen were injured yesterday evening when the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Matthews, Barton, was destroyed by flames.

Ernest Poland, assistant chief, who was directing fire-fighting operations of the Barton Volunteer Fire Company, sustained a fractured right ankle and was treated by a Lonaconing physician.

Firemen said neither the building, owned by Mrs. Ruth Robertson, nor the furnishings were insured. The firemen, though unable to save the home since the fire had such a headstart, were able to save an adjoining garage and truck.

An overheated stove located in the living room of the home was blamed for the blaze, firemen said. Mrs. Matthews, an expectant mother, was fortunate in escaping uninjured from the blazing, building, firemen said.

Two lines from nearby hydrants and two lines from the company's two pumpers were trained on the burning building.

The Matthews lost all their belongings in the blaze, which broke out about 6:05 p. m. Firemen were still on the scene late last night wetting down the smouldering embers.

Firemen said the Matthews will stay temporarily at the home of his father, Edward Matthews, Moscow. Matthews was not at home at the time of the fire.

Senior Citizens Hear Veterans Day Address

Veterans Day is a day of conscience and a monument to victory, members of the Senior Citizens Club were told yesterday, but it is also a symbol of failure.

The forces of freedom won the war but lost the peace, Capt. Henry W. Tubbs Jr., inspector-instructor for the Marine Corps Reserve here, said in a citizenship address to the Recreation Department sponsored club.

Veterans, or Armistice Day, he said, is a day of pride in the achievement of others and humiliation in our own. The Armed Forces, he added, can wage wars but cannot make peace.

A symbol of the failure, he continued, is the United Nations, full of hope when it was formed 10 years ago but now riddled by fear and suspicion.

The Armed Forces, he added, do not think war is the only way out and do not want a "preventive" war. He warned that working out a lasting peace may take a long time, due to the intensity of the ideological difference which exist in the world today.

America has shown in its aid to Greece and Korea and in the Marshall Plan that it will go to the aid of any country whose freedom is endangered "since a threat to freedom anywhere is a threat to our own lives," he said.

He urged members of the club to practice good citizenship and to carry on the great heritage left by the founders of this country.

Capt. Tubbs' talk was the main feature of the meeting of the Senior Citizens Club which met yesterday afternoon in the Elks Club here.

Flue Fire Checked

Firemen from South End answered an alarm at 1:20 p. m. yesterday at 912 Glenwood Street, which turned out to be a flue fire. No damage was caused, firemen said.

Auxiliary To Meet

The Ladies Auxiliary of the LaVale Firemen will meet at 8 p. m. today at the fire hall.

Restaurant Burns

Four volunteer fire companies last night fought a stubborn fire at Gehauf's Restaurant along Route 40 west of Cumberland. The blaze was discovered about 7 p. m. and firemen were still on the scene late last night. Volunteers from LaVale, Cresaptown, Clarysville and Frostburg were fighting the blaze. In the above picture firemen can be seen in action along the side of the burning building. The spots along the top of the picture are snowflakes which were falling heavily during the blaze.

4-Alarm Fire Damages Area Restaurant

The interior of the building was damaged, firemen said, by water and smoke. The blaze, fought by volunteers of four companies, was brought under control about 8:30 p. m. after being reported about 7 p. m.

However, volunteers from LaVale were still on duty late last night "mopping up" the remnants of the damaging blaze. LaVale received a call about 7 p. m. and minutes later volunteers from Clarysville, Cresaptown and Frostburg were called in to assist.

Firemen reported the blaze between the false ceiling and roof of the one-story building had to be fought in sections. Booster pumps were used at the outset of the blaze and later larger lines were trained into the building.

Damage to the ceiling in the kitchen was not too extensive and more serious damage was done to the ceiling of the dining room section. Grease apparently caught fire on the stove and the fire was sucked up through the air duct into the false ceiling.

When firemen arrived on the scene the entire roof was ablaze. The fire fighters were not only hampered by the narrow space between the ceiling and roof which contained insulation, but also by the weather conditions.

The full amount of damage caused by the fire was not known last night and whether or not the building and equipment was fully covered by insurance also was not known.

Cromwell C. Zembower of LaVale Fire Company said unit of volunteers who were still cleaning up last night were in charge of Chief Bruce Long.

Stock located in the basement apparently was not damaged since it was stored on racks, firemen said.

Recruiting Officer Makes Visit Here

Lt. Cmdr. L. T. Howard, who recently assumed duties as officer in charge of the Baltimore Recruiting District of the U. S. Navy, made a "get acquainted" visit yesterday to the local recruiting office.

He is making a tour of the various offices of which he is in charge. Chief Eugene Morgan, local recruiting officer, said Commander Howard for a time was gunnery officer on the USS Norfolk and was recently named to his new post.

Legion, VFW Burial Detail Is Active Military Group

By CHARLES H. KELLY
News Staff Writer

The furling of flags, the sound of the volley of the firing squad and the echo of Taps by a bugler, amidst the silence of a military funeral, is an impressive graveside ceremony long to be remembered.

Since the close of World War II, such graveside military services have been accorded to over 700 local and area veterans of the Spanish-American War, World War I and II and the Korean conflict by a burial detail composed of members of Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, and Henry Hart Post 1411, VFW.

The detail, which consists of men who served in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force, will participate in the Veterans' Day program here today.

A highlight of the day's activities will be a formal joint retreat with members of the detail taking part. The military formation, which marks the close of a soldier's peacetime day and pays respect to the flag as it is lowered, will be held on the lawn of the homes of the two local veterans' organizations at 5 p. m. under the direction of Vernon Crable.

Capt. Raymond F. Whitehair, past VFW commander, will act as battalion commander. The detail also will participate in the program scheduled at 11 a. m. at the Post Office and will march in the parade planned in the downtown business section beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Albert Keren Jr. will be bugler at the morning and evening ceremonies. Military rites by the local detail, according to R. Stanton Byer, chairman, have been accorded to as many as three servicemen in one day, 10 in a week's period. At times the detail has traveled as far as 75 miles in order to complete a service.

Such services have been accorded in all kinds of weather. As a result of continued faithfulness to duty, the detail has received letters of commendation from several military headquarters for the excellence of its efforts.

Other occasions when the detail participated included the opening of the Bicentennial celebration here when Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin addressed an audience at Fort Hill stadium, and more recently, during the dedication of the flagpole at Memorial Hospital.

Annually the unit participates in the Memorial Day services at Rose Hill Cemetery at the Soldier's Plot and the grave of Henry Hart. This year the detail also took part in the military field mass celebrated at St. Mary's Cemetery.

Byer said the color guard consists of two riflemen and other members who carry the American Flag, the state flag and the post flags.

The firing squad includes eight men with seven carrying rifles. After the squad fires a volly of three rounds at the graveside, the first bugler blows taps and is followed by a second bugler who echoes the music from a distance.

Two members of the detail then remove the flag from the casket, fold it, and present it to the next of kin. Assisting Byer in the detail are Raymond Wagner and Roy J. Kreger.

Sanitarians Will Attend Conference

Three members of the sanitary section of the Allegany County Health Department will attend a dairy technology conference to be held by the University of Maryland at College Park on November 15 and 16.

They are J. Byron Dowling, W. Harvey Shockley and W. J. Patterson.

City Planning Veterans Day Celebration

Veterans Day will be observed in Cumberland today with a series of activities as local residents join the nation in paying tribute to those who fought and died for their country.

At 11 a. m., the hour on November 11, 1918 when the armistice was signed bringing World War 1 to a close, a memorial service will be held at the local Post Office with the Gold Star Mothers in attendance.

Thomas F. Conlon Sr., general chairman of the day's events, said the guest speaker will be Lt. Col. Robert C. Matlick, commanding officer of First Battalion, 115th Infantry Regiment, Maryland National Guard.

W. Earl Cobey, local attorney, will be master of ceremonies. Rev. J. F. Zimmerman will give invocation and benediction.

A joint retreat ceremony will be held at 5 p. m. in front of the post homes of Henry Hart Post 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, on Queen City Pavement.

There will be two companies of veterans, one in front of each home. Battalion commander will be Raymond Whitehair while the company commander for the group in front of the VFW home will be George E. Speis. Donald Rice and Joseph Macon will lower the colors.

Company commander for the Legion group will be Roy J. Kreger. R. Stanton Byer and Raymond Wagner will lower the flag.

The cannon salute will be fired by Edward Wahl, of Cumberland Voiture 164, 40 and 8.

The flag will be presented to the commanders of the two posts, Cornelius Rice of the VFW and Howard P. Loughrie of the Legion.

The line of march will be over South Centre, Union, George Baltimore, North Centre, Market, North Mechanic, Baltimore, and back to South George Street to the State Armory for disbanding.

Open house will be held at the VFW and Legion homes after the parade.

Mine Company Thefts Being Investigated

Authorities are continuing the investigation of the theft of metal from the Campbell Coal Company mine near Westernport. Two Franklin men, Larry Mayhew Jr., 27, and James L. Ziler, 21, are being held in Allegany County Jail in connection with the case.

Authorities said the pair have admitted taking some parts from the mining property, in statements signed in the State's Attorney's office.

Pipe Is Arriving

Water Commissioner William J. Edwards said yesterday three railroad cars containing pipe for the water line to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company have been spotted at the B&O Rolling Mill yard and that a fourth car is in the yards.

Witness Draws Contempt Fine In Rape Trial

Drunk On Stand, Judge See Says

The Mineral County Circuit Court statutory rape trial of a 30-year-old Cumberland man took an unexpected turn last night in Keyser when Judge Ernest A. See fined a defense witness $50 and costs for contempt of court on grounds that the man was drunk on the witness stand.

Judge See ordered James R. Carroll of Virginia Avenue, this city, confined in the Mineral County Jail until he pays the $50 fine.

On trial is James E. Bierman, 10 Fourth Street. He pleaded not guilty when the trial got under way before a jury Wednesday. Last night Judge See recessed the case until 10 a. m. today when it will move into its third and probably final day.

Only One On Trial

The cases of two other men, James W. Fadley, 30, and Daral C Lambert, 25, who also were indicted with Bierman, are not being heard at this time.

About 12 witnesses were heard yesterday, second day of the trial, including three or four who testified last night after the state had rested its case.

Testifying yesterday morning Detective Donald H. Smith and Sgt. James W. Brown of the Cumberland Police Department. Both investigated a report by the complainant, Mrs. Betty Smith, 34, of Hagerstown.

Mrs. Smith was the first witness for the state Wednesday. She told of how three men took her to the Cumberland Municipal Airport near Wiley Ford last July 14. There, the woman stated, she was attacked by two of the suspects.

According to Mrs. Smith, the trio made several threats and hinted at throwing her in the Potomac River. She told of receiving a physical examination at Memorial Hospital here after the alleged attack.

Lambert Drove Car

Mrs. Smith testified Lambert drove the car in which she was transported across state lines.

The witness said she was choked and that one of the trio placed something against her neck, threatening to "cut my throat." He was stopped by the other two, she continued.

Mrs. Smith stated she was taken to the airport area about 12:15 a. m. and was not returned to Cumberland until "break of day." The suspects, she reported, took her to a sister's home on Laing Avenue.

After a brief discussion at the opening of the trial, it was ruled that West Virginia and Maryland authorities be permitted to remain during testimony. However, witnesses were excluded from the crowded court room.

Dystrophy Fund Canisters Are Being Placed

A canister distribution campaign, as part of the 1955 Thanksgiving March for Muscular Dystrophy, November 21-25, sponsored by Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc., was launched yesterday, it was announced by Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker, campaign chairman for Allegany-Garrett Chapter of MDAA in the Cumberland area.

Approximately 500 MDAA canisters bearing the likeness of Jolene Kay Lake of Seattle, three-and-a-half-year-old victim of crippling, fatal muscular dystrophy and MDAA 1955 Poster Child, are being distributed and displayed in business places throughout Allegany and Garrett counties.

The new plastic MDAA canister is molded in the form of an hourglass to denote that time is running out for 200,000 victims of the disease, most of them children, unless funds for research provides an early cure.

Chief Parker urged all residents in this area to be as generous as possible with contributions when in public places where the canisters are displayed.

"Your contributions through canister donations," Parker said, "can swell to be an important part of the 1955 drive for research funds."

Sudden Snow Storm Snarls Area Traffic

7.8 Inches Falls On Cumberland; Utilities Affected

A sudden snowfall, first of the season, dumped 7.8 inches upon Cumberland and the tri-state area in a matter of several hours yesterday afternoon and evening and disrupted communications, snarled up traffic and knocked down power lines.

Numerous minor traffic accidents were reported to state police in Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, with tow trucks working to capacity to help motorists caught without chains in heavy snowdrifts along the highways.

State Roads Commission trucks began working with the advent of the heavy snowfall about 2:30 p. m. clearing major roadways for snarled-up traffic.

Some 200 automobiles were tied up on Route 220 north of the city for several hours until plows could clear the highway. West Virginia Route 28 to Romney also was closed for some time because of the slippery and hazardous surface of the road.

Travel on Route 40 west of Frostburg came almost to a standstill untill about 6 o'clock, Maryland State Police in LaVale reported. Police said mountain highways were very dangerous and cautioned all motorists to do as little travel as possible. Buses were running several hours behind schedule into the city.

In Cumberland, Street Department crews started on the job about 3 o' clock to salt streets and apply chemicals to clear away the snow. Commissioner William H. Buchholtz said all crews would remain working throughout the night until the streets were cleared.

Frostburg Has Less

The mixture of snow and rain began falling about 2:10 and turned to a heavy snowfall about 2:30. Later in the evening some rain was mixed with the snow as it slacked off about 9 p. m.

In Frostburg about six inches of snow had fallen by early evening.

Keyser reported almost seven inches of snow, with roadways very slippery.

In Garrett County, SRC trucks and crews were cindering early and snow was still falling last night. Accident reported temperatures of 32 with several inches of snow. At Oakland trucks were on duty with a similar report.

Telephone lines between Romney and Cumberland and between here and Bedford were knocked out, while Frostburg was placed on an emergency basis for several hours.

C. Walter Haschert, manager of the local C&P Telephone Company, reported lines down in several places between the Queen City and Romney because of the heavy snow.

A tremendous influx of calls in Cumberland and Frostburg caused an overload in the Mountain City. The Frostburg switchboards were very heavily overloaded, Haschert said, resulting in the emergency basis placed on all calls between 3:45 and 9 p. m.

Margaret M. Fair, chief operator at Frostburg, said, "I never saw anything like it." Calls were so numerous the switchboard was unable to handle them, she added.

2,500 Calls In Hour

A heavier than normal hour is about 700 calls, the supervisor noted, but between 4 and 5 p. m. Frostburg operators had 2,500 calls.

Haschert said that had Cumberland not had the dial system he doubted if the heavy load of calls in the city could have been taken care of.

Harry G. Grimes, supervisor of the line department, said PE circuits were out on Irons Mountain, Green Ridge Mountain, in Short Gap, W. Va., Chaneysville, Pa., and Broadway Circle.

Radio, TV Disrupted

The Irons Mountain trouble — shorted wires caused by trees bending into power lines under the weight of clinging snow—caused power failures for Radio Station WTBO, which went off the air about 6:30 p. m., and for cable television throughout Cumberland as Potomac Valley Television Company service was disrupted about 7 o'clock.

More than 40 men were out working to repair the power line damage, Grimes said.

Two Firemen Are Hurt In Barton Blaze

Matthews Home Gutted By Fire

Two volunteer firemen were injured yesterday evening when the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Matthews, Barton, was destroyed by flames.

Ernest Poland, assistant chief, who was directing fire-fighting operations of the Barton Volunteer Fire Company, sustained a fractured right ankle and was treated by a Lonaconing physician.

Another fireman, who will be treated for a sprained back, is Russell Kiddy.

Damage to the gutted three-room one-story frame home and furnishings, located on State Street, was estimated at about $2,300.

Firemen said neither the building, owned by Mrs. Ruth Robertson, nor the furnishings were insured. The firemen, though unable to save the home since the fire had such a headstart, were able to save an adjoining garage and truck.

An overheated stove located in the living room of the home was blamed for the blaze, firemen said. Mrs. Matthews, an expectant mother, was fortunate in escaping uninjured from the blazing, building, firemen said.

Two lines from nearby hydrants and two lines from the company's two pumpers were trained on the burning building.

The Matthews lost all their belongings in the blaze, which broke out about 6:05 p. m. Firemen were still on the scene late last night wetting down the smouldering embers.

Firemen said the Matthews will stay temporarily at the home of his father, Edward Matthews, Moscow. Matthews was not at home at the time of the fire.

Senior Citizens Hear Veterans Day Address

Veterans Day is a day of conscience and a monument to victory, members of the Senior Citizens Club were told yesterday, but it is also a symbol of failure.

The forces of freedom won the war but lost the peace, Capt. Henry W. Tubbs Jr., inspector-instructor for the Marine Corps Reserve here, said in a citizenship address to the Recreation Department sponsored club.

Veterans, or Armistice Day, he said, is a day of pride in the achievement of others and humiliation in our own. The Armed Forces, he added, can wage wars but cannot make peace.

A symbol of the failure, he continued, is the United Nations, full of hope when it was formed 10 years ago but now riddled by fear and suspicion.

The Armed Forces, he added, do not think war is the only way out and do not want a "preventive" war. He warned that working out a lasting peace may take a long time, due to the intensity of the ideological difference which exist in the world today.

America has shown in its aid to Greece and Korea and in the Marshall Plan that it will go to the aid of any country whose freedom is endangered, "since a threat to freedom anywhere is a threat to our own lives," he said.

He urged members of the club to practice good citizenship and to carry on the great heritage left by the founders of this country.

New Products Are Marketed By Celanese

The Celanese Corporation of America is marketing a new plastic, Forticel, and Fortisan-36 will soon be on the market, Harold Blanke, president, reported in a quarterly report to stockholders.

Commercial production of Forticel, the new cellulose propionate plastic material, is commencing, he said, and the company has made arrangements to enter a new and highly promising field of low pressure polyethylene plastics which will further serve to diversify the company's line of products.

Facilities for the company's new industrial fiber, Fortisan-36, have been brought into production and the fiber will soon be on the market, he said.

Good progress is being made, Blanke said, on the construction of a new Celanese chemical plant at Point Pleasant, W. Va.

The Associated Charities has taken 259 applications for surplus foods to be distributed during December. The Red Feather agency said this is the same number as in November, but far less than in mid-summer.

Restaurant Burns

Four volunteer fire companies last night fought a stubborn fire at Gehauf's Restaurant along Route 40 west of Cumberland. The blaze was discovered about 7 p. m. and firemen were still on the scene late last night. Volunteers from LaVale, Cresaptown, Clarysville and Frostburg were fighting the blaze. In the above picture firemen can be seen in action along the side of the burning building. The spots along the top of the picture are snowflakes which were falling heavily during the blaze.

4-Alarm Fire Damages Area Restaurant

A four-alarm fire last night caused heavy damage to Gehauf's Restaurant on Route 40 west of here.

The fire, which apparently orinated in the ventilation system above the stove in the kitchen, caused extensive damage to the roof and a false ceiling in the restaurant.

The interior of the building was damaged, firemen said, by water and smoke. The blaze, fought by volunteers of four companies, was brought under control about 8:30 p. m. after being reported about 7 p. m.

However, volunteers from LaVale were still on duty late last night "mopping up" the remnants of the damaging blaze. LaVale received a call about 7 p. m. and minutes later volunteers from Clarysville, Cresaptown and Frostburg were called in to assist.

Firemen reported the blaze between the false ceiling and roof of the one-story building had to be fought in sections. Booster pumps were used at the outset of the blaze and later larger lines were trained into the building.

Damage to the ceiling in the kitchen was not too extensive and more serious damage was done to the ceiling of the dining room section. Grease apparently caught fire on the stove and the fire was sucked up through the air duct into the false ceiling.

When firemen arrived on the scene the entire roof was ablaze. The fire fighters were not only hampered by the narrow space between the ceiling and roof which contained insulation, but also by the weather conditions.

The full amount of damage caused by the fire was not known last night and whether or not the building and equipment was fully covered by insurance also was not known.

Cromwell C. Zembower of LaVale Fire Company said unit of volunteers who were still cleaning up last night were in charge of Chief Bruce Long.

Stock located in the basement apparently was not damaged since it was stored on racks, firemen said.

Flue Fire Checked

Firemen from South End answered an alarm at 1:20 p. m. yesterday at 912 Glenwood Street, which turned out to be a flue fire. No damage was caused, firemen said.

Auxiliary To Meet

The Ladies Auxiliary of the LaVale Firemen will meet at 8 p. m. today at the fire hall.

Legion, VFW Burial Detail Is Active Military Group

By CHARLES H. KELLY
News Staff Writer

The furling of flags, the sound of the volley of the firing squad and the echo of Taps by a bugler, amidst the silence of a military funeral, is an impressive graveside ceremony long to be remembered.

Since the close of World War II, such graveside military services have been accorded to over 700 local and area veterans of the Spanish-American War, World War I and II and the Korean conflict by a burial detail composed of members of Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, and Henry Hart Post 1411, VFW.

The detail, which consists of men who served in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force, will participate in the Veterans' Day program here today.

A highlight of the day's activities will be a formal joint retreat with members of the detail taking part. The military formation, which marks the close of a soldier's peacetime day and pays respect to the flag as it is lowered, will be held on the lawn of the homes of the two local veterans' organizations at 5 p. m. under the direction of Vernon Crable.

Capt. Raymond F. Whitehair, past VFW commander, will act as battalion commander. The detail also will participate in the program scheduled at 11 a. m. at the Post Office and will march in the parade planned in the downtown business section beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Albert Keren Jr. will be bugler at the morning and evening ceremonies. Military rites by the local detail, according to R. Stanton Byer, chairman, have been accorded to as many as three servicemen in one day, 10 in a week's period. At times the detail has traveled as far as 75 miles in order to complete a service.

Such services have been accorded in all kinds of weather. As a result of continued faithfulness to duty, the detail has received letters of commendation from several military headquarters for the excellence of its efforts.

Within the past year, the burial detail has taken part in 77 military funerals. This year in Ellerslie the color guard and firing squad assisted in the memorial services during the POS of A state convention.

Other occasions when the detail participated included the opening of the Bicentennial celebration here when Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin addressed an audience at Fort Hill stadium, and more recently, during the dedication of the flagpole at Memorial Hospital.

Annually the unit participates in the Memorial Day services at Rose Hill Cemetery at the Soldier's Plot and the grave of Henry Hart. This year the detail also took part in the military field mass celebrated at St. Mary's Cemetery.

It serves as an escort for bodies of deceased servicemen to Arlington National Cemetery.

Byer said the color guard consists of two riflemen and other members who carry the American Flag, the state flag and the post flags.

The firing squad includes eight men with seven carrying rifles. After the squad fires a volly of three rounds at the graveside, the first bugler blows taps and is followed by a second bugler who echoes the music from a distance.

Two members of the detail then remove the flag from the casket, fold it, and present it to the next of kin. Assisting Byer in the detail are Raymond Wagner and Roy J. Kreger.

Sanitarians Will Attend Conference

Three members of the sanitary section of the Allegany County Health Department will attend a dairy technology conference to be held by the University of Maryland at College Park on November 15 and 16.

They are J. Byron Dowling, W. Harvey Shockley and W. J. Patterson.

City Planning Veterans Day Celebration

Veterans Day will be observed in Cumberland today with a series of activities as local residents join the nation in paying tribute to those who fought and died for their country.

At 11 a. m., the hour on November 11, 1918 when the armistice was signed bringing World War 1 to a close, a memorial service will be held at the local Post Office with the Gold Star Mothers in attendance.

Thomas F. Conlon Sr., general chairman of the day's events, said the guest speaker will be Lt. Col. Robert C. Matlick, commanding officer of First Battalion, 115th Infantry Regiment, Maryland National Guard.

W. Earl Cobey, local attorney, will be master of ceremonies. Rev. J. F. Zimmerman will give invocation and benediction.

A joint retreat ceremony will be held at 5 p. m. in front of the post homes of Henry Hart Post 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, on Queen City Pavement.

There will be two companies of veterans, one in front of each home. Battalion commander will be Raymond Whitehair while the company commander for the group in front of the VFW home will be George E. Speis. Donald Rice and Joseph Macon will lower the colors.

Company commander for the Legion group will be Roy J. Kreger. R. Stanton Byer and Raymond Wagner will lower the flag.

The cannon salute will be fired by Edward Wahl, of Cumberland Voiture 164, 40 and 8.

The flag will be presented to the commanders of the two posts, Cornelius Rice of the VFW and Howard P. Loughrie of the Legion.

A parade will be held in the downtown business section beginning at 7:30 p. m. at the State Armory with Conlon as marshal.

The line of march will be over South Centre, Union, George Baltimore, North Centre, Market, North Mechanic, Baltimore, and back to South George Street to the State Armory for disbanding.

Open house will be held at the VFW and Legion homes after the parade.

Mine Company Thefts Being Investigated

Authorities are continuing the investigation of the theft of metal from the Campbell Coal Company mine near Westernport. Two Franklin men, Larry Mayhew Jr., 27, and James L. Ziler, 21, are being held in Allegany County Jail in connection with the case.

Authorities said the pair have admitted taking some parts from the mining property, in statements signed in the State's Attorney's office.

Witness Draws Contempt Fine In Rape Trial

Drunk On Stand, Judge See Says

The Mineral County Circuit Court statutory rape trial of a 30-year-old Cumberland man took an unexpected turn last night in Keyser when Judge Ernest A. See fined a defense witness $50 and costs for contempt of court on grounds that the man was drunk on the witness stand.

Judge See ordered James R. Carroll of Virginia Avenue, this city, confined in the Mineral County Jail until he pays the $50 fine.

On trial is James E. Bierman, 10 Fourth Street. He pleaded not guilty when the trial got under way before a jury Wednesday. Last night Judge See recessed the case until 10 a. m. today when it will move into its third and probably final day.

Only One On Trial

The cases of two other men, James W. Fadley, 30, and Daral C Lambert, 25, who also were indicted with Bierman, are not being heard at this time.

About 12 witnesses were heard yesterday, second day of the trial, including three or four who testified last night after the state had rested its case.

Testifying yesterday morning Detective Donald H. Smith and Sgt. James W. Brown of the Cumberland Police Department. Both investigated a report by the complainant, Mrs. Betty Smith, 34, of Hagerstown.

Mrs. Smith was the first witness for the state Wednesday. She told of how three men took her to the Cumberland Municipal Airport near Wiley Ford last July 14. There, the woman stated, she was attacked by two of the suspects.

According to Mrs. Smith, the trio made several threats and hinted at throwing her in the Potomac River. She told of receiving a physical examination at Memorial Hospital here after the alleged attack.

Lambert Drove Car

Mrs. Smith testified Lambert drove the car in which she was transported across state lines.

The witness said she was choked and that one of the trio placed something against her neck, threatening to "cut my throat." He was stopped by the other two, she continued.

Mrs. Smith stated she was taken to the airport area about 12:15 a. m. and was not returned to Cumberland until "break of day." The suspects, she reported, took her to a sister's home on Laing Avenue.

On cross-examination, Mrs. Smith admitted she was known as a "common law" wife.

After a brief discussion at the opening of the trial, it was ruled that West Virginia and Maryland authorities be permitted to remain during testimony. However, witnesses were excluded from the crowded court room.

Dystrophy Fund Canisters Are Being Placed

A canister distribution campaign, as part of the 1955 Thanksgiving March for Muscular Dystrophy, November 21-25, sponsored by Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc., was launched yesterday, it was announced by Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker, campaign chairman for Allegany-Garrett Chapter of MDAA in the Cumberland area.

Approximately 500 MDAA canisters bearing the likeness of Jolene Kay Lake of Seattle, three-and-a-half-year-old victim of crippling, fatal muscular dystrophy and MDAA 1955 Poster Child, are being distributed and displayed in business places throughout Allegany and Garrett counties.

The new plastic MDAA canister is molded in the form of an hourglass to denote that time is running out for 200,000 victims of the disease, most of them children, unless funds for research provides an early cure.

Chief Parker urged all residents in this area to be as generous as possible with contributions when in public places where the canisters are displayed.

"Your contributions through canister donations," Parker said, "can swell to be an important part of the 1955 drive for research funds."
